Introduction

The Speaking test comprises of 3 parts and is conducted by an examiner for 11-14 minutes. This test is similar to an interview and thus the emotions attached to the test is also similar – jitters, scary, anxiety. This is where IELTS Speaking e-book comes in.

This e-book helps you to know the unfamiliar.

Part – 1

Most of the part one questions are personal questions that the examiner will ask you to bring you into a comfort zone. These questions are sorted in terms of different topics.

Part – 2 & 3

Part – 2 consists of a cue card for which you will be given 1 minute to prepare and 2 minutes to talk. The questions in the cue card are addressed and a sample answer is given for the cue-card. Following the cue-card are part 3 questions. Part 3 of the speaking e-book consists of questions related to the cue card you will receive. And so, these questions are found with sample answers below the related cue-cards.

Vocabulary

Lexical resources is a factor of assessment during the speaking tests. So, below each of these topics, you will find a vocabulary section that contains words related to that particular topic along with examples.

Happy practicing!

Part 1

1. PLANTS

- Do you know anything about growing plants?
- Do you keep plants at home?
- Did you grow any plants when you were young?

1. Do you know anything about growing plants?

Well, people call me green-fingered. My granny maintained a big garden in her backyard, and I had a whale of time there during my holidays. I learnt the art of gardening from her. From planting seedlings, watering, and nurturing them with organic manure to pruning them, I learnt a great deal from her, and I'm on my own now. I have a big garden, and sometimes I help my friends to make one too.

2. Do you keep plants at home?

Yes, I've got some indoors and outdoors. One interesting plant I grow indoors is the Desert cacti. Though many abhor it, I decided to try my hands on. It required some research and little effort. I grew it in a pot and watered it whenever the soil began to dry. It did pay me off by blooming after three years. It was such a pleasure!

3. Did you grow any plants when you were young?

Yes. I helped my mum raise a bougainvillea. I enjoyed watering it, and we celebrated when it was in full bloom.

VOCABULARY:

Green fingered (adj) - Having a seemingly natural gardening ability

Eg: Your Ixora is doing good. You must be green fingered.

Whale of time (noun phrase) - A very enjoyable experience

Eg: We had a whale of time in Mauritius.

Pruning (verb) - trim (a tree, shrub, or bush) by cutting away dead or overgrown branches or stems, especially to encourage growth.

Eg: It is time to prune the roses.

Abhor (verb) - regard with disgust and hatred

Eg: He abhorred killing of animals.

2. THE COUNTRYSIDE

- What do you usually do in the countryside?
- Have you ever lived in the countryside?
- Would you enjoy living in the countryside?
- Will you live in the countryside in the future?

1. What do you usually do in the countryside?

I often go to Shimoga, which is a 6-hour drive from Bangalore, where I live. Well, I have got plenty of things to do there. I go to the Jog falls, which is such stunning scenery. I take long walks, breathe in the fresh air, and enjoy the tranquility.

2. Have you ever lived in the countryside?

I have not lived in one, but I did spend a good deal of time in Tanjore, where my aunt lived. We used to visit her during summer vacations. She owned some acres of growing rice fields, and we enjoyed getting drenched in the water pump on the farm. I miss those days!

3. Would you enjoy living in the countryside?

I work for an IT company, and many companies have plans to move to the countryside to escape the traffic. That way, I might get a chance to live in the countryside. I would thoroughly enjoy it.

4. Will you live in the countryside in the future?

I would, when I retire. I think it is the right time. So, I might end up spending my old age in the countryside. I would be able to enjoy the lovely, friendly, and beautiful countryside to the fullest.

VOCABULARY

Tranquility (noun) - the quality or state of being tranquil; calm.

Eg: I enjoy the tranquility of rural areas.

Drenched (verb) - wet thoroughly; soak

Eg: Since it rained in the park, I got drenched.

Acres (noun) - a unit of land area equal to 4,840 square yards (0.405 hectare).

Eg: He owns some acres of land, in the northern part of the village

Retirement (noun) - the action or fact of leaving one's job and ceasing to work.

Eg: The retirement age in India is 58.

3. PHOTOS

- Do you like to take photos?
- In which situation do you take photos?
- How do you store your photos?
- Do you prefer to take photos of yourself or have other people take photos?

1. Do you like to take photos?

Yes, I love it. I started by taking photos on my mobile camera at weddings and parties. Slowly, I became interested in nature. I started taking snaps of birds and flowers. Then I bought a digital cam. Photography is my hobby now!

2. In which situation do you take photos?

I carry my camera with me wherever I go. You never know when a special moment occurs. It could just be rain in the hillside, the laughter of your kid, a monkey jumping with its newborn, a roaring lion in the wild. It could be any small moment of awe that you would want to treasure for the future.

3. How do you store your photos?

I store them in the cloud, and it could be anything from a dropbox, google photos, or google drive. I don't save them on the phone because I run out of space. When I find something interesting, I don't hesitate to make an album out of them.

4. Do you like posing for pictures?

I love selfies! But I also like to pose for photos. But I don't restrict myself to weddings and parties. It could be anything from a picnic with friends, trekking in the wild, or simply loving moments with my family.

VOCABULARY

snap (noun) - An informal photograph that is not very skillful or artistic Eg: I took some snaps of a monkey in the zoo.

Camera (noun) - a device for recording visual images in the form of photographs, film, or video signals

Eg: The little girl did not like to face the camera.

Awe (noun) - a feeling of reverential respect mixed with fear or wonder.

Eg: She gazed in awe at the golden bangles.

Selfies (noun) - a photograph that one has taken of oneself, typically one taken with a smartphone or webcam and shared via social media.

Eg : She posted her selfie on Facebook.

4. PUBLIC TRANSPORT

- Do you travel by public transport?
- When was the last time you travelled by public transport?
- What you don't like about public transport?
- Would you prefer to use public transport in the future?

1. Do you travel by public transport?

Yes, I do. Every morning I take a bus to my office. There are air-conditioned and non-air conditioned buses plying in the city. I prefer to take the air-conditioned bus, though it is costlier.

2. When was the last time you travelled by public transport?

It was last Friday when I had to go to the office. Like I said before, I took the air-conditioned bus, and the ride was comfortable.

3. What don't you like about public transport?

The AC buses are less frequent. If you miss one, you have to wait nearly 10 minutes for the next one to arrive. In the evenings, when you are worn out and want to go home soon, it tests your temper.

4. Would you prefer to use public transport in the future?

No. I want to use my vehicle. Considering the traffic in the city, I would prefer a two-wheeler rather than a four-wheeler.

VOCABULARY

Ply (verb) - travel regularly over a route, typically for commercial purposes.

Eg: These buses ply across the bridge.

Ride (noun) - a journey made on a horse, bicycle, or motorcycle, or in a vehicle.

Eg: Her uncle took her for a ride on the bike.

Worn out (adj) - extremely tired; exhausted.

Eg: She looked worn out.

temper (noun) - tendency to become angry very quickly.

Eg: She has a real temper.

5. STAYING UP LATE

- Do you sometimes go to bed late?
- What do you do when you stay up late?
- How do you feel when you have stayed up late the night before?

1. Do you sometimes go to bed late?

Well, it depends on whether I have met my deadlines at work. If not, I stay late to finish it and go to bed around 1:00 PM or 2:00 PM.

2. What do you do when you stay up late?

I would do many things. I would finish pending office work, read a book that I find irresistible, or talk to a friend over the phone.

3. How do you feel when you have stayed up late the night before?

It doesn't feel nice to sleep late and wake up early. I get a headache, the next morning and it spoils my whole day.

VOCABULARY

Meet a deadline (noun phrase) - to finish work on time, by the agreed date.

Eg: We are hoping to meet the July deadline

Irresistible(adj) - too attractive and tempting to be resisted.

Eg: Don't spoil the fun.

6. CELEBRITIES AND STARS

- Have you ever met a celebrity in real life?
- Who is your favourite movie star?
- Are international superstars popular in your country?

1. Have you ever met a celebrity in real life?

Yes. I have seen Amitabh Bachan in the airport. But I didn't make any effort to get an autograph from him. Sometimes I happen to sit next to film stars when I travel by air when they take the economy class. But I have not volunteered to talk to them.

2. Who is your favourite movie star?

Well, I'm a fan of Aishwarya Rai. She is a versatile actress, and I admired her from the very first movie. She is worth the Miss Universe title. My admiration increased after I watched her performance in the movie 'Taal'.

3. Are international superstars popular in your country?

Yes, they are. The youth of our country adore them. International superstars like Chris Hemsworth, Chris Evan, Robert Downey Jr, Gal Gadot are extremely popular in our country. From the music world the superstars Taylor Swift, Alan Walker, Selena Gomes, Ed Sheeran, Justin Bieber, and many more have their tracks on trending.

VOCABULARY

Eg: Children adore their mothers.

Superstar (noun) - an extremely famous and successful performer or sports player.

Eg: She became a superstar without much effort.

7. WATER

- Do you ever drink bottled water? Why?
- What kind of water do you like to drink?
- How often do you drink water?
- Do you think water is an important resource?

1. Do you ever drink bottled water? Why?

Yes, I do. I prefer bottled water when going on a long drive to new places because there is no guarantee for the purity of water in the new place. So bottled water is the convenient and best source of water at such times.

2. What kind of water do you like to drink?

I am happy with the water that I get out of my aqua water purifier. I believe it is pure and has all the essential minerals to keep me healthy.

3. How often do you drink water?

I drink a glass of water every hour. That makes 12-15 glasses of water per day. It helps me to keep myself hydrated and stay fit.

4. Do you think water is a vital resource?

Yes, of course. Water is an elixir of life. Since ancient times, civilizations were created near sources of water. It plays a vital role in sustaining life on earth.

VOCABULARY

Guarantee (noun) - a formal assurance (typically in writing) that certain conditions will be fulfilled, especially that a product will be repaired or replaced if not of a specified quality.

Eg: The shop offered a guarantee against rusting

Hydrated (verb) - cause to absorb water.

Eg: The skin doctor prescribed a moisturizer that would keep the skin hydrated

Fit (adj) - in good health, especially because of regular physical exercise.

Eg: You must learn to keep yourself fit

8. COOKING AND BAKING

- Do you like to cook?
- Have you ever baked a cake?
- Would you like to learn how to bake ?
- What kinds of things are baked in your country?

1. Do you like to cook?

I love cooking. I like to prepare interesting delicacies and share it with friends and relatives. My day begins with the aroma of the spices. I feel heavenly when chopping the sweet-smelling coriander and on hearing the mustard seeds splutter. After a hard day's work, cooking rejuvenates my mind.

2. Have you ever baked a cake?

Yes. I have tried it on a stove, though. All you have to do is preheat a vessel. In the meanwhile, you can prepare the batter. You can either use powdered chocolate biscuits or cocoa. Grease a tray with butter, pour the batter onto it and place it in the preheated vessel for about 45 minutes to 1 hour and your cake will be ready.

3. Would you like to learn how to bake?

Yes. Though I know how to make a cake and have watched a lot of YouTube videos, I would be interested in learning it in person from a Chef.

4. What kinds of things are baked in your country?

Well, a lot of things are baked in our country from cakes to cookies and bread to pies. Plum cakes are my favourite. They are made of either dried fruits like grapes, currants, raisins or prunes, orange peels or with fresh fruits.

VOCABULARY

Delicacies (noun) - something delightful or pleasing, especially a choice food considered with regard to its rarity, costliness, or the like

Eg: Chocolate lava cake is a true delicacy

Eg: Prunes are high in fiber and are very good for health.

9. COLOURS

- What's your favourite colour?
- Do you usually wear clothes in your favourite colours?
- Are there any colours you dislike?
- Do you like dark colours or light colours?

1. What's your favourite colour?

My choice varies based on purpose. If I'm to choose clothes, I would prefer all shades of green. If it is for house decor, I will choose shades of pink as it radiates a warm and cosy feeling into the minds.

2. Do you usually wear clothes in your favourite colours?

Yes. My mum says my wardrobe looks green. I have all shades of green from lime, olive, emerald to sea green and parrot green.

3. Are there any colours you dislike?

No. It is not that I dislike, but I avoid colours like black when it comes to painting my house. It makes sense when the painter says you have to choose colours that reflect light.

4. Do you like dark colours or light colours?

I choose based on my mood. When I'm happy, I pick out bright, vibrant colours. When I'm sad, I go for dull shades.

VOCABULARY

Radiates (verb) - emit (energy, especially light or heat) in the form of rays or waves.

Eg: The sun radiates energy

Cozy (verb) - make (someone) feel comfortable or complacent.

Eg: She felt cozy curled up on the velvet sofa

Wardrobe (noun) - a large, tall cupboard or recess in which clothes may be hung or stored.

Eg: Her wardrobe is very expensive

Olive (adj) - greyish green

Eg: She wore a olive gown for the party

10. TIDINESS

- Are you a tidy person?
- Do you think people should be tidy all the time?
- Are you tidier at work or at home?

1. Are you a tidy person?

Yes, I'm. I like to keep myself and my surroundings very clean. I love tidying my house, and you can even call it my hobby.

2. Do you think people should be tidy all the time?

Yes. I'm very hygiene conscious. I think everyone should follow simple things like washing hands after they use the restroom, covering their face with a handkerchief when they sneeze, or cough.

3. Are you tidier at work or home?

I would say both. At work, I don't mess up my office cabin with dolls and other unwanted stuff. At home, I'm more organized. Everything has its place at my home.

VOCABULARY

Surroundings (noun) - the things and conditions around a person or thing.

Eg: She hated her surroundings.

Tidy (verb) - bring order to; arrange neatly.

Eg: The maid tidied the house

Hobby (noun) - an activity done regularly in one's leisure time for pleasure.

Eg: Reading was her hobby

Hygiene (noun) - conditions or practices conducive to maintaining health and preventing disease, especially through cleanliness.

Eg: Personal hygiene is very important

11. MOVIES

- What's your favourite movie?
- Do your friends like this movie?
- What kind of movies do young people like?
- Would you like to be a movie star?

1. What's your favourite movie?

I love the movie Interstellar. It is a science fiction film. It describes a group of astronauts who are in search of a new home for humanity.

2. Do your friends like this movie?

Yes. They like it too. It was one of my friends who recommended this movie to me. Some of them were so amused that they began telling me that we better get prepared to live on planets like Mars.

3. What kind of movies do young people like?

In my opinion, young people are fond of superhuman characters like spiderman. Also, they like fantasies like Harry Potter.

4. Would you like to be a movie star?

No, not at all. I hate to sacrifice my privacy. I hate to be surrounded by paparazzi all the time.

VOCABULARY

Fiction (noun) - literature in the form of prose, especially novels, that describes imaginary events and people.

Eg: Things which were once created in fiction are becoming a reality

Astronaut (noun) - a person who is trained to travel in a spacecraft.

Eg: A group of astronauts travelled to Mercury, last week.

Amused (adj) - finding something funny or entertaining.

Eg: Children were so amused by the magician.

Paparazzi (noun) - a freelance photographer who pursues celebrities to get photographs of them.

Eg: She drove the car fast, to escape from the paparazis.

12. PLANS

- What is the hardest part about making plans?
- What is the most recent plan you made?
- Do you make plans every day?
- Are you good at managing your time?

1. What is the hardest part of making plans?

It's about prioritizing. It isn't easy to decide the order in which you have to take up the tasks. I often keep wondering whether I should do yoga first or prepare breakfast.

2. What is the most recent plan you made?

I made a travel plan to Bylaguppe, which is on the way to Madikeri. We were a group of four. We planned to travel in my car, and I made the hotel arrangements too. Since it is a Tibetan settlement, we were on the lookout for authentic Indian food. I was successful in booking a lodging near an Indian restaurant. It was a walkable distance to the restaurant, and my friends appreciated me for it.

3. Do you make plans every day?

Well, it's not that I make a plan, but things seem to work out in order. I would say I got used to the routine. I rarely do anything out of the ordinary, so you can call me well-planned too.

4. Are you good at managing your time?

I don't make any effort towards it. I follow my routine, and if anything is a priority, be it at work or home, I do that first. Time gets managed automatically.

VOCABULARY

Priority (noun) - the fact or condition of being regarded or treated as more important than others.

Eg: She was given work to be done on priority.

Well-planned (adj) - carefully arranged or designed.

Eg: The wedding was well planned.

Automatic (adj) - (with reference to a device or process) by itself with little or no direct human control.

Eg: The vehicle had an automatic gear.

Routine (noun) - a sequence of actions regularly followed.

Eg: She always stuck to the routine

13. RUNNING

- Do you like running?
- Have you ever run a long-distance?
- Would you prefer to watch a running competition live or on TV?
- Do you think running is a good way to stay healthy?

1. Do you like running?

Not much. I have vague memories of participating in running races when I was in school. Nowadays, I run only when my friends call me. It was just last week when we chose to run around a hill. We completed a full circle. We also took in some medicinal air because the hill was full of herbs.

2. Have you ever run a long-distance?

Well, my Company organizes marathons once in a while. My friends forced me to participate in it. So, I have run some marathons. It feels nice when you run across places of scenic beauty with friends around. We also do barefoot running occasionally.

3. Would you prefer to watch a running competition live or on TV?

I prefer to watch it on television. It is interesting to find out who the fastest runner is. I do tune in to watch the Olympics and find out where my country stands.

4. Do you think running is a good way to stay healthy?

Undoubtedly, yes. Most importantly, it helps in improving cardiovascular fitness. But, unfortunately, most people have restricted themselves to treadmills now.

VOCABULARY

race(noun) - a competition between runners, horses, vehicles, etc. to see which is the fastest in covering a set course.

Eg: He won in the bike race.

Marathon (noun) - a long-distance running race, strictly one of 26 miles 385 yards (42.195 km)

Eg: She won a gold medal in the marathon for girls.

Barefoot running (adj phrase) - the act of running without footwear.

Eg: Barefoot running helps in strengthening the muscles.

Treadmills (noun) - a device used for exercise, consisting of a continuous moving belt on which to walk or run.

Eg: Treadmill test is conducted to check the functioning of the heart.

14. PARKS

- Are there many parks near where you live?
- Do you like going to the parks?
- Do you think there are enough parks or gardens in your hometown?
- What did you use to do in parks as a child?

1. Are there many parks near where you live?

Yes, there are quite a few of them. The national government has issued a mandate to all the local governments to build parks to develop community building. So, there are many projects on parks coming up. They have planned to establish two new parks near our area. I read it in the newspapers.

2. Do you like going to the parks?

I'm very fond of Gibb's Garden near my house. It has a small pond as well. I go there on weekends to relax and enjoy the fresh air.

3. Do you think there are enough parks or gardens in your hometown?

We have one large garden in the centre of the city, but there are also several parks in the suburbs. So, I think we have just the right number of parks in our town.

4. What did you use to do in parks as a child?

I had loads of fun in the park nearby. It had a see-saw, and I enjoyed going up and down on it. We had other children from the neighbourhood who joined me in playing. We had a miniature version of the merry-go-round which we thoroughly enjoyed.

1. How many public holidays do you have in your country?

Well, I cannot be accurate but can give a try. The festival season starts with Ganesh Chaturthi in August. From then on, we have an array of festivals till Christmas in December. Then we have the national holidays like Republic day in January and Independence Day in August. So, there's a fairly good number of holidays for us.

2. Which public holiday is your favourite?

Diwali, without a doubt. I enjoy the fireworks and sound of the crackers and burst them too. I love to light the flower pots and rockets. Also, I cannot forget the number of delicacies that are prepared on that day. It is lovely to see the smiling faces of people and the love and affection with which they wish "Happy Diwali" to each other.

3. What do you usually do on a public holiday?

It depends on the nature of the holiday. If it is a festival, we thoroughly enjoy the day. If it is a day of national importance like Independence Day, we revere the sacrifices of our ancestors.

4. Do you think people need more public holidays?

Yes, I do think so! Corporate companies are so smart that they have introduced a concept called optional holidays. So, we don't get to enjoy all the holidays in a year. This concept should be abolished, and everyone should get to enjoy all the holidays.

VOCABULARY

Festivals (noun) - a day or period of celebration, typically for religious reasons.

Not lots. But I do have some close ones. I had many friends when I was in school. As you get old, it is difficult to find people with common interests. So, I'm quite happy that I managed to get close, at least to a few.

2. What do you do with your friends?

We often get to meet. One of my friends is an artist and she conducts an art exhibition every now and then. Another friend of mine runs a cookery class. She also hosts cookery shows on TV. Sometimes, she invites us to participate in her shows.

3. Is it important to have a lot of friends?

It is important to have friends but the number does not matter. Friendships make our lives delightful. They add more meaning to our life.

VOCABULARY

Common interests (adj phrase) - A shared interest in a specific subject that brings people together to form a community; it structures interaction and exchange within that community.

Eg: Ashley and David shared common interests.

Friendship (noun) - the emotions or conduct of friends; the state of being friends.

Eg: He revived his old friendships through facebook.

Artist (noun) - a person who creates paintings or drawings as a profession or hobby.

Eg : Mira was an artist.

Delightful (adj) - causing great pleasure.

Eg: It was a delightful conversation.

34. HOME/ ACCOMMODATION

- What kind of housing/accommodation do you live in?
- Who do you live with?
- How long have you lived there?
- What's the difference between where you are living now and where you have lived in the past?
- Do you plan to live there for a long time?
- Which room does your family spend most of the time in?
- Are the transport facilities to your home very good?
- Do you prefer living in a house or a flat?
- Please describe the room you live in.
- What part of your home do you like the most?

1. What kind of housing/accommodation do you live in?

I live in a terraced house that has a living room, a kitchen, three bed rooms, two bathrooms and a lovely back garden. It's not really a spacious house, but it's just right for me and my family.

2. Who do you live with?

I live with my parents and my siblings. We always get on well with each other and have a lot of fun.

3. How long have you lived there?

I've lived there since I was a child, until I graduated from high school and moved to the city to enroll at university, where I lived in a student dormitory during the semester. (If you answer you haven't lived there long)

4. What's the difference between where you are living now and where you have lived in the past?

Living in a dorm with other roommates is totally different from living in my own house. My current residential area is quite small and it's very noisy because there are a lot of people there and I don't have my own space. Conversely, when I was living at home, I had my own spacious room and it made me feel comfortable.

5. Do you plan to live there for a long time?

To be honest, I intend to buy an apartment in an urban area after I graduate from university. I can decorate and design my ideal home with whatever facilities I want.

6. Which room does your family spend most of the time in?

It's definitely the kitchen. Not only lunch or dinner time but all our family reunions take place in the kitchen where all the family members get together to eat tasty meals, and chat to each other – it's a really harmonious atmosphere.

7. Are the transport facilities to your home very good?

To be honest, most of the transport facilities to my place are not very modern. The bus service from my work place to home is irregular and usually overcrowded.

8. Do you prefer living in a house or a flat?

I prefer living in a house to a flat because I value my privacy and need my own space. Owning an independent house, I can plan and design a house layout to suit myself. Moreover, I can modify a house according to the size of the family.

9. Please describe the room you live in.

My current room is actually more like a bedsit. It is a multi – purpose room, I use it to sleep and study as well. It is painted in pink, that's my favourite colour with a bed, a cupboard and desk. It's not really spacious but it's just right for me.

10. What part of your home do you like the most?

I prefer my bedroom most due to its convenience and privacy. Because of my stressful work I want to be in a quiet place and concentrate on my work. In my own room, I'm never disturbed by anyone else. Moreover, in my own space I can do whatever I want without bothering others.

- Describe your education
- What is your area of specialization?
- Why did you choose to study that major?
- Do you like your major? (Why? /Why not?)
- What kind of school did you go to as a child?
- What was your favourite subject as a child?
- Do you think your country has an effective education system?
- (Possibly) Are you looking forward to working?

1. Describe your education

I started primary school when I was 7. 5 years later, I went to secondary school at 12. Then at 16, I made it to a high school for gifted students in my hometown. In my country, highschool education lasts 3 years, then I went onto higher education at the Foreign Trade University where I'm currently studying economics.

2. What is your area of specialization?

Well, my major is External Economics. I have mastered the basics of economics and socioeconomics, combined with business knowledge mainly related to the import and export business.

3. Why did you choose to study that major?

I think it would help to fulfill my dream of introducing my country's agricultural products to the world. Vietnamese goods have a real potential, but they still struggle to make a name for themselves, you know.

4. Do you like your major? (Why? /Why not?)

Yes, of course. Studying economics, especially external economics is interesting and practical. It helps me to keep up with current affairs and it improves my analytical and problem-solving skills as well.

5. What kind of school did you go to as a child?

As a child, I attended a public elementary school. It's quite a big school in my hometown which provides both high quality education and a supportive environment, so I think I was quite lucky.

6. What was your favourite subject as a child?

Well, I used to be very passionate about drawing when I was a little girl. It was fun to work with brushes and colors, you know, as it was the time when I could indulge in my own creative world.

7. Do you think your country has an effective education system?

To be honest, I don't think so. Our system has somehow become unduly stressful, does not promote creativity and the ability to be critical due to the fact that our society still cares way too much about grades and schools consequently focuses on an exam-driven curriculum, which I find quite impractical.

8. (Possibly) Are you looking forward to working?

Absolutely! It's great to join the workforce, especially when I can do the job I love. Not only will it pay the bills, but it'll also give me the joy of making a contribution. It's hard to be happy and fulfilled without working, you know.

- What are your responsibilities?
- Why did you choose to do that type of work (or, that job)?
- Is there some other kind of work you would rather do?
- Describe the company or organization you work for
- Do you enjoy your work?
- What do you like about your job?
- What do you dislike about your job?
- (Possibly)Do you miss being a student?

1. What do you do?

I'm currently working as a graphic designer for a fashion magazine for youngsters

2. What are your responsibilities?

Well I'm mainly responsible for designing the cover of the magazine. I normally work with the concept team to make sure that the final product will both attract the potential buyer's attention and express the theme of the magazine.

3. Why did you choose to do that type of work (or, that job)?

I guess it's because of my artistic passion. The process of creating beautiful things is somehow intriguing to me, so I chose to be a graphic designer, which combines both art and technology. It's quite interesting, you know.

4. Is there some other kind of work you would rather do?

Well, if possible, I'd like to be a freelance writer. Actually, I'm a big fan of action movies, and I also care about healthy living, so, I'd love to write about these topics and share my stories with people of the same interest.

5. Describe the company or organization you work for

My company is not huge, it's just a small art designoffice, but is definitely an inspirational workplace with a young, creative, and extremely passionate team. We work on the basis of mutual understanding and respect for each other, so it's kind of an ideal environment for me.

6. Do you enjoy your work?

Most of the time. It's rewarding to co-work on projects with amazing people in an open and supportive environment to bring out an art production that will ultimately give me a sense of satisfaction and pride.

7. What do you like about your job?

Well, the perk of being a graphic designer is that you'll surround yourself with inspiring images every day. My daily working life involves seeking out inspiration in all sorts of places, researching incredible illustrations and graphics, and creating them too. It's great, I think.

8. What do you dislike about your job?

What I don't like about this job is that our personal taste in design varies, and normally I'll have to do a thousand edits to get the final product that meets the demand of my boss while still * relating / staying faithful to /remaining true to the initial concept.

* conform means 'to behave according to the usual standards of behaviour that are expected by a group or society' – this does not relate to things like 'concepts'.

9. (Possibly)Do you miss being a student?

Sometimes, when I'm burdened with heavy workloads or the pressure of everyday life, I recall the memories of being a student. We were all carefree and innocent back then. It's a precious time that I cherish.

37. HOMETOWN

- What's (the name of) your hometown?
- Is that a big city or a small place?
- How long have you been living there?
- Do you like your hometown?
- Is there anything you dislike about it?
- What do you like(most) about your hometown?
- Do you think you will continue living there for a long time?

1. What's (the name of) your hometown?

I'm from Hue, which is a city in central Vietnam. Talking about Hue, people immediately think of the capitals, golden palaces, temples, shrines, and gorgeous dancing stage, majestic tombs, and ancient meditative landscapes.

2. Is that a big city or a small place?

Well, the city is quite small as compared to the vast cities and provinces in my country. Hue city covers just about 70.5 square kilometers, with a total population of roughly 360,000 people.

3. How long have you been living there?

I have been living there ever since I was born, which is 19 years until now. It is a relatively long period of time, so I'm really attached to this quiet, tranquil city.

4. Do you like your hometown?

(Answer) Yes, absolutely.

(Give a reason for your answer) Hue an area of outstanding natural beauty and for me is one of the most beautiful places on earth. It has everything; historical sites, fantastic beaches, rolling mountains, dense forests and picturesque countryside, extraordinary cuisine and hospitable people.

5. Is there anything you dislike about it?

The sole thing that I dislike about the city is probably the weather. In Hue, it invariably rains from September to December, which somehow adds up to the blue atmosphere of the city. Sometimes, when the rain is so heavy and persistent the city even floods.

6. What do you like(most) about your hometown?

The greatest appeal of Hue city, to my thinking, is its diversity of cuisine, which makes it well-known domestically and even internationally. Hue culinary traditions demand that meals must be presented aesthetically, harmonizing food elements, decorations and colors to create a gastronomic work of art.

7. Do you think you will continue living there for a long time?

(Answer) Actually I'm not quite sure about that.

(Give a reason for your answer) As I'm planning to study abroad, I may have to live far away from my hometown for a certain amount of time. However, if possible, I still want to settle down in this beautiful, peaceful city.

- What do you need to be focused?
- What might distract you when you are trying to stay focused?
- What do you do to help you concentrate?
- Is it difficult for you to stay focused on something?

1. What do you need to be focused?

(Answer) Well, I think there are certain ways that keep myself always fixated on a task.

(Give a reason for your answer) I would normally set aside a specific time and place and request to be left alone for a period of time. Another alternative for me is to seek out a quiet location where I know I will be able to work undisturbed.

2. What might distract you when you are trying to stay focused?

(Answer) Well, there are many things.

(Give a reason for your answer) I sometimes abandon a task because I am disturbed by either a noise or sound, or other thoughts creeping into my mind suddenly.

3. What do you do to help you concentrate?

(Answer) Whenever my work requires complete concentration, I played the finger gyroscope for about 5 minutes to be mentally well-prepared to undertake the task.

(Give a reason for your answer) All you need to do when playing this toy is holding the spinner in one hand and the other hand spinning rapidly using small continuous strikes with indefinite practice. What really amazes me is that it keeps rotating for a long time and seems to go on nonstop. All my vision is captivated by this little instrument.

4. Is it difficult for you to stay focused on something?

(Answer) For a very long period of time, I suffered great concentration issues and was not able to focus on one thing for a long period of time.

(Give a reason for your answer) Until now, my focus capacity has become sharper as I have been trying different ways to concentrate on my important work. The key here is to prioritize and carry out your task in order with absolute commitment.

40.VOICE

- Has your voice ever changed?
- Do you enjoy recording your voice and listening to it?
- Do you like your own voice?

- Does your voice sound familiar to your parents?

1. Has your voice ever changed?

(Answer) Yes, it actually changes most often when I come down with serious flu.

(Give a reason for your answer) When I'm sick with a cold or flu, the acute laryngitis leads to my temporary hoarseness. I think it causes swelling that alters the way my vocal cords vibrate, making me sound deeper and huskier.

2. Do you enjoy recording your voice and listening to it?

(Answer) I guess the answer is no.

(Give a reason for your answer) The tone of my voice is pretty "soft" and "mature" when I speak in person. But, when I'm on the phone, the sound of my voice shifts into a ridiculous childish tone. I assume that most people in fact don't like their voice when they hear it played back from a recording, because it's not the same voice they hear in their head.

3. Do you like your own voice?

(Answer) Well, it's always weird to hear myself recorded, but I don't dislike my voice.

(Give a reason for your answer) It's comparatively low and resonant for a girl and you can definitely hear me in a room. I have always wanted a higher pitched voice but since many have told me that I have a wonderful pitch, I changed my opinion about it.

4. Does your voice sound familiar to your parents?

(Answer) Well, many people told me that my mom and I shared some similar traits in terms of voice.

(Give a reason for your answer) I think my voice is the perfect combination between that of my mom and dad, and I'm content with it.

Vocabulary:

come down with [expression]: to start to suffer from an illness, especially one that is not serious.

Eg: I think I'm coming down with the flu.

Eg: My father and I have similar views on politics.

combination [n]: the mixture you get when two or more things are combined.

Eg: A combination of tiredness and boredom caused me to fall asleep.

contented [adj]: happy and satisfied.

Eg: He won't be content until he's upset everyone in the office.

41.WALKING

- Where do you usually take a walk?
- Do you think people will walk more or not in the future?
- Do you walk more often in the past?
- Do you walk a lot?

1. Where do you usually take a walk?

(Answer) Well, I don't walk in any particular place. I like to walk with my friends to the park so that we can talk and feel less exhausted on the way.

2. Do you think people will walk more or not in the future?

(Answer) No, I don't think so.

(Give a reason for your answer) Under the pressure of such a fast-paced life, people seem to be increasingly reluctant to have a walk regularly. Modern citizens think that driving is a more preferable way of travelling which just eliminates the hurdle that you may otherwise face if there is no public transportation available or pedestrian roads.

3. Do you walk more often in the past?

(Answer) Surprisingly, I walk more often these days than I used to in the past.

(Give a reason for your answer) For a very long period of time, I suffered great concentration issues and was not able to focus on one thing for a long period of time. So I took up walking 6 months ago and thanks to this activity, my focus capacity became sharper.

4. Do you walk a lot?

(Answer) As often as necessary - which mostly means longer distances, but the walking experience is worth it.

(Give a reason for your answer) Otherwise, I try to use my bicycle, even in winter, to remain in good shape. I just happen to like biking, as a sport. Also it proves to be economical and environmentally-friendly.

Vocabulary:

particular [adj]: special, or this and not any other.

Eg: In the light of recent incidents, we are asking our customers to take particular care of their personal belongings.

in good shape [expression]: to be prepared and ready to do something.

Eg: All our bags are packed, and we don't have to leave for another hour, so we're in good shape.

economical [adj]: not using a lot of fuel, money, etc.

Eg: There's increasing demand for cars that are more economical on fuel.

Environmentally-friendly [adj]: not harmful to the environment.

Eg: There are a growing number of investors backing firms that are environmentally-friendly.

42. MOVIES

- What is your favourite movie?
- Do your friends like this movie?
- What kinds of movies do you think young people like?
- Do you want to be a movie star?

1. What is your favourite movie?

(Answer) Well, I am an avid movie fan, and my favourite movie is Parasite, a 2019 South Korean black comedy thriller film directed by Bong Joon-ho.

(Give a reason for your answer) It received widespread critical acclaim and won the Palme d'Or at the 2019 Cannes Film Festival, becoming the first Korean film to receive the award.

2. Do your friends like this movie?

(Answer) Well, it was actually my close friends who introduced me to this movie, and we watched it together in the cinema right on the day it premiered.

(Give a reason for your answer) We both shared an immense love for movies with exotic themes and twisting plots, as these excited our curiosity. As expected, Parasite is generally gripping and finely crafted, which left an unforgettable impression on us.

3. What kinds of movies do you think young people like?

(Answer) Well, Action and Comedy are possibly the most popular genres of films among youngsters.

(Explain your reason or reasons) The young will feel relaxed or genuinely interested in these styles of film. I also think that movies which depict real life stories or have an unpredictable plot also capture the attention of those of a younger age.

4. Do you want to be a movie star?

(Answer) Well, not really.

(Give a reason for your answer) I do not have any particular talent for acting, singing, or dancing. Besides, I value privacy, but being an actor means you are constantly surrounded with paparazzi and public attention. I just can't imagine having that kind of life.

Vocabulary:

avid [n]: extremely eager or interested.

Eg: He took an avid interest in the project.

acclaim [n]: public approval and praise.

Eg: Despite the critical acclaim, the novel did not sell well.

Eg: Most of the textbooks we looked at were too dull to capture students' attention.

particular [adj]: special, or this and not any other.

Eg: In the light of recent incidents, we are asking our customers to take particular care of their personal belongings.

43. LANGUAGES

- Will you learn other languages in the future?
- Do you think it is difficult to learn a new language?
- What language can you speak?
- Why do you learn English?

1. Will you learn other languages in the future?

(Answer) Well, my foremost choice would be French.

(Give a reason for your answer) On the one hand, I am really into travelling to France because this nation boasts a diverse range of culture like literature, architecture, fashion, and cooking. A good command of French will equip me with the necessary languages to interact with its native speakers. Besides, I know a lot of engaging French movies so that's quite a compelling reason to learn their language.

2. Do you think it is difficult to learn a new language?

(Answer) Yes, of course it is. Well, there are different challenges for different people and for different languages.

(Give a reason for your answer) For the language itself, grammar may baffle many learners, while others can't pick up pronunciation and struggle to memorize vocabulary. Alphabets can be challenging, especially the complicated ones like Kanji or Tibetan. Besides, other obstacles like the lack of time and resources generally present themselves during the learning process.

3. What language can you speak?

(Answer) I can speak Vietnamese and English and just a bit of Korean.

(Give a reason for your answer) I try to expose myself to the language according to my hobbies and interests. Watching movies with subtitles, reading books on my favorite topics or listening to music are of great help to my linguistic command.

4. Why do you learn English?

(Answer) There are many reasons to learn English nowadays.

(Give a reason for your answer) I learn English out of academic, diplomatic, commercial or other practical considerations because it is the preferred language when communicating with most foreigners. Practically, learning foreign language helps to broaden my opportunities for becoming a global citizen.

Vocabulary:

(be) into [adj]: to be interested in something.

Eg: My daughter is into sports all of sudden and really wants to take tennis lessons.

equip [v]: to provide a person or a place with objects that are necessary for a particular purpose.

Eg: All the police officers were equipped with shields to defend themselves against the rioters.

engaging [adj]: pleasant, attractive, and charming.

Eg: He has an engaging manner.

Eg: The biggest obstacle in our way was a tree trunk in the road.

expose [v]: to create conditions that allow someone to have the opportunity to learn or experience new things.

Eg: Kate was exposed to new ideas when she went to college.

diplomatic [adj]: involving diplomats or the management of the relationships between countries.

Eg: All diplomatic attempts at a peaceful solution to the crisis have been fruitless.

broaden [n]: to increase knowledge, experience.

Eg: Many people agree that travel broadens the mind.

44. FRIENDS

- What do you think makes good friends?
- Do you keep in contact with friends from your childhood?
- What kinds of people do you like to make friends with?
- Do you think you are a good friend to others?

1. What do you think makes good friends?

(Answer) Well, there are some specific attributes that make good friends.

(Give a reason for your answer) To me, a good friend should be dependable and sincere who is always willing to do stupid things with you and give you a lot of motivation to overcome fierce times. I usually don't get on well with over-sensitive or complicated people.

2. Do you keep in contact with friends from your childhood?

(Answer) To be honest, I don't stay in touch with a lot of my childhood friends.

(Give a reason for your answer) I'm quite an introvert and somehow prudent in relationships, so I just talk to one old friend, Phuong Chau, in whom I can confide. We have known each other since primary school and maintained this special bond till now.

3. What kinds of people do you like to make friends with?

(Answer) I like people who are honest with themselves and others and not pretentious. Besides, I'm also attracted to those who share a good rapport with everyone but at the same time don't get afraid to take a stand, who handle stressful situations with humor, who have self-respect but no ego and are willing to explore the world around them.

4. Do you think you are a good friend to others?

(Answer) Well, I hope so.

(Give a reason for your answer) From my perspective, good friends are especially important during times of crisis and turbulence. When my friends go through a hard time, they never fail to cheer me up and help sail me through both emotional and academic setbacks.

Vocabulary:

attribute [n]: a person that you have met but do not know well.

Eg: He gradually lost contact with all his old acquaintances.

get on (well) with [expression]: to have a pleasant relationship with someone; to be friends with someone.

Eg: I've always gotten on with Amanda—I think she's very nice.

introvert [n]: someone who is shy, quiet, and prefers to spend time alone rather than often being with other people.

Eg: If introverts are easier to socialize, this level will be achieved with less effort and attention than with extraverts.

prudent [adj]: careful and avoiding risks.

Eg: It's always prudent to read a contract carefully before signing it.

confide [v]: to tell something secret or personal to someone who you trust not to tell anyone else.

Eg: As sisters, they have always confided in each other.

pretentious [adj]: trying to appear or sound more important or clever than you are, especially in matters of art and literature.

Eg: John is a pretentious art critic rapport [n]: a good understanding of someone and an ability to communicate well with them.

Eg: We'd worked together for years and developed a close/good rapport.

take a stand [expression]: to take a position in opposition to someone or something; to oppose or resist someone or something.
Eg: The treasurer took a stand, and others agreed.

turbulence [n]: a state of confusion without any order.
Eg: The era was characterized by political and cultural turbulence.

setback [n]: something that happens that delays or prevents a process from developing.
Eg: There has been a slight/temporary setback in our plans.

45. RUBBISH

- Why do some people throw garbage on the street?
- What do you do with garbage when you are on the street?
- How do you feel when you see people throw garbage on the street?
- Do you think your city is clean or not?

1. Why do some people throw garbage on the street?

Personally, I think the primary reason why people drop litter on the street is because of their ignorance in keeping the street clean. There are even some trash bins but people still throw garbage somewhere else.

2. What do you do with garbage when you are on the street?

Well, I would just pick it up and throw it into a trash bin. It doesn't cost me anything to do that and I can even make an influence on other people to do the same.

3. How do you feel when you see people throw garbage on the street?

To be honest, it really pisses me off to see a person litter the street. If I were that person, I would feel ashamed because of what I did.

4. Do you think your city is clean or not?

Not really. There are some places that are heavily contaminated with chemical waste because of the existence of industrial zones, however; our local authorities are really working on this issue to help make the city clean by raising awareness among citizens and imposing stricter laws.

VOCABULARY:

Ignorance (noun): lack of knowledge or information.

Example: Our ignorance just makes environmental problems worse.

Make an influence (verb): Influence is the power to have an important effect on someone or something. If someone influences someone else, they are changing a person or thing in an indirect but important way.

Example: He hopes to make an influence on people to download the application.

Piss somebody off (phrasal verb): annoy someone.

Example: He never helps with the housework and it's starting to piss me off.

Contaminated (adjective): having been made impure by exposure to or addition of a poisonous or polluting substance.

Example: This area is heavily contaminated with untreated waste so people have to move to another place.

Raise awareness of something (verb): Awareness is the state of knowing something, such as the awareness that the sun comes up every morning.

Example: The campaign aims to raise awareness of protecting the environment.

46. PERFUME

- Do you use perfume?
- What kind of perfume do you like?
- What does perfume mean to you?
- Do you give perfume as a gift?

1. Do you use perfume?

(Answer) Yes, I do, but not very often.

(Give a reason for your answer) I try not to wear perfume around people who might have a sensitivity to it. I know a few people who get a headache when they're around people wearing fragrances, so if I'm not sure I just don't. But there is no doubt that perfumes can be a woman's best friend at certain times. It is an effective method to capture attention or form a good impression.

2. What kind of perfume do you like?

(Answer) I am not a perfume enthusiast, so I don't possess many kinds of perfume. I received a bottle from Zara as a gift and I use it sparingly, whenever on special occasions. It just makes me feel bold yet airy and comfortable. I can detect hints of vanilla and cinnamon and a top note of orange gives this a nice citrusy twist but it is by no means a fruity scent.

3. What does perfume mean to you?

(Answer) Fragrance or perfume, is evocative of an innumerable amount of things; memories, places, people, the list goes on. There's always one particular scent that reminds you of a perfect holiday you took last summer or of your lovely ex-boyfriend. And the same goes for the perfume that makes you feel sexy; your 'going out' perfume and even your 'everyday' perfume will conjure up some memories of people and places, and good times.

4. Do you give perfume as a gift?

(Answer) Well, not really.

(Give a reason for your answer) I only know some mainstream fragrances and I could hardly guess one's tastes, so it's a risky kind of gift most of the time. A perfume could be an option as a gift for our spouse, parents or children and eventually siblings or very close friends. It is an inappropriate present for a colleague, someone we barely know or someone we have work relationships with.

Vocabulary:

sensitivity [n]: the quality of being easily upset by the things people say or do, or causing people to be upset, embarrassed, or angry: sự nhạy cảm với

Eg: I should have warned you about her sensitivity to criticism.

capture [v]: if something captures your imagination or attention, you feel very interested and excited by it.

Eg: The American drive to land a man on the Moon captured the imagination/attention of the whole world.

sparingly [adv]: in small amounts, or without wasting any.

Eg: There wasn't enough coal during the war, so we had to use it sparingly.

detect [v]: to notice something that is partly hidden or not clear or to discover something.

Eg: Some sounds cannot be detected by the human ear.

by no means [expression]: not at all.

Eg: It is by no means clear what the president can do to end the strike.

evocative [adj]: making you remember or imagine something pleasant.

Eg: On this model, two or more different symbolic systems can be equally expressive and evocative of genuine religious experience.

conjure up [v]: to make a picture or idea appear in someone's mind.

Eg: The glittering ceremony conjured up images of Russia's imperial past.

mainstream [adj]: considered normal, and having or using ideas, beliefs, etc. that are accepted by most people.

Eg: The story was largely ignored by the mainstream press.

spouse [n]: a person's husband or wife.

Eg: In 60 percent of the households surveyed both spouses went out to work.

inappropriate [adj]: unsuitable.

Eg: His casual behavior was wholly inappropriate for such a formal occasion.

47. SOCIAL NETWORK

- How often do you use social networking applications?
- Why do you use social networking applications?
- What are the disadvantages of social networking applications?

- Do you think it is good to make friends online?

1. How often do you use social networking applications?

(Answer) On a daily basis.

(Give a reason for your answer) Browsing on social networking applications is part of my routine. However, I'm trying to resist the temptation to use these applications too frequently, because it takes up quite a large amount of my time.

2. Why do you use social networking applications?

(Answer) For several reasons.

(Give a reason for your answer) I find Facebook particularly useful because it provides a community space to make announcements and share with others. I also dip in and out of Twitter, LinkedIn and Instagram - usually in response to notification alerts. Generally, social networking applications help people establish better relationships with their family and friends.

3. What are the disadvantages of social networking applications?

(Answer) Obviously, sharing too much information on social platforms can sometimes put you in trouble and there are privacy concerns also. Social media can also lead to cyberbullying and lead to serious stress, anxiety and depression in heavy users, especially youngsters. Excessive reliance on the Virtual world could diminish a person's ability to have a face to face conversation.

4. Do you think it is good to make friends online?

(Answer) Well, it depends.

(Give a reason for your answer) While most people feel the need to cement their friendships based on real social interactions, I'm comfortable with talking to people I've met online as long as there's a mutual exchange of ideas. However, I would caution those who seek friends online only because they are socially insecure or lonely. Using online platforms as an avenue for friendship does not solve your problems and it might just make it worse.

Vocabulary:

on a daily basis [expression]: how often something happens or is done

Eg: Jim goes to school on a daily basis.

temptation [n]: the wish to do or have something that you know you should not do or have.

Eg: As a young actress, she resisted the temptation to move to Hollywood.

particularly [adv]: especially, or more than usual.

Eg: We're particularly interested to hear from people who speak two or more European languages.

in response to [expression]: to reply something.

Eg: The subject has to select the correct word among four alternatives in response to a question.

establish [v]: to start having a relationship with, or communicating with another person, company, country, or organization.

Eg: There is a strong need to establish effective communication links between staff, parents, pupils, and external bodies.

cyber bullying [expression]: cyber bullying is bullying that takes place over digital devices like cell phones, computers, and tablets.

Eg: 68% of teens agree that cyberbullying is a serious problem.

excessive [adj]: too much.

Eg: Excessive exercise can sometimes cause health problems.

diminish [v]: to reduce or be reduced in size, importance, or value.

Eg: Investors can diversify their holdings in order to diminish risk.

mutual [adj]: feeling the same emotion, or doing the same thing to or for each other.

Eg: There was a partnership based on mutual respect, trust and understanding.

avenue [n]: a method or way of doing something.

Eg: China and the United States are exploring avenues of military cooperation.

48. MATH

- Do you think mathematics is important?
- Do you think it is difficult to learn mathematics well?
- Are girls generally good at mathematics?
- Do you often use a calculator?

1. Do you think mathematics is important?

(Answer) Yes, of course it is.

(Give a reason for your answer) Math is incredibly important in our lives and, without realizing it, we use mathematical concepts, as well as the skills we learn from doing math problems, every day. The laws of mathematics govern everything around us, and without a good understanding of them, one can encounter significant problems in life. It encourages deliberate, creative, and systematic thinking.

2. Do you think it is difficult to learn mathematics well?

(Answer) Well, it is to a certain extent.

(Give a reason for your answer) Math is so overwhelming for so many students, including myself. Many children nowadays are reported to struggle to grasp math concepts. Math seems quite problematic because most people have learned it in a way that is quite restrictive, and this is mainly the fault of the school system for teaching math.

3. Are girls generally good at mathematics?

(Answer) From my observations and personal experience, they are not at all.

(Give a reason for your answer) Girls tend to have less positive math attitudes: They have higher levels of math anxiety and lower levels of confidence in their math skills. This means even when girls show similar performance levels to boys, they are often less sure of themselves. In general, boys are better at analyzing and thinking critically, thus outperforming their female counterparts in scientific subjects, while girls are better at memorizing and learning languages.

4. Do you often use a calculator?

(Answer) Not very often.

(Give a reason for your answer) As I am an adult now, there is little need to solve complicated calculations. However, I sometimes make use of an online calculator to verify important calculations, which I find quite handy and more reliable.

Vocabulary:

govern [v]: to have a controlling influence on something.

Eg: Prices of goods are governed by the cost of the raw materials, as well as by the cost of production and distribution.

encounter [v]: to experience something, especially something unpleasant.

Eg: The army is reported to be encountering considerable resistance.

systematic [adj]: according to an agreed set of methods or organized plan.

Eg: We've got to be more systematic in the way that we approach this task.

grasp [v]: to understand something, especially something difficult.

Eg: I think I managed to grasp the main points of the lecture.

problematic [adj]: full of problems or difficulties.

Eg: Getting everyone there on time might prove problematic.

restrictive [adj]: limiting the freedom of someone or preventing something from growing.

Eg: The college is not able to expand because of restrictive planning laws analyze [v]: to study something in a systematic and careful way.

Eg: In the article, several experienced diplomats analyzed the president's foreign policy.

outperform [v]: to do well in a particular job or activity compared to others of a similar type.

Eg: The company has consistently outperformed its rivals this season.

verify [v]: to prove that something exists or is true, or to make certain that something is correct.

Eg: These numbers are surprisingly high and they'll have to be verified.

handy [adj]: useful or convenient.

Eg: We found it handy to have a cellular phone.

49. TRAVELLING

- Do you like to travel?
- Do you often travel by air?
- How long was the longest trip you took?
- Which country would you like to travel to in the future?
- Would you like to travel to space?

1. Do you like to travel?

(Answer) Yes, absolutely.

(Explain) Travelling is my top hobby because whenever I travel, I can meet and get to know many new people from different cultures and nations, which helps me to broaden my horizons.

2. Do you often travel by air?

(Answer) No, not much.

(Explain) Travelling by air too often is out of my reach for a student like me. However, I do travel by air once or twice a year to an ASEAN member because the airfares to these destinations are quite affordable.

3. How long was the longest trip you took?

(Answer) I went on a 9-day trip to Thailand and this was my longest trip ever.

(Extend) I spent 3 days in Bangkok, 2 days in Pattaya and 3 days in Phuket. The remaining one day was allocated for moving.

4. Which country would you like to travel to in the future?

(Answer) Italy is my dream destination (explain) as it is home to the most stunning churches in the world. Also, I love the Italian culture, language and friendly people whom I've met in Vietnam.

5. Would you like to travel to space?

(Answer) Yes, it sounds a bit weird and scary though.

(Explain) I am curious about how other planets look and how I would be when there is no gravity. This idea really scares me off but as it sounds pretty intriguing, I would like to try travelling to space once.

Vocabulary

To leave for: to reserve or save something for someone or for a later use

Ex: Before leaving for Singapore, we had to check if we had all the documents needed at least twice.

To broaden my horizons: expand one's range of interests, activities, and knowledge.

Ex: We should go to other countries, getting to know more people and their cultures to broaden our horizons.

Out of someone's reach: not close enough to be touched or picked up by someone

Ex: We should make sure that all the dangerous things are kept out of children's reach.

To go on a trip: to travel, to go on a journey, to go on holiday (often quite short)

Ex: We went on a long trip to Thailand last summer.

Be home to: to be the abode, domicile, dwelling, dwelling place, habitation, house, pad (slang) residence.

Ex: A rain forest is home to a wide range of species of animals and plants.

50. BORROWING/LENDING

- Have you borrowed books from others?
- Have you ever borrowed money from others?
- Do you like lending things to others?
- How do you feel when people don't return things, they borrowed from you?

1. Have you borrowed books from others?

(Answer) Yes, I sometimes do.

(Give a reason for your answer) I'm an avid reader of books and novels, but there are certain books I may not be able to afford. Therefore, I borrow them from my close friends occasionally and afterwards, I treat them to a drink in return for their generosity.

2. Have you ever borrowed money from others?

(Answer) Yes, I have but quite rarely.

(Give a reason for your answer) I borrowed money from my uncle to study for university, and it turned out alright. I paid him on time and there were never any problems. I paid it off after a few years and we are still close. Having said that, I usually don't recommend borrowing money from family members or close friends. I've seen it go badly too many times. When you borrow money from a relative, and miss a payment, things get very awkward when they have to come collect.

3. Do you like lending things to others?

(Answer) Well, to be honest, the answer is no.

(Give a reason for your answer) Too often the things that you lend don't return, and they very seldom return in the same condition, minus ordinary wear and tear. In my opinion, unless we have complete trust in someone, we rarely feel ready to lend valuable or too fragile items to others.

4. How do you feel when people don't return things they borrowed from you?

(Answer) Well, it depends.

(Give a reason for your answer) If that object is too important to be stolen from me, I will persist and try to get it back. If I can spare the item or money, I would probably write it off and consider it a lesson learned. All of these choices will probably hurt the relationship, which is why I assume it's generally best not to borrow from or lend to someone you want to remain friends with.

Vocabulary:

avid [adj]: extremely eager or interested.

Eg: She hadn't seen him for six months and was avid for news.

in return for [expression]: as an exchange for something.

Eg: The farmer offered us food in return for our work.

recommend [v]: to suggest that someone or something would be good or suitable for a particular job or purpose, or to suggest that a particular action should be done.

Eg: I can recommend the chicken in mushroom sauce - it's delicious.

awkward [adj]: difficult to use, do, or deal with.

Eg: Some of the questions were rather awkward.

seldom [adv]: almost never.

Eg: Seldom do we receive any apology when mistakes are made.

wear and tear [expression]: the damage that happens to an object in ordinary use during a period.

Eg: Seat covers on buses take a lot of wear and tear.

fragile [adj]: easily damaged, broken, or harmed.

Eg: Be careful with that vase - it's very fragile.

persist [v]: to try to do or continue doing something in a determined but often unreasonable way.

Eg: If he persists in asking awkward questions, then send him to the boss.

write something off [v]: to decide that a particular person or thing will not be useful, important, or successful.

Eg: A lot of companies seem to write people off if they're over.

assume [v]: to accept something as true without question or proof.

Eg: We can't assume (that) he's innocent simply because he says he is.

51. READING

- Do you like reading?
- What kind of books do you read?
- Do you read electronic books?
- Do you read books related to your profession?

1. Do you like reading?

Definitely. It is one of my hobbies to relieve stress and broaden my knowledge when I have free time.

2. What kind of books do you read?

Well, I'm very into science fiction books, which entertain me a lot, besides giving interesting information.

3. Do you read electronic books?

Not really. I am a big fan of printed books since it provides a less harmful effect on my eyes.

4. Do you read books related to your profession?

Yes, I do. I usually do research about my profession so reading books can help me gain an insight into my field.

VOCABULARY

Relieve stress (verb): chill out.

Example: Going swimming is a good way to relieve stress

Broaden one's knowledge (verb): : to increase the range of one's knowledge, understanding, or experience

Example: I think reading books can help me broaden my knowledge.

Science fiction book: fiction based on imagined future scientific or technological advances and major social or environmental changes, frequently portraying space or time travel and life on other planets.

Printed book: A book is a physical book that has the text, images, etc., printed on paper. ... Many of the conventions of a print book are used in an ebook – for example, cover, title page, copyright page, table of content, chapters, paragraphs, etc.

Example: They are publishing a printed book after many years.

52. SMILE

- Do you like to smile?
- When do people smile at others?
- Do you smile when people take pictures of you?
- Can you recognize a fake smile?

1. Do you like to smile?

(Answer) Yes, most people say that I have a cheerful disposition.

(Give a reason for your answer) I always remind myself that life isn't simple and it doesn't come without obstacles, so smiling keeps you always optimistic. As I see it, people with great smiles radiate a warmth that draws others to them instantly.

2. When do people smile at others?

(Answer) People smile for different reasons, in various contexts.

(Give a reason for your answer) Most often, people of all ages will smile when something is giving them pleasure. Sometimes we do smile simply because we are happy, but we also smile for social reasons and to put people at ease, as well as to show more complex emotions, such as resignation.

3. Do you smile when people take pictures of you?

(Answer) Yes, I actually smile all the time. Smiling in pictures makes me look more photogenic and approachable. Besides, I smile to spread happiness. Pictures are clicked to capture and relive the moment. And how do we like to do that? In a happy way! So we smile.

4. Can you recognize a fake smile?

(Answer) Yes, probably.

(Give a reason for your answer) When you smile genuinely, there are two kinds of muscles involved in your face. A spontaneous smile of joy has upward and widening movement of the mouth into a broad grin, and movement of the muscle around the eyes. A fake or social smile, controlled by the motor cortex, has only the upward movement of the mouth, it is slower and less symmetric.

Vocabulary:

disposition [n]: the particular type of character that a person naturally has.

Eg: She is of a nervous/cheerful/sunny disposition.

Eg: His jokes seemed spontaneous, but were in fact carefully prepared beforehand.

symmetric [adj]: having similarity in size, shape, and relative position of corresponding parts.

Eg: The structure is completely symmetric

53. PLAN

- Do you make plans every day?
- Are you good at managing your time?
- What is the latest plan you made?
- What is the hardest part about making a plan?

1. Do you make plans every day?

(Answer) Yes, I do, for many reasons.

(Give a reason for your answer) I always carry a small notebook which I plan my daily schedule with, plans and notes. It sounds quite conventional but it works for me. Writing stuff down helps me remember tasks better than typing on some kind of productive app. I spend about 5 minutes at the beginning and end of every day to plan that day and the next day's tasks. The important thing is you need to keep your to-do list small, it's about prioritizing.

2. Are you good at managing your time?

(Answer) Objectively speaking, I am quite good at it.

(Give a reason for your answer) I think once you are in the habit of controlling yourself according to your time table, life becomes very easy. Good time management will help you with various other skills and competencies that graduate employers seek, from perseverance, resilience, reliability and coping with stress to problem solving and teamwork.

3. What is the latest plan you made?

(Answer) Well, I've recently planned to travel across the country before the age of 30. I want to visit different places as much as possible to gain first-hand knowledge and experience. Travelling fascinates me more than anything else. In reality, it would be quite challenging for me to fulfil the plan, but I will try my best to organize everything even if it takes several years for me.

4. What is the hardest part about making a plan?

(Answer) Well, there are a lot of considerations when preparing for a plan, but I think it is establishing goals.

(Give an example (often a personal example)) Establishing clear, concise and understandable goals — is extremely necessary. When people can't see the vision of the plan, they won't take action to pursue the plan. Clear objectives should be come up with, whereas teammates or members should also be gathered and delegated tasks appropriately, if needed.

Vocabulary:

productive [adj]: resulting in or providing a large amount or supply of something.

Eg: He had an amazingly productive five years in which he managed to write four novels.

prioritize [v]: to decide which of a group of things are the most important so that you can deal with them first.

Eg: You must learn to prioritize your work.

in the habit of [expression]: if you are in the habit of doing something, you do it regularly or often.

Eg: They were in the habit of giving two or three dinner parties a month.

perseverance [n]: continued effort and determination.

Eg: It must be really hard to cope with three young children and a job.

first-hand [adj]: obtained personally, or directly from someone who is personally involved in something.

Eg: He has firsthand experience of what war is like.

fascinate [v]: to interest someone a lot.

Eg: Anything to do with planes and flying fascinates him.

concise [adj]: expressing what needs to be said without unnecessary words; short and clear.

Eg: She wrote up a concise summary of the day's events.

objective [n]: something that you plan to do or achieve.

Eg: Can the sales team achieve/meet its financial objectives?

delegate [v]: to give a particular job, duty, right, etc. to someone else so that they do it for you.

Eg: Authority to make financial decisions has been delegated to a special committee.

54. VISIT RELATIVES

- Do you often visit your relatives?
- What do you do when visiting relatives?
- When was the last time you visited a relative?
- Why do people visit relatives?

1. Do you often visit your relatives?

(Answer) Yes, I do.

(Give a reason for your answer) I like many of my relatives who are very compassionate, lovely and friendly to me and among them I would pick my younger uncle as the best relative in terms of our mutual understanding, closeness and communications.

2. What do you do when visiting relatives?

(Answer) There are a lot of activities.

(Give a reason for your answer) We often discuss our family issues, our thoughts on politics, religion, books writers, movies, music and on many other issues. In our big family, we share our books and recommend books to each other. Generally, adults also share heartfelt words to youngsters and advise them on how to behave decently.

3. When was the last time you visited a relative?

(Answer) Well, it was just last week when I visited my uncle's family and my grandparents, who reside with him in the countryside. We went for a short walk near the field after breakfast to relax in nature and soak up some much-needed Vitamin D, which is necessary for elderly people.

4. Why do people visit relatives?

(Answer) For many reasons, I believe.

(Give a reason for your answer) Simply hanging out with family that you don't see all the time is great. You get a chance to catch up with everyone and figure out what they're doing with their lives. You also get to laugh and just be weird because they don't judge you for your weirdness. Above all, the memories are the best when you're with your family sitting around and reminiscing about things that you've done together.

Vocabulary:

compassionate [adj]: showing compassion.

Eg: The public's response to the crisis appeal was generous and compassionate.

closeness [n]: the quality of knowing someone very well, liking them a lot, and wanting to spend a lot of time together.

Eg: A special closeness is supposed to exist between twins.

politics [n]: the activities of the government, members of law-making organizations, or people who try to influence the way a country is governed.

Eg: After 30 years in politics, our local member of parliament is retiring next year.

heartfelt [adj]: strongly felt and sincere.

Eg: Please accept my heartfelt apologies/thanks.

decently [adv]: in a way that is socially acceptable or good.

Eg: She admitted that she hadn't always behaved decently.

reside [v]: to live, have your home, or stay in a place.

Eg: The family now resides in southern France.

soak up [v]: to enjoy the effects or experience of something as much as possible.

Eg: I love to lie on the beach and soak up the sun.

necessary [adj]: needed in order to do something.

Eg: The police are prepared to use force, if necessary.

weirdness [n]: the quality of being strange and unusual.

Eg: It's a comedy which often succeeds in capturing the weirdness of real life.

reminisce [v]: to talk or write about past experiences that you remember with pleasure.

Eg: Grandpa likes to reminisce about his years in the navy.

55. STREET MARKET

- Do you currently live in a house or a flat/ apartment?
- Are street markets common in your country?
- What is usually sold there?
- Do you think people like street markets? Why?

1. Do you currently live in a house or a flat/ apartment?

Answer: I'm living in an apartment that is fully furnished and has all the mod cons. I share my bedroom with another person, and we have been living there for over one year.

2. Are street markets common in your country?

Answer: Yes. They exist everywhere, and Vietnamese people go to street markets daily.

3. What is usually sold there?

Answer: Well, you can find trendy clothes at a reasonable price in any street market in Vietnam.

4. Do you think people like street markets? Why?

Answer: I think people enjoy street markets since they are ideal places to let off steam and bargain with sellers to get a discount.

VOCABULARY:

Fully-furnished (adj): A fully-furnished apartment is one which is equipped with all required items of a household.

Eg: The flat is fully-furnished, therefore, we don't have to buy anything.

All the mod cons (n): The amenities and appliances characteristic of a well-equipped modern house that contribute to an easier and more comfortable way of life.

Eg: Don't worry! Our house has all the mod cons, which is very convenient.

On a daily basis (adj): how often something happens or is done

Eg: You should do exercise on a daily basis in order to improve your physical health.

Let off steam (v): To do or say something that helps you to get rid of strong feelings or energy

Eg: We should go for a drink tonight to let off some steam.

Bargain (v): negotiate the terms and conditions of a transaction.

Eg: Bargain hard when you go to Ben Thanh Market; otherwise you may get ripped off.

56. OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

- Do you like outdoor activities?

- What outdoor activities do you (most) like to do?
- What outdoor sports do you like? (Why?)
- How much time do you spend outdoors every week?
- Do Vietnamese people go out a lot?
- What (types of) outdoor activities are popular in your country?
- How and where do people in your country usually socialize?

1. Do you like outdoor activities?

Definitely! I think outdoor activities do wonders for our mental and physical health. So, I often spend my leisure time playing sports or taking a walk around the park.

2. What outdoor activities do you (most) like to do?

Well, I enjoy lots of activities like hiking, camping or skateboarding, but I'm particularly keen on cycling, especially in the open countryside. It's fun, relaxing and easy to do, you know. More than that, biking helps me get energized and ward off feelings of exhaustion.

3. What outdoor sports do you like? (Why?)

I'm really into playing badminton. It's quite popular in my country, so I can play it with my friends, family members, or next-door neighbours and strengthen the bond with them. Moreover, badminton develops my quick reflexes as well, so I do think it's a fantastic sport.

4. How much time do you spend outdoors every week?

On average, I guess that I do some outdoor activity 2 or 3 times a week. I normally spend at least one morning per week cycling and take part in some sports or other outdoor activities when I'm free. It's not so frequent, I know, which is due to my busy schedule, but I always try to arrange as much time as possible for some outdoor exercise.

5. Do Vietnamese people go out a lot?

It's kind of hard to say, but people around me tend to spend more time indoors. They're living a fast-paced lifestyle with most of their time devoted to working, commuting and connecting on social media, so, doing things outdoors doesn't seem to be a regular or important part of their calendar.

6. What (types of) outdoor activities are popular in your country?

Well, probably jogging and yoga. I'm not sure about this, but in my country, you can easily catch sight of groups of people from all walks of life jogging or doing yoga in the parks every morning or in the evening. So, these may be the most popular outdoor activities, I guess.

7. How and where do people in your country usually socialize?

People in my country nowadays tend to socialize at work or school. Besides, people of my age often meet up and chat in coffee shops or restaurants which are popular and often beautifully designed. At the same time, the older people usually get together in the parks or gather at someone's home to cook and exchange pleasantries.

Vocabulary

Do wonders (for somebody/something): [expression] have a beneficial effect

Example: Fresh air and exercise do wonders for your health.

Ex: At university, I enjoyed socializing with other students.

57. WEATHER

- What kind of weather is typical in your hometown?
- What's your favourite season?
- What kind of weather do you like most? Do you prefer dry or wet weather?

1. What kind of weather is typical in your hometown?

Since my country is located near the Equator, Ho Chi Minh City, where I live, usually has hot weather, which is not my cup of tea.

2. What's your favourite season?

If I had to choose, I would choose winter because the weather gets much warmer, and I can wear fashionable clothes that are only suitable for this season.

3. What kind of weather do you like most? Do you prefer dry or wet weather?

I like sunny weather, but not when it's too hot because it gets a bit humid after a while. I'll go for dry weather since I don't want to get caught up in a rainstorm and soaked to the bone.

VOCABULARY:

Boiling weather (expression): extremely hot (having a high temperature: of an object, the weather, a living creature)

Ex: Don't go to the North in summer! It's boiling weather.

Humid (adjective): marked by a relatively high level of water vapour in the atmosphere.

Ex: The weather is really humid; you should drink a lot of water.

Get caught up in a rain (Idiom): To "get caught" in the rain means that you are outside and it starts raining suddenly, before you can get inside or get an umbrella.

Ex: It suddenly rained and I got caught up in the rain.

58. PATIENCE

- What do you think "patience" is?
- Do you think patience is important?
- (Possibly) Do you think being patient is an important part of being polite?
- Would you say you are a patient person?
- Have you ever lost your patience?
- What do you become impatient about?

1. What do you think "patience" is?

Well, I suppose "patience" indicates a person's capacity to wait or to endure delay or something tedious or annoying without complaining and getting riled about it.

2. Do you think patience is important?

Yes, being patient is vital because it is helpful in many situations. Being impatient does not solve the problems but causes more trouble. Also, individual people tend to like patient people because they usually have calm attitudes and an easy-going personality.

3.(Possibly) Do you think being patient is an important part of being polite?

Of course, being patient shows your respectful and thoughtful attitudes to others. For example, at the coffee shop, people have to queue in line and wait patiently for their turn.

4. Would you say you are a patient person?

Generally, I'm an impatient person because I hate waiting for other people. I can easily get annoyed if my friends do not turn up on time. However, in certain situations, I can remain patient, like studying English every day without feeling bored.

5. Have you ever lost your patience?

Yes, I have. Last week, I planned to hang out with my friend at the KFC restaurant. But my friend didn't come, and she made me wait for more than thirty minutes. I called her, and she didn't even respond to it. Being tired of waiting for so long, I just left her a message reproaching her and saying that she did not need to come any more. I was so angry that I did not talk to her for a few days.

6. What do you become impatient about?

As I mentioned previously, I loathe waiting for individuals or something taking up too much time. It usually makes me feel upset and irritated.

Vocabulary:

tedious (adjective) boring

Ex: The problem is I find most forms of exercise so tedious.

get riled (expression) to get very annoyed

Ex: I got riled when the shop assistant was rude to me.

easy-going (adjective) relaxed and happy to accept things without worrying

Ex: She won't get angry if you're late, she's very easy-going.

respectful (adjective) showing politeness or honour to someone or something

Ex: There was a respectful two-minute silence as we remembered the soldiers who had died in the war.

thoughtful (adjective) carefully considering things

Ex: He has a thoughtful approach to his work, planning everything well.

queue (verb) to wait in a line of people, often to buy something

Ex: Dozens of people were queuing up to get tickets.

get annoyed (verb phrase): become angry

Ex: He got annoyed at the way she tried to take over the whole meeting.

turn up (phrasal verb): to arrive

Ex: We arranged to meet at midday, but he didn't turn up.

loathe (verb) hate somebody or something very much

Ex: From an early age the brothers have loathed each other.

hang out with somebody (expression) spend time with somebody

Ex: When I have free time, I hang out with friends and we listen to music or chat.

reproach (verb) to criticize someone, especially for not being successful or not doing what is expected

Ex: His mother reproached him for not eating all his dinner.

irritated (adjective) annoyed

Ex: I began to get increasingly irritated at her foolish questions

59. ANIMAL

- Have you ever kept pets?
- Do you like to go to the zoo?
- Have you ever seen any wild animals before?
- What wild animal do you like the most?

1. Have you ever kept pets?

(Answer) Yes, I used to have one.

(Give a reason for your answer) My father got a dog for me when I was 5. Yet, I remember he was so aggressive that we rarely played with him. He was kept only for guarding the house. Later on, when he started recognizing us, he allowed us to approach him. I remember my sister felt attached to him a great deal, so when he died, it was a true shock for her.

2. Do you like to go to the zoo?

(Answer) I don't particularly appreciate going to the zoo.

(Give a reason for your answer) It is so sad to see the miserable animals sitting, running about sadly in their cage, hoping for some scraps from the visitors. They don't deserve it. But on the other side, some of them will live in danger if they are allowed to live in their natural environment.

3. Have you ever seen any wild animals before?

(Answer) Not even once in person but of course plenty of times on TV through National Geographic TV shows.

(Give a reason for your answer) In my twenty years of existence, I still haven't seen one real wild animal before with my naked eyes. Some of the amazing wild animals that I've seen on television are zebras, gorillas, giraffes, coyotes, hedgehogs, otters, and lions. I don't get a chance to visit any zoos in this country.

4. What wild animal do you like the most?

(Answer) I do not have any particular kinds of wild animals that I like.

(Give a reason for your answer) If I have to pick one, I prefer to choose elephants. They look different from any other animal you've ever seen, they have a trunk, tusks and they're massive in size. They are closely related to the extinct mammoth, and that is why elephants are so unique. Besides, in comparison with other kinds of animals, they are much more intelligent.

Vocabulary:

aggressive [adj]: behaving in an angry and violent way towards another person.

Eg: If I criticize him, he gets aggressive and starts shouting.

approach [v]: to come nearer to something or someone.

Eg: Under no circumstances should you approach the man.

(be) attached to [adj]: to like someone or something very much.

Eg: The paintings he made later pale in comparison with his earlier work.

60. TEA OR COFFEE

- Do Vietnamese people like to drink tea or coffee?
- Do you prepare tea or coffee for the guests at home?
- When was the last time you drank tea or coffee?

1. Do Vietnamese people like to drink tea or coffee?

(Answer) Well, both are Vietnamese people's favourite drink, but I think tea is more preferred.
(Give a reason for your answer) In Vietnam, tea is said to appear in almost every social activity: from the wedding, birthday to anniversary and ritual ceremonies. A cup of hot tea in the early morning after breakfast, some iced tea at small stalls while waiting for a friend, or a whole day chilling out in a teahouse; that is the way tea penetrates Vietnamese' daily life.

2. Do you prepare tea or coffee for the guests at home?

(Answer) When it comes to treating my guests, I want them to experience a sense of warmth and delight, so I most often choose tea. Tea and biscuits is the perfect combination for many people, especially children. If I serve my guests a cup of coffee, this may somehow disturb their sleep at night.

3. When was the last time you drank tea or coffee?

(Answer) Well, I drink coffee frequently for the sake of my hectic schedule. (Give a reason for your answer) Yesterday, I made myself a cup of coffee to prepare for the demanding working deadline. Honestly, I want to break the habit of overusing coffee, but given my demanding workload, that prospect seems out of the question, at least at the moment. It turns out that early morning coffee drinkers should also consider adjusting their schedule to optimize their caffeine intake better. The best times to drink coffee — or caffeine in general — is between 10 a.m. and noon, and between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Vocabulary:

preferable [adj]: better or more suitable.

Eg: Surely a diplomatic solution is preferable to war.

ritual [n]: a ritual is also any act done regularly, usually without thinking about it.

Eg: My morning ritual includes reading the newspaper while I drink my coffee.

penetrate [v]: to move into or through something.

Eg: In a normal winter, the frost penetrates deeply enough to kill off insect eggs in the soil.

delight [n]: (something or someone that gives) great pleasure, satisfaction, or happiness.

Eg: I read your letter with great delight.

disturb [v]: to interrupt what someone is doing.

Eg: I'm sorry to disturb you so late, but my car's broken down and I don't have my phone with me.

for the sake of [expression]: in order to help or bring advantage to someone.

Eg: Their parents only stayed together for the sake of the children.

break the habit of [expression]: to stop doing a routine action or activity.

Eg: I struggled to break the habit of biting my nails, but getting regular manicures helped.

demanding [adj]: needing a lot of time, attention, or energy.

Eg: She's hoping to find a job which is more demanding intellectually.

out of the question [expression]: not possible; having no chance; not permitted.

Eg: I'm sorry, but your taking my car is out of the question.

optimize [v]: to make something as good as possible.

Eg: We need to optimize our use of the existing technology.

61. SLEEP

- How long should people sleep for the benefit of their health? Why?
- Do you think that the old should sleep more than the young? Why?
- What do you do to improve sleeping quality?
- Do you think it's effective?

1. How long should people sleep for the benefit of their health? Why?

(Answer) I'm not too sure, but according to what I have read, around 8 hours of sleep per day would be optimal. (Give reasons for your answer) This is said to be the perfect amount of time for people to rejuvenate and recharge their minds and bodies. If people constantly sleep a lot more than this recommended amount of time, they are likely to be prone to obesity, which carries serious health risks.

2. Do you think that the old should sleep more than the young? Why?

(Answer) No, I don't think that should be the case. (Give reasons for your answer) I believe that the amount of time people spend resting should correlate with how much they exert themselves during the day. Usually, young people spend more of their energy on physical activities, so it's more reasonable for the young to sleep more than the elderly.

3. What do you do to improve sleeping quality?

(Answer) Several measures can be taken to assure a quality sleep. (Give a reason for your answer) First, I make sure that I work out at the gym or take gentle exercise as I usually find myself drifting to sleep faster and sleep more soundly after I have taken regular exercise during the daytime. Also, I find that some soothing music and comfy pillows are helpful in ensuring a good night's sleep.

4. Do you think it's effective?

(Answer) Yes, from my personal experience, the solutions I mentioned have proved to be quite effective. (Give reasons for your answer) When I'm drained after a long day, or I've done a hardcore work-out at the fitness centre, I am often sore all over and crave for some rest. Then, nothing is more satisfying than to crash out at night, falling asleep while listening to slow and relaxing melodies.

Vocabulary

2. What is the sky like at night in your hometown?

(Answer) The night sky where I live is simply a breathtaking view.

(Give a reason for your answer) As I live in the countryside, the sky is not affected by light pollution, so there are numerous shining stars in a broad blackish background. Therefore, the view is perfect for anyone who has a thirst for freedom.

3. Do you like to watch stars?

(Answer) I find star-watching extremely interesting.

(Give a reason for your answer) I believe that every star in the cosmos has its function and holds a unique mystery to be discovered. This is a great inspiration to me.

4. Have you ever taken a course about stars?

(Answer) I haven't ever enrolled in such courses, but I would love to in the future. (Give a reason for your answer) I have always wanted to know how constellations retain their shape in zero gravity without floating through space.

5. What's your favourite star?

(Answer) The Sun is my favourite star, I would say.

(Give a reason for your answer) This is because of its power and importance to life. If we could find a star similar to the Sun out there in space, we would be able to discover alien life forms and complete our quest for a new homeland.

Vocabulary

Arts: a work of art/a work of music/a work of literature (expression): a painting, sculpture, book, play, piece of music etc

Example: Living in conditions of zero gravity in space must be extremely tiring and uncomfortable.

To float through space (expression): to move slowly in the air

Example: Space tourism would be really boring, simply floating through space and looking out of the window of the spacecraft.

Alien life forms (expression): creatures from another world

Example: One of the most exciting possibilities of the space program is finding alien life forms on other planets.

The quest for a new homeland (expression): the search for a new place to inhabit

Example: As humans are destroying their own planet, the quest for a new homeland in the universe is essential.

63. SHARING

- Have you had anything to share with others recently?
- Did your parents teach you to share when you were a child?
- What kind of things do you like to share with others?
- What kind of things are not suitable for sharing?

1. Have you had anything to share with others recently?

Yes. I was quite nervous about my upcoming finals. Therefore, I went to see my sister and tell her my concerns. She gave me a pep talk.

2. Did your parents teach you to share when you were a child?

They did encourage my siblings and me to speak our minds if we needed to. My parents told me that sharing could lift people's spirits and get rid of negative energy.

3. What kind of things do you like to share with others?

I usually talk with my friends about how I spend my day. Sometimes I even share food with my colleagues because I often buy snacks at the workplace.

4. What kind of things are not suitable for sharing?

I think people should keep personal information to themselves because anyone can take advantage of that information and put us into trouble.

VOCABULARY:

Pep talk (noun): a talk intended to make someone feel more courageous or enthusiastic.

Example: The coach came and gave a pep talk to his team.

Speak one's mind: Say what one really thinks, talk freely and fearlessly

Example: Everyone feels free to speak their mind in this section.

Lift one's spirit: To make one feel happier or more carefree Example: My advice really lifted his spirits.

Get rid of: take action so as to be free of (a troublesome or unwanted person or thing)

Example: You should get rid of these clothes since they are old-fashioned.

Keep something to oneself: refuse to disclose or share something.

Example: Keep your information to yourself! Don't tell anyone about this

Take advantage of: exploit for one's own benefit.

Example: You should take advantage of your time to travel more.

64. HANDWRITING

- Do you often write things?
- Do you prefer to write by hand or write using a computer?
- Do you think computers might one day replace handwriting?
- When do children begin to write in your country?

1. Do you often write things?

(Answer) Absolutely yes.

(Explain) Writing is one of the things that I love doing in my leisure time. I practice writing every day to sharpen my language and writing skills, as well as relieve stress after a hard-working day.

2. Do you prefer to write by hand or write using a computer?

(Answer) It depends.

(explain) When writing about everyday things or practising for the IELTS test, I'd rather write by hand. I use a computer to write academic reports.

3. Do you think computers might one day replace handwriting?

(Answer) I don't think so.

(Explain) The computer has indeed been doing a good job in helping people to write. However, I don't think that it will replace the traditional way of writing as there will be no computers to rely on in urgent cases.

4. When do children begin to write in your country?

(Answer) Vietnamese kids start learning to write at the age of around 5 to 6, (explain) which is considered quite early by some European experts. But Vietnamese kids know how to do it well.

Vocabulary:

To sharpen a skill: perfect a skill.

Eg: To sharpen my communication skills, I participate in a lot of extra-curricular activities.

To rely on: to need (someone or something) for support, help, etc. : to depend on (someone or something)

Eg: I don't think we should always rely on theories in books because there are many unexpected situations which cannot be solved by them in real life.

65. PHOTOS/PICTURES

- How do you keep your photos?
- In what situations do you take photos?
- How often do you take photos?
- Do you prefer to take photos of yourself or to have other people take photos?

1. How do you keep your photos?

Well, I usually store my photos by printing them out and making an album if the pictures are important. If not, I keep them on my iPhone.

2. In what situations do you take photos?

I snap a photo whenever I see something that catches my eye when I'm in a good mood. Normally, I take pictures with my friends when we hang out or when my family goes to a fancy restaurant.

3. How often do you take photos?

Not too often, I have to say. I'm an introvert who doesn't like to share too many photos, so I only take photos when I find something interesting.

4. Do you prefer to take photos of yourself or to have other people take photos?

I'm pretty good at photography, so I choose to take photos by myself. Also, it is more comfortable to see my expression, which is unflattering sometimes.

VOCABULARY:

Snap a photo (phrase): Take a photo

Ex: He snapped a photo of me while I was sleeping.

Catch one's eyes (phrase): to get someone's attention, especially by looking at them

Eg: This costume really catches my eyes.

In a good mood (expression): Refers to a cheerful, well-disposed state of mind, Ex: Dinner is on me! I'm in a good mood today.

66. MUSIC

- Do you like listening to music?
- When do you listen to music?
- Did you learn instruments?
- Did you have any music classes in school?
- Do you think children must have music classes?
- What do you think of Vietnamese traditional music?
- How much time do you spend listening to music every day?
- What is your favourite kind of music?
- When did you start listening to this type of music?
- How do you feel when you listen to music?

1. Do you like listening to music?

I love listening to music, especially US-UK. My favourite artists are Miley Cyrus and Troye Sivan; their songs always sound awesome to me.

2. When do you listen to music?

I listen to music whenever I feel like doing so. I most often do that before going to sleep, when I'm on the bus, or when I don't have any important tasks to do.

3. Did you learn instruments?

I didn't take up any classes on musical instruments and haven't still. I have always wanted to learn to play the piano ever since I was a kid but never got the chance to. I'm planning on getting some piano lessons this summer.

4. Did you have any music classes in school?

I used to have music classes back when I was in primary school and secondary school. I loved my music class in secondary school. For our midterm and final tests, we had to form a group of at least four and perform a certain song that we choose ourselves. It was so much fun.

5. Do you think children must have music classes?

In my opinion, children should always have music classes. Music has been scientifically proven to have positive influences on one's way of thinking and feeling, so it will do people good if they can experience music from an early age.

6. What do you think of Vietnamese traditional music?

It's not really to my taste, to be honest. I literally cannot listen to traditional kinds of music such as "ca tru", "cai luong" or "cheo". I like listening to songs created during the war, though, maybe because my dad was a soldier. He told me stories about his years in the army, and so I can somehow relate deeply to those kinds of songs.

7. How much time do you spend listening to music every day?

It depends. I often listen to music when I'm doing the housework or when I'm on the bus. At that time, I feel like I can immerse myself in my own world. When I need to concentrate on school work, I don't listen to music as it can cause real distraction.

8. What is your favourite kind of music?

I don't have choices in music. I can pretty much listen to everything as long as it sounds good to me.

9. When did you start listening to this type of music?

[Let's just say I'm into rock music]

The first time I heard a rock song was when my dad turned on the TV, and there was a performance of a very famous rock band in Vietnam called "Buc Tuong". It was amazing. I started searching for more songs from the Vietnamese band, and songs belonging to the same genre, and have decided ever since that rock music would be a part of my spiritual life.

10. How do you feel when you listen to music?

Relaxed and free, I guess. Music, to me, is a way of hiding from all the hustle and bustle of everyday life. I listen to music when I'm under a lot of pressure, and feel so fine. It's the feeling of finally coming home after years and years of living far away, I think.

Vocabulary

folk songs

Meaning: songs in the traditional style of a country or community

Example: Traditional folk songs are part of the cultural heritage of a nation or region.

- Do you think it's important to like your teacher?
- Do you want to be a teacher?
- What qualities should a good teacher have?
- Do you have a favourite teacher?

1. Do you like any teacher of yours?

(Answer) Yes, I do.

(Give a reason for your answer) During the entire course of my school life, I was instructed by many lovely teachers whom I love and respect a lot. Among them, the person who inspired me the most is my English major teacher in my high school.

2. Do you still keep in touch with your teachers?

Well, after high school graduation, I still contact my Physics and English teachers from time to time. Besides, on special occasions like the Tet holiday or teacher's day, I still visit them with my friends to express my gratitude.

3. Do you think it's important to like your teacher?

(Answer) Of course, yes.

(Give a reason for your answer) When you have a good relationship with your teachers, you may find their way of teaching more understandable. Most importantly, you will feel more motivated in studying and in the end, perform better.

4. Do you want to be a teacher?

(Answer) Sometimes, yes.

(Give a reason for your answer) I'm quite enthusiastic about conveying knowledge to others, especially those who are willing to learn. As I'm capable of explaining things concisely and appealingly, I'm quite cut out for teaching.

5. (What qualities should a good teacher have?)

Well, one needs to have a lot of attributes to become a good teacher, in my opinion. Besides good knowledge, you also need to be patient, diligent and highly disciplined. Unless you are passionately devoted to teaching, you cannot call yourself a good teacher.

6. (Do you have a favourite teacher?)

I had so many favourite teachers, and it's a bit difficult to pick one, but I would say the English teacher in high school was the one I love the most. She always delivered engaging lessons, and unlike other teachers who compel students to learn to get good grades, she showed the beauty in learning and encouraged us to pursue our interests.

Vocabulary:

respect [v]: to feel or show admiration for someone or something that you believe has good ideas or qualities.

Eg: I deeply respect David for what he has achieved.

- What will become the most popular means of transportation in Vietnam?
- Do you prefer public transportation or private transportation?

1. What's the most popular means of transportation in your hometown?

The most common vehicle in my hometown is the motorbike. As I've read in a current newspaper, most Vietnamese adults own motorbikes. Moreover, I can easily catch sight of motorbikes whenever I go outside.

2. How often do you take buses?

I take buses to go to school at least twice a day as I haven't got my vehicle yet. I also usually use buses to visit my relatives or friends' homes.

3. Can you compare the advantages of planes and trains?

Aeroplanes and trains have their benefits for passengers. Regarding planes, they have been the fastest means of passenger transport invented so far. They enable people to travel all around the world in the shortest possible time. The biggest advantage of trains is their impressive safety record. Accidents are rare. So people can feel relaxed and sit back and admire the views from their comfortable seats.

4. Is driving to work popular in your country?

Yes. I'm pretty sure that private cars and motorbikes are the two most popular vehicles in my country. Therefore, it is obvious that there are a large number of people who tend to drive to work.

5. Do you think people will drive more in the future?

Yes, I think so. There will be more drivers on the roads in future due to the convenience of motoring and the affordable prices of cars.

6. Would you ride bikes to work in the future?

Yes. As I'm a young person, I like to do energetic activities to help me keep fit, so I will give priority to a job that is within cycling distance of my home.

7. What will become the most popular means of transportation in Vietnam?

I think motorbikes will continue to dominate due to their advantages. They are great for getting around quickly and easy to park and economical to run.

8. Do you prefer public transportation or private transportation?

Although owning a private vehicle has various advantages, I prefer using public transportation to economize as well as to help protect the environment.

- Do you know any famous people in your area?
- Where do you like to go in that area?

1. Do you like the area that you live in?

Well, I am staying in District 2, and I must say that I enjoy staying in this area since there are a lot of places to visit besides the peaceful atmosphere.

2. What are some changes in the area recently?

There are more and more high-rise buildings being built in the area to meet the demand of the affluent and expats.

3. Do you know any famous people in your area?

Interestingly, I live next door to Toc Tien, who is one of the most famous pop singers in Vietnam. However, I don't see her very often because of her busy schedule.

4. Where do you like to go in that area?

I love visiting Saigon Outcast, a place where I can do rock climbing as well as socialize with foreigners.

VOCABULARY :

High-rise (adjective): (of a building) having many storeys

Example: A high-rise building was built last month, which will be the tallest building when it is finished

Meet the demand of: to do something that someone wants, needs, or expects you to do or be as good as they need, expect etc

Example: They have to work the night shift to meet the demand of buyers.

The affluent (noun): (especially of a group or area) having a great deal of money; wealthy.

Example: The affluent class is increasing in our country, which widens the gap between the rich and the poor.

70. HOLIDAY

- What kinds of places do you like to go on holiday?
- Who would you like to go on a holiday with?
- Where do you plan to go for holidays in the future?

1. What kinds of places do you like to go on holiday?

I like beaches; therefore, I would go to a peaceful island or beautiful beaches so that I can let my hair down.

2. Who would you like to go on a holiday with?

Well, I prefer going on solo trips rather than holidaying with my friends or family since they are annoying at times.

3. Where do you plan to go for holidays in the future?

I've always dreamed of going to France, where I can taste delicious croissants and contemplate the sunset from the Eiffel Tower.

VOCABULARY:

To let one's hair down (idiom): . Drop one's reserve or inhibitions, behave casually or informally

Ex: I've been too busy with my new job. So, tonight I'm going to let my hair down and enjoy myself.

A solo trip (expression): is "alone" or "by one's self".

Ex: I find it strange when you are making a solo trip to Europe.

71. NUMBERS

- Are you good at remembering numbers?
- Do you often use numbers?
- Is there any special number you like?

1. Are you good at remembering numbers?

(Answer) Yes. I'm quite good when it comes to numbers. But it depends on how the numbers are administered to me.

(Give a reason for your answer) When I look at a sequence for only 1 or 2 seconds or hear 2-3 numbers in 1 second, I can easily remember them. My immediate information intake is enormous and very fast compared to the average. I can easily remember sequences of 15-20 digits in a moment. But I haven't tried beyond that.

2. Do you often use numbers?

(Answer) Well, I must say I seldom use numbers.

(Give a reason for your answer) Honestly, my work doesn't involve the use of numbers. Still, numbers play an important role in our lives. I assume that whether we like it or not, our life revolves around numbers and they are connected directly or indirectly to our lives.

3. Is there any special number you like?

(Answer) Yes, absolutely.

(Give a reason for your answer) My favourite number is nine because it has unique attributes.

Multiply nine by any number and then keep adding the digits of the number produced until there is only one left. It will always be 9. Interesting, isn't it?

Vocabulary:

when it comes to [expression]: as for something; speaking about something

Eg: When it comes to fishing, John is an expert.

intake [n]: an amount of food, air, or another substance taken into the body.

Eg: It all adds up and the excessive food and alcohol intake takes its toll on the body.

sequence [n]: a particular order in which related events, movements, or things follow each other.

Eg: A logical, progressive sequence is followed, in accordance with how I was trained in the Vaganova school.

seldom [adv]: almost never.

Eg: Seldom do we receive any apology when mistakes are made.

calculation (n): a mathematical determination of the size or number of something.

multiply [v]: obtain from (a number) another that contains the first number a specified number of times.

Eg: If you multiply seven by 15 you get 105.

72. PEN OR PENCIL

- When was the last time you bought a pen or pencil?
- Do you usually use a pen or pencil?
- What do you think if someone gives you a pen or a pencil as a gift?

1. When was the last time you bought a pen or pencil?

(Answer) Well, I just bought numerous pencils this morning because I had to take a written examination that required the use of pencils.

(Give a reason for your answer) I bought three pencils in case I may break one or two during the exam. I wanted to feel self-assured. So having extra pencils was the best guarantee I could give for myself and that helped me stop thinking of problems that I might encounter while taking the exam.

2. Do you usually use a pen or pencil?

(Answer) Well, I use a pencil more often as compared to a pen.

(Give a reason for your answer) As a student, I need to jot our lessons down in my notebook. When it comes to note-taking, the pencil is a preferable choice. I have grown accustomed to relying on the pencil to write down things ever since high school and I find it very handy. Strangely, I always outperform others in examinations that require the use of pencils, so they are also my lucky items.

3. What do you think if someone gives you a pen or a pencil as a gift?

(Answer) For me, that's quite a strange present to give someone.

(Give a reason for your answer) Well, I've never tried giving a pen or a pencil as a present to my loved ones or friends. However, if I did receive one, I would be glad and grateful.

Vocabulary from Personality:

self-assured

73. SWEETS

- Do you like to eat sweets?
- Is your liking for sweets same as when you were a child?
- Have you ever tried to make sweets?
- Why do people like sweets?

1. Do you like to eat sweets?

(Answer) Yes, I count myself as having a sweet tooth.

(Give a reason for your answer) I usually have Tiramisu or a croissant for dessert. Bakery shops on the road never fail to capture my attention. It makes my mouth water to think about all the sweets displayed there.

2. Is your liking for sweets same as when you were a child?

(Answer) When I was a child, I used to eat candies and biscuits sparingly. However, the more I grew, the more I was into sweets. Sweets were the one thing that kept me going when things got tough. The handmade ones were, to put it simply, edible happiness, cheaper antidepressants, and a quick way to see the bright side of life if eaten in moderation and provided you have enough self-control.

3. Have you ever tried to make sweets?

(Answer) Honestly, I have not.

(Give a reason for your answer) I have read the recipes for my favourite cakes, but they are by no means simple. However, I would love to try baking cookies or making a mousse in the future.

4. Why do people like sweets?

(Answer) Our bodies are naturally wired to crave sugar for various reasons. When we crave for sugar, we are craving the nutrients that are found in fruit or desserts. The mental craving comes from the serotonin – a neurotransmitter that gives us a sense of well-being, and helps moderate our moods, sleep cycles and our appetite – which is released after we consume sweets.

Vocabulary from Food:

have a sweet tooth

Meaning: enjoy sugary food

Example: My brother has a sweet tooth and I'm afraid that he will become obese.

make your mouth water

Meaning: make you feel very hungry for something

Example: It makes my mouth water just to think about eating beef noodles.

Eg: People doing yoga benefit from an increased feeling of well-being.

moderate [v]: to (cause to) become less in size, strength, or force; to reduce something.

Eg: The president may have to moderate his stance on tax cuts.

74. SCENERY

- Is there any beautiful scenery in your hometown?
- How can you try to live in a house with a good view?
- Do people like to take photos of beautiful scenery?
- Why do people prefer to use mobile phones to take photos of beautiful scenery?

1. Is there any beautiful scenery in your hometown?

(Answer) My hometown is renowned for its breathtaking scenery.

(Give a reason for your answer) It is an area of outstanding natural beauty and for me, one of the most beautiful places on earth. It has everything; historical sites, fantastic beaches, rolling mountains, dense forests and picturesque countryside, extraordinary cuisine and hospitable people. There are also golden palaces, temples, shrines, and an impressive dancing stage, majestic tombs, and ancient meditative landscapes.

2. How can you try to live in a house with a good view?

(Answer) A good location can mean different things to different people, of course, but there are also objective factors that determine a home's value. For me, it is the accessibility, appearance, and amenities of the residential area that are inextricably linked with how good the view of my house is.

3. Do people like to take photos of beautiful scenery?

(Answer) Well, I think most people do.

(Give a reason for your answer) Shooting landscapes forces you to get outside and find the beauty around you. Sometimes this means discovering places right in front of your eyes that you just never noticed were beautiful before. For me, whenever I get out and set up to shoot a landscape scene, I find that my mind is freed of worry and distractions.

4. Why do people prefer to use mobile phones to take photos of beautiful scenery?

(Answer) I think this is a matter of personal choice.

(Give a reason for your answer) Handy gadgets like phones help one to capture the beautiful scenery at any time they want. Then, they can share the photos immediately on social networking sites such as Facebook, Instagram. And when the pictures are stored in your cell phone, it is much easier to see them as compared to a professional camera.

PART 2 & 3

1. Describe a programme or an app that you think is useful

You should say,

- what it is
- how you know it
- how to use it
- And explain why it is useful

(what it is) (how you know it) I always had a tough time buying groceries. After a hard day's work, it was tiring to stand in a long queue at the supermarket and purchase them. I was vigorously looking for alternatives when a friend of mine told me about this prepaid app called “Fresh to Home”. I installed it from the playstore.

(how to use it) After the initial registration, there was an option called “Wallet”. You have to fill your wallet and then place orders. I filled the wallet with a sum of Rs. 500. Then I proceeded to the store to select vegetables. They sell a variety of items ranging from diced banana stem to grated coconut, from bakery products and confectionaries to cosmetics. Also, you can decide the frequency of delivery with the “subscribe” button which will list options like ‘daily’, ‘alternate days’, ‘weekends’ or ‘custom schedule’ where you can custom your own schedule. The only thing to remember is to ensure that your wallet is not empty. You have to place orders before 8:00 PM the previous day to get it delivered at your doorstep the next morning at 6:00 AM.

(And explain why it is useful) It has saved a great deal of time. I'm relieved of the nightmare of waiting in the long queues. Also, their service is excellent. They deliver it on time every day. It is an easy-to-use and friendly app, and I'm thankful to my friend who told me about this.

2. Describe a recent goal you set yourself

You should say,

- what it was
- why you wanted it
- what you did to get your goal
- And explain how you felt about it

(what it was) (why you wanted it) I seldom make new year resolutions because I don't have the determination to make them come true. So I'm usually very far from setting goals. But I did get a demanding situation in my life, where I had to take serious steps. It was my weight gain. Due to lack of physical activity, I gained 5 kgs which I noticed when my clothes did not fit properly. I was not able to put on my favourite dresses, and I became worried. So I decided to work out a plan to get rid of the 5 kgs.

(what you did to get your goal) As a first step, I decided to fight against my sugar cravings. I searched the internet, left, right and centre and found some useful tips from a nutritionist. I learnt that it is because of protein deficiency that a person craves for sweets. So I decided to cut my breakfast and replaced it with a protein smoothie. Then I consulted a physician, who advised me to do yoga. He warned that I could see results, only gradually. I joined a yoga class and stuck to the schedule religiously. Every morning, I got up at 5:00 AM in the morning, because the class was at 5:30 AM. Previously, I used to sleep at ungodly hours when I had to meet my deadlines at work. I focused more on my work and tried to complete the work within office hours. Since I had my yoga classes in the morning, I made it a habit to wake up early. I spent about an hour at the yoga class. The yoga teacher enlightened me on the importance of sleep and also advised me to cut down on my caffeine intake. She advised me to go to bed on time because it was needed for the repair of the muscles. (explain how you felt about it) Surprisingly, I began to get results within a month. The first that improved was the fat on my cheeks. I was not chubby cheeks anymore! I noticed that my body became flexible as a result of yoga. I was confident that I would shed my 5kgs soon, and it did happen after six months. At last, I achieved something, and I was on cloud nine when I got out of the weighing machine at the hospital. I thanked my doctor for his guidance.

(Give a direct answer to the question) Writing helps. (Explain your reason or reasons) When a person puts down his thoughts in writing, he gains more insight into it. As you write, you get more ideas, and later they serve as a reference. At moments of exhaustion, when we feel like giving up, these notes help. They serve as a driving factor.

2. Do Indian people usually set goals?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, a lot of them set goals. (Explain your reason or reasons) Most Indians are very resolute when it comes to achieving what they want. Mostly, goals will be related to the creation of wealth. Indians not only set goals but also work hard until it is materialized. (Give an example) A clear example of this would be the number of Indian students studying abroad. They have set goals for themselves during their period of study here, pursued them seriously, and also were successful in making them come true.

3. What are the kinds of goals that are unrealistic?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Goals that are beyond the person's capability and passion are unrealistic. (Give an example) For example, an average student hailing from a middle-class family cannot dream about getting into a top university without a scholarship. Scholarships are reserved for high performers, and fees would be unaffordable. It will be an unrealistic goal.

4. What is more fulfilling working towards a goal or achieving it?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Both of them equally fulfilling. When working towards a goal, one may encounter a lot of hurdles, and overcoming them builds confidence. The person gets one step closer to the goal. After achieving the goal, it is a sense of accomplishment. The person will become more confident and will be ready to face more challenges.

5. Should parents set goals for their children?

(Give a direct answer to the question) No. (Explain your reason or reasons) Parents should help children achieve their goals. But the goals should be set by their children. (Give an example) For example, if the child has a passion for life Sciences, then his goal would be to become a doctor as a teenager. The parent can help the child by paying the fees. But if the parent has already set a goal that his child should become a marine Engineer and forces the kid to pursue it, then the outcome may not be positive.

You should say,

- what it is
- what it business it does
- how you know about it
- And explain how you feel about it

(what it is) (what business it does) There are many large companies in the world today. One that I'm interested in is "AT&T". "AT&T" stands for "American Telephone and Telegraph Company". It is a pioneer in the field of telecommunications. They have carved a niche for themselves in offering broadband and fixed-line telephone services across the world.

(how you know about it) I got to know about it from my cousin who served in the company for nearly five years. He was always my inspiration, and I want to follow his footsteps.

(Explain how you feel about it) We had discussed many things about the company, which increased my desire to work for it. They have a fantastic work culture and ensure work-life balance. I have witnessed it because my cousin took part in the county tennis matches, while he worked there. I had never seen him complaining about work. Also, I have my own plans for settling abroad and amassing wealth. Since my cousin was able to work for five years, it is obvious that the attrition rate is less. I have a fairly good amount of experience with an Indian division of a Korean telecommunications company. So, I'm sure I will be able to crack the interview with "AT&T". Currently, I'm working on an important assignment upon completion of which, I will apply for "AT&T".

4. Describe an article you read about healthy living

You should say,

- what it was about
- when you read it
- where you read it
- and explain what you learnt from it

(what it was about) (when you read it) (where you read it) I've come across several videos in youtube. I subscribed for many cookery videos last year, and interestingly one of the chefs had an interview with Mrs X, a nutritionist. It was very impressive that I looked for her articles on the internet and found that she had a website called "abc.com". (explain what you learnt from it) I studied the website every nook and corner and found the tips to be very useful. I especially like the way she has categorised the information into "myths", "facts" and "truths". I learnt that if you are craving for something sinful, like sweets and savouries all through the day, you ought to find a healthy alternative and work on analysing why you've got such a craving. I also learnt that not all fats are bad for health. I got to know the difference between trans fat and saturated fat. It was surprising to know that we need some fats like Omega3 and Omega6, and it is too much trans fat that leads to conditions like a heart attack. Also, the website strongly stated that being slim doesn't mean a person is healthy and that we should not judge anyone's health by their weight. There were many such myths and explanations given which clarified many of my doubts on health. I found the website very informative.

(what it was) (where you saw it) My Company had organised a trip to Thekkady in Kerala. On reaching there, we had boating around a river. While we were on the boat, we saw beautiful landscapes, tall trees and the whole area was just splendid. It seemed more like a forest, and suddenly one of my friends started jumping in joy. We turned towards her and were equally surprised to see a tiger roaming in the woods. We were at a safe distance from the bank. So we enjoyed seeing the wild animal without fear.

(what it was doing) (explain why it was interesting) It was around 3:00 PM. I was looking keenly into its eyes. Those powerful ones, capable of nocturnal vision. I've watched the tiger pounce on its prey on the television, but never got a chance to see it live. It roamed hither and thither and seemed to be searching for something. Slowly, it came near the water and then went back to the tall trees. It kept doing the same thing for over three times. Then it sat down on the grass, opening its mouth wide open. The canines were very much visible. The yellow and white stripes on it were glistening. It was such a spectacular sight. Slowly, it got up and moved towards the tall trees and into the woods. As the boat moved further, we lost sight of it.

6. Describe a (school or company) uniform you have worn.

You should say,

- what it was
- how you got it
- what it looked like
- and explain how you felt about it

(what it was) (how you got it) (what it looked like) Uniforms enforce discipline, wherever they are worn. I work for a company, and we don't have any uniforms here. But I did wear uniforms when I was in school. My parents purchased a new set of uniform every year because I grew up very fast. We got it stitched from the tailor in the school. We wore white shirts and white skirts on Mondays. From Tuesday to Thursday, we wore white shirts with grey vertical stripes on it and grey pinafores. On Fridays, we wore coloured shirts and white skirts. The colour depended on the sports group you belonged to. There were four different sports groups called Red Roses, Blues, Green leaves and Violets. I belonged to the Violets and hence wore a violet shirt. We were all given metal badges bearing our school emblem, and we pinned it on our uniforms.

(explain how you felt about it) I had a great sense of pride whenever I wore them. Infact, they distributed first rank badges for those who secured first in class. It was a metal badge painted in red with the letters "FIRST RANK" inscribed on it. I always topped the class. So I wore it along with my school badge. I always wore neat and ironed uniforms, and my teachers appreciated me for it. I was especially fond of Fridays because I loved the violet shirt. I thought It made me look pretty. As I was living in the southern part of India, which had a tropical climate, we did not have separate uniforms for winters.

- when you got it
- who you got it from
- and explain what you did after reading it

(what it was) (when you got it) (who you got it from) This is the era of smartphones. But some people still use messaging services. My aunt is one of them. She is a retired customs officer. She has a daughter who has moved to the US. I was so fond of her from my childhood, mainly because my mum influenced me to think highly of her. Last month, my phone beeped. When I looked at it, it was a message from my aunt. She had typed that since she needed to take a steroid injection for which she will be anaesthetized, she needed someone to help her in the hospital at 3:00 PM, to hold her belongings and to attend to the request of the nurses.

(explain what you did after reading it) I never gave a second thought. I immediately replied saying I'll be there at her home in the next half-an-hour and we could go to the hospital together. I dressed up and rushed to my parking area, picked up my two-wheeler and hurried to her place. I was there by 1:00 PM. She greeted me with herbal tea. She was 70 and seemed a bit worried about the injection procedure. I comforted her, eased her tension, ensured that I would be there all along and would drop her home. I could see that she felt better. I accompanied her to the hospital, and waited until the entire procedure got over. She regained consciousness by 6:00 PM. The doctor immediately discharged her. Then I dropped her home and stayed with her till 9:00 PM and got back home by 10:00 PM. I felt very happy to have got a chance to help her.

8. Describe a successful small company

You should say,

- what this company is
- how you know about it
- what it produces
- and explain why you think this company is successful

(what this company is) (how you know about it) (what it produces) The world has plenty of new ideas. Last week, I received a video from my friend on Whatsapp. The video started with a man placing orders in a hotel and waiting for his meal. His waiting time increased and out of hunger, he started eating the spoons, cups, and plates on the table. Then there was a voice which said that they were meant for edible purposes only. They were edible cutleries, manufactured by two housewives in Bangalore. I became interested in the business and watched the video completely.

(explain why you think this company is successful) The raw materials required for this business are very cheap. They are organic natural ingredients like wheat, jowar, rice powder, millets, grains, pulses and spices. They started making this at home where they made moulds of cups and spoons manually. When they became confident, they started it as a business named "ABC". The manufacturing involves simple processes like preparing the concoctions, moulding by hand and by machines and placing them in an oven. It is a zero-waste, biodegradable, no plastic venture. Even if the person throws it into the environment, it gets dissolved within 40 minutes and gets converted to manure. I think the success of this business is due to the disasters caused by plastic. They have started this business at just the right time when the government has banned the use of plastics and hotels and supermarkets are looking for an alternative.

- and explain why it would be ideal for you.

(where it is) (what it looks like) (what features it would have) Currently, I live in an apartment. But in future, I would like to live in a Villa. There's one coming up near Krater Ram Railway junction, and I'm eyeing on it. From the exterior, it looks like a Spanish bungalow. In the interior, it looks perfectly Indian. Everyone knows that a Villa would have facilities like the swimming pool, mini gym, private spa area, home theatre, games room, mini-garden, tennis court, yoga area and outdoor lounging area. Additionally, I will create space for a reading room.

(explain why it would be ideal for you) I would enjoy the serenity that is inherent in the Villas. I would decorate my garden with rare species from the plant kingdom. In the mornings, I would meditate in the yoga area. In the afternoons, I would relax in the lounge or watch movies in the home theatre. In the evenings, I would play virtual games with the Xbox gaming console. On weekends, I would enjoy a relaxing head massage in the spa. I would be able to live in a world of my own. I would be able to sense and appreciate the tranquility of the space. In the apartment, you would have to approach the association for every silly thing. But I would reign my space in the Villa. As I think of it, I get a feel of an Empress. I guess that's my ideal living space.

VOCABULARY

Villa (noun) - (especially in continental Europe) a large and luxurious country house in its own grounds.

10. Describe a job you would not like to do in the future

You should say,

- what it is
- how it is done
- how you know about it
- and explain why you would not like to do this job.

(what it is) (how it is done) (how you know about it) After completing my Bachelors in India, I moved to the US to pursue my Masters in Computer Science. The scholarship I got was meagre and was just enough for the college fee. I got to know from my professor that there was a vacancy in a medical laboratory nearby. So I took up a job as a medical lab assistant to supplement my expenses. I worked in the evenings. I opted for it because I had no choice. The job involved analysis of samples of body tissue taken from patients, like blood. The key ability required was good eyesight because you have to work on fine samples. I wore spectacles, and as my power increased, I wore thick lenses. (explain why you would not like to do this job) I had to strain myself to do the job. It was very taxing. As I worked on the samples, I was always at the fear of giving a wrong analysis. I never trusted my findings and re-checked them over and over again. This way, I was very slow. I took more time to complete one analysis. It was not a highly paid job, but it did require some skills. Though my analysis was correct most of the time, I did fewer samples in a day than what was expected. I was being supervised by a chinese lady. She always complained that I was not upto the mark. I tried to explain my situation, but she would not listen to it. After a hard day at the university, this job made my life more strenuous. It was a tough and testing time of my life. I was determined not to quit on my own. Somehow, I managed to finish the two years of my Masters. But I would never take up the job of a medical lab assistant.

(Give a direct answer to the question) I think it is tough to generalize. It varies from person to person. (Explain your reason or reasons) There are people who work for money and also people who work for passion. If their goal is money-making, they will be able to bear with a tedious job. If they work for passion, then money does not matter.

2. Which do you prefer, physical work or work involving thinking?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I prefer to think and work rather than doing something which requires manual effort. (Explain your reason or reasons) It is not that I disrespect physical work, but it is just that I won't be the right fit for it. Nowadays, there are hardly any jobs that require physical labour. Everything is automated.

3. How do young people today decide their career?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) I think the younger generation today makes brilliant career choices. They are more mature. There is a lot of material available on the internet. Social media like Facebook and YouTube assist them in their research. So, they don't have to look up to their elders for suggestions. There are also many career advices given in schools and colleges, which helps them decide on the right career path.

4. What factors should be considered when choosing jobs?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) First of all, a person needs to analyze if they have the required skills for the job. Then, the salary package and growth opportunities should be taken into consideration. If a job is chosen based on these factors, there is no need to switch jobs often.

5. Some people will lose their jobs because of technology, how to deal with it?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Everyone must upskill themselves time and again. People should keep themselves updated with the latest changes and observe the trends in their respective jobs. This way, they can remain safe, even if their current technology becomes outdated.

VOCABULARY

Eg: Some computer languages have become outdated.

11. Describe a practical skill you learned

You should say,

- what it was
- how you learned it
- why you learned it
- and explain how you felt about it.

(what it was) I learned to drive.

(how you learned it) (why you learned it) I take a bus to my office every day. My office starts at 10:00 AM in the morning, but I start from home at 8:00 AM. The bus stop is a fifteen-minute walk from my house. After reaching there, I had to wait for a minimum of ten minutes for my bus to arrive. It was a journey of 15 minutes. Upon alighting, I had to walk about 15 minutes to reach my office. This was a very tiring exercise. So I decided to learn to ride a two-wheeler. Though I was scared of the traffic in the city, the dull daily routine of boarding the bus made me stubborn. My determination to ride a two-wheeler increased day by day. I requested my neighbour to teach me to ride. He gladly agreed to it. Initially, I fell down, not being able to bear the weight of the vehicle. After the initial hiccups, he finally succeeded in teaching me how to control the throttle. I was able to drive.

(explain how you felt about it) I felt like I was driving a celestial vehicle. I got used to the roads, its speed breakers, and my balance improved day by day. I developed a sense of pride. My confidence increased. I felt like a new human being altogether. I enjoyed it whenever I finished my ride successfully. It was a sense of accomplishment. As days passed by, I was able to get more balance and was enjoying it even as I was driving. I got rid of my road fears completely. Nowadays, I start from my home at 9:30 AM only. So I have plenty of time to do other things.

1. What age will make it difficult for a person to learn a skill?

(Give a direct answer to the question) In my perception, there is no age limit for learning. (Explain your reason or reasons) Some people read newspapers at the age of 80. Also, it depends on how important that skill is for them. But I agree that under normal conditions, as a person gets older, he or she may develop some health problems that may reduce their capacity to concentrate.

2. Will the age of 5 or 20 be better?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) I feel age five would be better to acquire any skill. (Give an example) For example, I have seen singers and dancers train their kids from the age of 3. They become masters at a very early age of 15. At 5, you are flexible, and your mind is more capable of absorbing things.

3. What is the difference between children learning what they like and learning what they have to learn?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Kids must go to school and get a good grasp of Maths, Science, and Languages. But, when they find it difficult to learn these, the parents have to identify their inborn talent. If allowed to pursue, they may shine in it.

4. Do you like to learn new skills constantly?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, of course. I would love to. (Explain your reason or reasons) I recently learnt how to play the guitar. I also learnt a new computer language called Python. It is refreshing when you learn it and fills you with a sense of accomplishment when you have finished learning it.

12. Describe a road trip you went on

You should say,

- where you went
- who you went with
- what happened on the trip
- And explain how you felt about it

(where you went) (who you went with) One of my friends had bought a new car with a sunroof. We gathered at this place to have a look at it. Suddenly, he volunteered to take all of us to a bird sanctuary located on a mountain. I was a two-hour drive from his place. All of us agreed to the plan. Our plan was to shout out loud by standing on the sunroof. We decided to do this as we moved atop the mountain. I had some fear of heights. But I did agree to the plan.

(what happened on the trip) After about an hour, we reached downhill, had some refreshing tea and headed upwards. Slowly we were going up the mountain. I was able to sense the height. A chill ran down my spine. But it was only a few minutes, and my fears vanished when my friends started talking about the beautiful scenery. As we drove higher up, one of them reminded us of the sunroof. One of them opened it, peeped through it and shouted loudly "Hip Hip Hurray". One after the other tried it. The car was on the move, though. Then came my turn. I thought I better get the guts to try it out. Initially, it was nervous, but when I peeped out through the sunroof, the beautiful flowers and the soft winds changed my mind. I shouted out loud. Then we tried it in groups of three. There were seven of us altogether. One of them was driving.

(explain how you felt about it) I felt great. My fears vanished. It was a memorable experience. Now that I have gained deep insight into a car with a sunroof, I can advise anyone who wants to buy one.

Part 3

1. Why do people need to travel every day?

(Give a direct answer to the question) They travel for several reasons. (Explain your reason or reasons) The majority of people travel for work. Also, some people travel to buy daily needs like dairy, grocery, etc. People also travel to meet their friends and relatives.

2. Some people say that daily journeys like these will not be so common in the future. Do you agree or disagree? Why?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Yes, with the ever-advancing technology, companies are heading towards work from home. You will have official meetings conducted online, and physical presence will no longer be required. So, this will largely reduce the daily journeys people make.

3. Can travel make a positive difference to the economy of a country? How?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, travel can make a positive impact on the economy. (Explain your reason or reasons) Notably, there will be a boom in tourism. When it attracts a large number of tourists, it will slowly create opportunities for foreign settlement areas. This will directly impact the foreign relationships with that country, which improves trade agreements, thereby bringing a positive difference to the country's economy.

4. Is it a good thing that everyone owns cars?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) In advanced countries, everyone owns a car. But it is not good for the environment, and it becomes difficult to regulate traffic as well. Roads become crowded. Besides being a sign of an improved economy of a country, it does not carry any other benefit.

5. Do many families own private cars in your country?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, some families do. (Explain your reason or reasons) But the trend seems to be positive. It is estimated that many families would own private cars soon. Many people have stable jobs in our country, and hence there is a significant improvement in the lifestyle as well.

13. Describe a city you have visited and want to go back to in the future

You should say,

- which city it is
- where it is
- what you did there
- And explain why you want to go back

(which city it is) (where it is) I can say that I have travelled to quite a lot of places. Every summer vacation, we used to go on a trip within India. After I graduated, I moved to the UK and have been to several places here. But there is a sweet haunting city in India, which refuses to move out of my memory. It is Calcutta. Be it patriotism or culture or spirituality; it stands apart. From Rabindranath Tagore to Saurav Ganguly to Satyajit Ray, it has carved a niche for itself in every field. I have visited the city with my parents and friends.

(what you did there) I don't go to Calcutta as a regular tourist. I go with the aim of exploring something, and it turns out to be marvellous expeditions. First time I went there with my parents, my project was exploring Shantiniketan. I was amazed at the concept of open-air learning. I appreciated the fact that a free mind learns better. Later I visited the same city with my friends when I was in college. This time I explored the Missionaries of charity. I got an autograph from the then Superior General.

(explain why you want to go back) It keeps calling me time and again. I have always wondered why. But I'm not able to find an answer to the question. It may be my passion for History that drives me mad to visit this place often.

Part 3

1. What are some of the problems of long-distance travelling?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Whether you are travelling alone by car or train, you tend to get bored after a while. But if you are travelling with a group of people, be it, friends or family, it makes the travel lively. If in a car, you can plan on the kind of music you need to play while travelling. If there are older people in the group, you need to know how to keep the travel engaging so that they forget their health problems and enjoy the trip.

2. Has the way people travel changed over the last few decades?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, it has changed a lot. (Explain your reason or reasons)

The lifestyle of people has improved, and so has the economy of the country. Flight rates have come down, and there are luxury trains and buses introduced. So people travel with better comfort compared to yesteryears.

3. What is the best way to save money while travelling?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) The best way is to research on the internet. You can compare prices between flights, trains, and buses and decide which is the cheapest mode of transport to a particular destination. Also, you need to plan much ahead of travel, so that tickets are available in all modes of transport. Sometimes there may be offers, which may expire if you book tickets at the last moment.

4. What kind of tourist destinations do you usually prefer?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I prefer places with a historical background. (Explain your reason or reasons) I love to explore the work of our ancestors and take a photocopy of all of them. I prefer to go to Konark Sun temple in Odisha, to the jungles in Karnataka, to Rani Gayatri Devi's Palace in Jaipur, TajMahal in Agra, to name a few. All of them have a rich history associated with them. I got to know about these places from books, newspapers, and magazines.

5. Has a foreign visitor ever stayed at your home?

(Give a direct answer to the question) No, not until now. But I look forward to it, and it will be exciting to have a foreign visitor. (Explain your reason or reasons) The main reason would be because of the number of ideas we can exchange. I will guide him/her about places in India and get to know places of special interest in his or her country. It is exciting when I think of it.

Eager (adj) - strongly wanting to do or have something.

Eg: The kids were very eager to receive their gifts.

14. Describe a place you visited that has been affected by pollution.

You should say:

- where it is
- what kind of pollution it has
- what causes pollution
- And explain how you feel about that place

(where it is) A thing of beauty is a joy forever. But it would not be joyful to see the beauty fade in front of your eyes. It so happened to me with the pink city Jaipur in India. It is no more pink. It has turned to some sort of a shade of orange.

(what kind of pollution it has) (what causes pollution) The report published by the World Health Organisation attributes the majority of pollution to the improper channelling of energy from industry and transport sectors, coal-fuelled power plants, desert dust and burning of wastes. The air quality index in Jaipur has come down. The place which was once the abode of English Royals is now strewn with garbage. There are no proper arrangements to sort and dispose of it. There are no strict rules in place for open air emissions. There are no programs to shift to cleaner options for electricity and discontinue the use of coal. The negligence from the government has given the city a pathetic look.

(explain how you feel about that place) I was heartbroken. It did not feel good to see the city in ruins. I was so enraged that I wrote a column in the local newspaper to control the air pollution in Jaipur. I vented out with my friends. I'm hoping that the city will return to its royal pink very soon.

VOCABULARY

Fade (verb) - gradually grow faint and disappear.

Eg: The light faded and there was darkness all over.

Air quality index (phrase) - index for reporting how clean or polluted your air is, and what associated health effects might be a concern for you. For each of these pollutants, EPA has established national air quality standards to protect public health.

Strewn (adj) - untidily scattered

Eg: The place was strewn with dried flowers.

Heartbroken (adj) - suffering from overwhelming distress.

Eg: She was heartbroken on hearing the death news.

Part 3

1. Why do people throw waste materials on roads?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) I think it is due to their laziness and lack of moral responsibility towards safeguarding the environment and the beauty of the city. A large number of people are ignorant about what they are doing to the environment.

2. How can the government encourage people to keep their city clean?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) They can conduct awareness programs. The program must reach all kinds of people in a city. They can make advertisements and as well as circulate videos on YouTube and Facebook. The program should tell the people the current state of the city. Also, it must project how the city will look like in another ten years if they do and don't follow cleanliness standards.

3. What do you think? Is it a good idea or a bad idea to establish limited factories in a city?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) It is a very good idea to restrict the number of factories in a city. (Explain your reason or reasons) As the government is responsible for reducing global warming effects, controlling pollution, and maintaining the air quality index in a place, they should enforce strict rules in place regarding the establishment of factories.

4. What kinds of pollution are serious in your country?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) We have almost all kinds of pollution. Air pollution is due to fuel emissions by vehicles and factories. Water pollution is caused when factories let out their waste products to nearby water bodies.

5. What can individuals do to protect our environment?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) As the literacy rate is increasing, most of them are aware of the disaster caused by plastics. So, they can shift to some environmentally friendly products. Now that the government has officially banned it, people have no choice. But even otherwise, any small effort towards protecting the environment should be voluntarily taken by every individual like not littering on roads and using eco-friendly modes of transport.

VOCABULARY

Moral responsibility (noun) - the status of morally deserving praise, blame, reward, or punishment for an act or omission performed or neglected in accordance with one's moral obligations. Deciding what counts as "morally obligatory" is a principal concern of ethics.

Eg: There are many disasters caused by releasing industrial effluents into water bodies.

15. Describe a crowded place you have been to.

You should say,

- where it was
- when you went there
- why it was crowded
- and explain how you felt about the place.

(where it was) (when you went there) Soon after my graduation, I got a job in Bangalore. I stayed in a hostel in BTM in Bangalore. On the weekend, my friends and I decided to explore Commercial street. We travelled by bus. It was more than an hour's travel from BTM to Commercial street. The street is famous for selling a variety of things ranging from clothing, footwear, jewellery and electronics. I have read about it in the papers but experienced the real crowd that afternoon. I was almost squeezed. I managed to follow my friends, who moved aimlessly. We halted at a food joint to have pani puri. By the time I put the puri on my mouth, I was hit ruthlessly by a stout, tall person. My puri fell on the ground.

(why it was crowded) Later I learnt that the place contained only 75 parking slots for four-wheelers which causes the area to become very crowded, especially on weekends.

(explain how you felt about that place) Since it was afternoon, the street was bustling with activity. It is true that you get to shop on a variety of things, but you have to bear the crowd. It is easy to get lost. One must be careful about one's belongings. I enjoyed it, though. The place was very entertaining. Time just flew. It was hard for us to realise that it was evening. One of my friends was smart enough to find her way through the crowd, and we followed suit.

VOCABULARY

Street (noun) - a public road in a city, town, or village, typically with houses and buildings on one or both sides.

Eg: The streets in his place were very narrow.

16. Describe a school you went to in your childhood

You should say,

- where it was
- What it was like
- What the teachers were like
- and explain how you felt about it.

(where it was) (what it was like) The first thing that strikes you when you talk about childhood is your school. I studied in "ABC Matriculation", Chennai. It was one of the top schools in the area. The school was in CIT Nagar, Chennai, which was a Kerala settlement. The school had a huge square area of concrete road at the entrance with a stage at its end. There were also tall Ashoka trees near the entrance. There were separate buildings for primary and secondary students. (what the teachers were like) Most of the high school teachers were Kerala Christians. For pre-primary classes, we had Anglo-Indian teachers. The Vice-Principal was from Calcutta. Great importance was given to English. The teachers were dedicated to their work. Be it Science or Math or English, the classes were very interesting. The teachers were skilled in their respective fields. Apart from academics, they encouraged students to participate in skits, elocutions and dramas. We also had science exhibitions, once in a year. They created an atmosphere, very conducive to learning. (explain how you felt about it) I feel proud to have studied at ABC. After schooling, when I was thrown out into the world, I realized the importance of English. My teachers were right in emphasizing its importance, from childhood. I feel blessed to have attended this school. I owe all my achievements to my dear teachers.

VOCABULARY

Part 3

1. What is the difference between being taught by teachers and being taught by AI?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) AI or Artificial Intelligence has its advantages. Through AI education is made possible in remote corners of the world. But a teacher has unique qualities that AI cannot replace. Teachers can give individual attention to a student and identify his/her weak and strong areas. But AI will just let the student know if his answer is right or wrong.

2. What's the difference between the present and the past teachers?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) In ancient times, India had the Gurukul system where a student stays in the Gurukula or Ashram as a hosteler without paying any fee but offering services. The Guru was treated with great respect, and they got trained in almost all aspects of life. (Give an example) For example, students would not only be trained in studies but also archery, boxing, etc. But in the present day, schools are money-minded and teachers too. They teach for what they are paid. Students also are not very affectionate towards them.

3. What are the most common types of schools in India?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) In India, there are many types of schools. Most common among them are the CBSE or Central Board of Secondary Education, ICSE or Indian Certificate of Secondary Education, IB or Indian Baccalaureate, and Matriculation systems.

4. Which do you think is more important: primary school education or university education?
(Give a direct answer to the question) Undoubtedly, it is a primary school education. (Explain your reason or reasons) It lays the foundation for a student. A student may or may not be able to pursue University education. But it is mandatory to know how to read and write without errors and know the basic concepts of Mathematics and Science, failing which survival would become very difficult.

5. Do you think young people today are burdened with study?
(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes. (Explain your reason or reasons) But it is because the world is getting very competitive and they need that syllabi to cope with the world. It is true that they are burdened, but there is no choice. They have to go through this to be able to become successful citizens of the world.

VOCABULARY

- how often you go there
- what you do there
- and explain how you feel about this place.

(where it is) Though I prefer to read and write at the comfort of my home, I do have one other interesting place which is the Leeds Garden near my house. I usually go there at twilight when there are none. The garden has got securities operating both at night and day. So It is a safe place. (how often you go there) (what you do there) I go there whenever I get up early. That is the best time to write poetry. I consider poetry to be a sudden outpour of thoughts. I should feel the urge in my hands. Whenever I visit this garden, the little flowers on the wayside seem to whisper something to me. The sweet fragrance of flowers from various trees is inviting. I choose a corner where there is a cemented chair which is surrounded by enchanting Ixora flowers. Mostly, I write poetry. The atmosphere makes me want to write one. Thoughts come one after the other in some order, and I pen them all. Later, when I look at it, I would be amazed at where the words and ideas originated from. Whenever I read a book on which the theme would be set in some English Village, the garden will seem like one. I will get absorbed in the book.

(explain how you feel about this place) I think it is a magical place. It can change your mind. Creativity would pour in. The silence of the place at twilight is something divine and ideal for reading and writing poetry.

Part 3

1. At what age children start reading and writing?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Children start reading and writing at the early age of 3. Some parents begin teaching even before that. Nowadays, playschools start accepting admissions at the age of two. Children are taught craftwork and basic arithmetic skills. Children are often taught with the help of toys, which makes learning fun to them.

2. What is more important, reading, or writing?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Well, I think you must be able to read to write. They are intertwined. The first word a kid writes is what he learnt, probably in their own spellings. Reading improves writing. At a later stage, it is writing that builds confidence.

3. Who needs to have good writing skills?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Almost everyone in the world. (Explain your reason or reasons) Everyone should know how to read and write a letter or compose an email, which is the basis of communication. It is a wrong notion that only poets or people involved in the literary world need writing skills. Writing improves thinking, which results in better expression. Writing paves, the way for better learning.

4. From what can people get more information – words or pictures?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I think it is pictures. (Explain your reason or reasons) People tend to infer more from pictures than from words. But there is a hidden danger with pictures. People can interpret it in their own ways, which would often cause misunderstanding. (Give an example) For example, when looking at modern art, the artist might have created it with some perception, but the person who looks at it may perceive it differently. Whereas writing is precise, and its interpretations cannot vary.

5. Is it the sole responsibility of the school to take care of reading and writing?

(Give a direct answer to the question) It is indeed true that children learn to write and read at school. But parents should take equal responsibility. (Explain your reason or reasons) In fact, it is at home that a child begins to scribble and later moves on to better versions of writing. So, it is the responsibility of parents to take care of the reading and writing of a child. School comes in at a later stage.

Scribble (verb) - write or draw (something) carelessly or hurriedly.

Eg: Tom scribbled the equations in his notebook.

18. Describe an interesting place you remember well that was full of colours.

You should say,

- where it was
- what it was like
- why you went there
- and explain why you remember it well.

(where it was) When I was in second grade, I travelled to Mumbai to meet my cousins. Since I was in second grade, my exams were over by the 10th of March.

(what it was like) (why you went there) We travelled in a first-class train, and I was excited to meet my cousins. On reaching there, I saw floors decorated with rangolis. Later, I learnt that the reason was the fast-approaching Holi. My cousins were living on the 10th floor of a multi storeyed building and had friends all over the place. They made grand preparations. Every time, I went out, I saw people standing in groups and talking about Holi.

At last, the much awaited day arrived. I got dressed up and went out with my cousins. My cousins were being pulled by their friends and sprayed with different colours, and they did not spare me either. They put all sorts of colours on my face, and the whole place turned colourful. The walls contained all the VIBGYOR colours. The floor was filled with colourful sprays. I was not able to figure out anyone because they had colours on their face. The whole earth seemed colourful to me.

(explain why you remember it well) When I returned home, I saw my face in the mirror. My face was red and yellow and violet and blue. My frock, which was a dark green, had been sprayed deep indigo. When I looked out of the balcony, the air was coloured. I felt I was breathing in yellow and breathing out green. I'd never seen anything so colourful as the Holi.

I enjoyed it to the fullest and carried home warm memories of Holi. I remember it till date. I have preserved that green frock which was sprayed with indigo. I didn't allow my mum to wash it. It is still lying in the corner of my wardrobe.

You should say,

- where it is
- what it looks like
- why you went there
- and explain how you felt about this historical building

(where it is) (what it looks like) India has a rich blend of eastern and western constructions. One such source of admiration is the Taj Mahal in Agra. On the exterior, it has rich calligraphy of Persian poems, abstract forms and vegetative motifs. Passages from the Holy Quran are inscribed all over the complex. On the interior, it has exquisite flower carvings and intricate pierce works in marble.

(why you went there) My friends and I got tired of the monotony of life. We wanted some escape from the daily routine. So we planned for a trip to Agra and explored the iconic TajMahal. TajMahal was built by ShahJahan in memory of his wife Mumtaz. It stands as a testimony to the Mughal architecture. We arranged for a guide who told us that materials for construction of TajMahal were bought from across the world. He told us that twenty eight types of precious stones were studded on the white marble and that the total cost of construction was estimated to be thirty two million rupees.

(explain how you felt about this historical building) While I was there, I could not take my eyes off the building. It was a Mahal of love built out of love. It seemed to spread vibes of love all around. I was wondering where they derived the inspiration from. We took a lot of photographs in the evening and I treasure them all. On our way back to the hotel, I purchased a tiny plastic doll of TajMahal which I have placed in my reading room.

20. Describe a friend who is a good leader

You should say,

- who this person is
- how you know them
- how they behaved
- and explain why you think they are a good leader

(who this person is) (how you know them) Some people are born influential. They have a knack of dealing with people. I believe it is inborn. Of course, there are classes conducted to inculcate leadership qualities, but not everybody becomes one. My friend in school, Susan had some special qualities, and I always admired her. We became friends from sixth grade. Her parents worked for the Central Government and were deputed to the southern part of India. So, she joined our school.'

(how they behaved) She was exceptional. She was very sincere in her studies and was also very good at tennis and kho kho. Infact, she was the captain of the kho kho team. She was very helpful and was always ready to lend her notebooks when someone who was on leave asked for them. When students struggling in math approached her, she would gladly help. She never lied. She also helped the teachers carry the pile of notebooks to the staff room. She was appointed as the leader of the class. We became thick friends and are in touch till date.

(explain why you think they are a good leader) If someone could become a leader of a class in sixth grade, they could definitely become the school pupil leader in twelfth grade, and she did become one, but in another school. She could motivate people and get things done from them. She was a doer with a positive attitude. If someone could be a leader of a school, I believe that they can definitely climb the leadership ladder in any field that they choose.

- how you know this person
- what this person taught you
- and explain why you thought this was important.

(who this person is) (how you know this person) (what this person taught you) I have learnt something from every person I have met. One such interesting thing I learnt from my college mate Lakshmi is to draw mehndi designs. Though it seems simple, you have to work hard to learn the art of drawing minute designs on a human hand with a cone. There may be other perceptions, but I think it is one of the most important things I learnt.

(explain why you thought this was important) It was my cousin's wedding. She had arranged for a beautician to help her and others with decoration. The wedding was in Dubai. We planned to reach there early in the morning. But due to flight delays, we reached only at 8:00 AM. The beautician was busy draping the wedding saree to my cousin and did not even look at me. I waited. But after draping the saree, she began adjusting the makeup for my cousin. She never got satisfied. She did it over and over again. Time was running out. My cousin seemed to be in a world of her own. Nobody bothered to help me. So I began decorating on my own. I started drawing my own mehndi, which I learnt from Lakshmi. I put on some simple Arabic designs. It came out well. At the wedding, everyone appreciated me for my mehndi. Infact, my cousin's mum apologised to me for the behaviour of the beautician and gave me special gifts as well.

Part 3

1. How should new workers perform in their first jobs?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Be it any industry, new workers should work hard. They must be patient enough to learn the skills. They must be punctual. Nowadays, companies have smart cards to detect how many hours a person spends inside the premises. New workers should ensure that they don't default in all these areas. They should also be diligent in their work. Over a period of time, these qualities will help them to succeed.

2. How can workers improve their work performance?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Workers must continuously upskill themselves. They must attend various training sessions related to their field. For example, a computer software professional must use the training and seminars that his/her Company offers. This will also help him/her to understand where they stand in terms of their technology. If there are any updates in their current technology, they must be aware of them.

3. What jobs are well paid in India?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) IT sectors and investment banks pay well. Nurses and teachers also receive a good pay package. Jobs that involve creativity, like designing and advertising, are also paid well. The marketing sector is also booming nowadays. So, there are chances that they might pay well.

4. What jobs are poorly paid in your country?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) People who live on daily wages are not paid well. This includes people working in quarries, janitors, plumbers, electricians, workers who handle human waste, or sewage.

5. If someone is bored with their job, is it easy for them to change to a different job?

(Give a direct answer to the question) (Explain your reason or reasons) Absolutely, yes. (Explain your reason or reasons) There are so many opportunities nowadays. Also, there are a lot of companies. Especially, people in the IT sector switch jobs often. (Give an example) For example, my friend, who was working on Java for five years in a company, got bored with it. So, she learnt a new update in her technology called Spring boot. Later she moved to an IT division of an investment bank and is quite happy to be there.

VOCABULARY

Eg: The manager was keen to encourage creativity.

Wages (noun) - a fixed regular payment earned for work or services, typically paid on a daily or weekly basis.

Eg: The workers did not receive wages for the day.

Update (noun) - an act of updating something or someone or an updated version of something.

Eg: There was a new update on the recently published tax rates.

24. Describe a performance you watched recently

You should say:

- What it was and when you watched it
- Who you were with?
- And explain why you watched it

(What it was a when you watched it)

Well, when it comes to watching live performances or music shows, the very experience that springs to my mind is the play 'Romeo & Juliet' by William Shakespeare that I enjoyed at the city theatre three years ago. Romeo and Juliet is a play written by William Shakespeare. The setting is in Italy and is about the love between two young people from noble families that are enemies. "Romeo and Juliet" has always been one of Shakespeare's most popular plays. It has also been adapted to opera, ballet, television productions, and movies.

(Who you were with)

I watched this play with my closest friend, Jennie. At that time, we were studying for a Masters Degree in London in the same university, and when we heard that a team would come to London to perform "Romeo and Juliet", we planned to watch it without hesitation. It was quite cumbersome to book the tickets as the play was so popular, but we managed eventually.

(And explain why you watched it)

Several factors made this play a worth-watching theatrical performance. The professional acting, captivating dialogues, intense romantic tale, wrenching separation and the tragic twist of the tale made the play unforgettable. The costumes of the performers were just the way they should be. Their dresses, stage, music, their makeup, their accent, and the passionate acting created the illusion of the real Romeo-Juliet era. The production and acting were superb and worthy of commendation. I still remember a news article which acclaimed the actors, and actresses of the London team for their professionalism.

Vocabulary from Books and Films:

the setting

Meaning: where the action takes place

Example: It's a historical novel and the setting was a fictional town called Casterbridge.

PART 3: WATCHING PERFORMANCE

1. What's the difference between watching the performance live and watching it on TV? (Give a direct answer to the question) In my opinion, attending a live performance and watching a TV broadcast are two completely different ways of fun. (Give an example (often a personal example)) As we all know; live exhibitions and events are festive occasions. Think about the claps, cheers, hoots, hollering, laughter and song along with a live performance which is absent when watched on a TV set. It creates a recreational aura whereby people forget the hurdles of life and upheave their morals. In other words, these occasions are best suited for extroverts, social people, who enjoy the crowd.

2. Which do you prefer: traditional performance or concert?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, a concert would be my choice. (Explain your reason or reasons) Seeing your favourite band, artist or DJ is such a life-changing and exhilarating experience. (Give an example (often a personal example)) If you've ever been to a concert, you'll know the sense of togetherness you get from the rest of the crowd. Out of a huge crowd, every single fan is there for the same reason, and when the crowd erupts for the artist or a favourite song, it's a sense of community you won't get anywhere else.

3. Should the government provide financial support to promote traditional performance? (Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, I reckon so. (Explain your reason or reasons) The gradual decline of traditional performances is at the expense of national culture. Therefore, the government should give financial incentives to traditional artists to preserve the diversity of traditional forms of entertainment.

4. Is learning drama or dancing helpful for children?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, it is (Explain your reason or reasons) Art instruction helps children with the development of motor skills, musical talent, language skills, social skills, decision-making, risk-taking, and inventiveness. Besides, art education connects students with their own culture as well as with the wider world.

Eg: We need to preserve our liberties as free citizens.

25 .Describe something you bought but difficult to use at first

You should say:

- What it was
- Where you bought it
- How you used it successfully and how you felt about it

(What it was)

I'm going to describe an item I bought but confronted a lot of difficulties in using at first, because of certain reasons. It was a Macbook Air 2018, which I set aside a lot of money to purchase for my 20th birthday. For a student like me, the price of such a high-end product was quite exorbitant. However, everything from the chassis to the user interface was beautifully designed on a Mac, so I think it was well worth the money.

(Where you bought it)

It was months ago when I visited the FPT shop and chose this laptop by myself. I remember being on cloud nine when bringing it from the store to my room. At that time, I was quite overwhelmed by the size and product variety of the store, and I wished that I could be a billionaire to buy everything there. For computer buffs, the place would truly be heaven.

(How you used it successfully and how you felt about it)

Excited as I was to possess such an item, I found myself experiencing certain discomfort to familiarize myself with the Mac system. The keyboard shortcuts are completely different from that of Windows. It's easy to learn Command-C instead of Control-C, but it took me quite a while to figure out there was a shortcut for deleting a file. At that time, my work was considerably hindered, and my productivity was also affected. I remember doing a thorough search about the differences between the two systems and practised using the new laptop regularly with great determination. Over time, I grew accustomed to using Mac and made use of it a great deal, so I feel a sense of accomplishment whenever I recall this experience.

Vocabulary from Technology:

a computer buff:

Meaning: an expert computer user

Example: I wouldn't call myself a techie or a computer buff but I enjoy using computers.

Other vocabulary:

hinder [v]: to limit the ability of someone to do something, or to limit the development of something.

Eg: High winds have hindered firefighters in their efforts to put out the blaze.

familiarize [v]: give (someone) knowledge or understanding of something.

Eg: To familiarize yourself with something is to learn about it or become comfortable with it.

thorough [adj]: detailed and careful.

Eg: They did a thorough search of the area but found nothing.

(be)/ grow accustomed to [expression]: familiar with something.

Eg: She quickly became accustomed to his messy ways.

PART 3: PRODUCTS

1. What kinds of products do young people think are useful but older people may not?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, young people are often attracted to innovative gadgets, while older people often find them unnecessary. (Explain your reason or reasons) As I see it, most seniors find using technological devices an arduous task. Many products and services are not appropriate to the needs of older users, exacerbating the sense of frustration and leading to a dependence on other people (Give an example (often a personal example)) For example, my grandmother often turns to my sister and me for help with her smartphones, because she is not familiar with the keyboards.

2. Do you think product instructions are useful for users to use products better?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, I think they are. (Explain your reason or reasons) The instruction manual is one of the most important sets of details provided to the customer. Its sole purpose is to ensure the customers uses the product properly. Clear artwork should be provided to the supplier at the time of the purchase order.

3. What do you usually do if you don't know how to use the things you have bought?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I would try to figure out how to use it instead of leaving it behind. (Explain your reason or reasons) Normally, I would do a thorough search about the item and practice using it with great determination. Of course, I have experienced certain discomforts with complicated products, but in most cases, I managed to familiarize myself with them.

4. Do you think it is necessary to produce many new products nowadays?

(Give a direct answer to the question) It is quite necessary nowadays. (Explain your reason or reasons) Regarding economic merits, customers now can enjoy inexpensive purchases of diverse types of goods, which is particularly favourable for households with limited financial backgrounds. Also, the availability of more low-priced products offers consumers more spending choices and boosts overall consumption.

Vocabulary from Technology:

gadget

Meaning: a technological tool like a mobile phone or camera

Example: Such a gadget would help you considerably in studying.

Other vocabulary:

arduous [adj]: difficult, needing a lot of effort and energy.

Eg: In those days, a trip to the West was an arduous journey.

exacerbate [v]: to make something that is already bad even worse

Eg: This attack will exacerbate the already tense relations between the two communities.

properly [adv]: correctly, or in a satisfactory way.

Eg: I'm not properly dressed for this kind of weather.

thorough [adj]: detailed and careful.

Eg: They did a thorough search of the area but found nothing.

Eg: You may feel a little discomfort for a few days after the operation.

familiarize [v]: give (someone) knowledge or understanding of something.

Eg: To familiarize yourself with something is to learn about it or become comfortable with it.

favourable [adj]: to the advantage of someone or something.

Eg: Old, mature fig trees can grow at least 40 feet tall in favorable climates.

background [n]: the conditions that existed before a particular event happened, and that help to explain why it happened.

Eg: These decisions have had to be made against a background of high unemployment.

26. Describe a difficult challenge you met

You should say:

- What it was
- When you met it
- Where you met it
- And explain why you think it is a challenge

(What it was)

Today I'm going to describe a challenge I confronted recently. I usually go out for a walk in the evening every day and sometimes play some outdoor games. Still, the outdoor activity that I did for the first time last month was mountain climbing which was of another level of difficulty.

(When you met it and where you met it)

At that time, after completing the arduous end-of-term examination, I was invited by a friend to go climbing on a mountain. He'd been doing it for about six months, and I had asked him about it once as I was curious whether mountain climbing requires a lot of stamina. At that time, I wanted to get away from it all and preferred going somewhere off the beaten track. I accepted his request without hesitation and even bought some suitable clothes for this activity. It was great fun. Although I was a little scared at first, apprehensive, to be exact, my special instructor was experienced, and I started practising on the ground and very low on the wall to gain confidence. However, the reality did not seem that easy, as the route to reach the mountain peak was in twists and turns. We almost felt the terminal point was approaching, but it was endless. I got a little exhausted and had to lean against a tree. My friend encouraged me to hold on, take a deep breath and only think about the mountain peak to continue to climb.

(And explain why you think it is a challenge)

Well, first of all, it was a wholly new and somehow adventurous experience for me. Climbing a mountain is as similar as overcoming each obstacle in your life. When I reached the top of the mountain, I felt a great sense of refreshment and my mind was momentarily away from all burdens and other distractions. Though undeniably exciting, mountain climbing requires a level of advanced preparation and physical fitness that few other activities can equal. I have gained more confidence after conquering such a demanding challenge.

Vocabulary from Holiday:

to get away from it all:

Meaning: to take a holiday to escape a busy or stressful lifestyle

Example: How can I get away from it all and just simply relax at the end of the day?

off the beaten track:

Meaning: in or into an isolated place

Example: The farmhouse we stayed in was completely off the beaten track.

Other vocabulary:

confront [v]: to face, meet, or deal with a difficult situation or person.

Eg: It's an issue we'll have to confront at some point, no matter how unpleasant it is.

arduous [adj]: difficult, needing a lot of effort and energy.

Eg: Domestic work remained especially arduous since, even in the 1970s, a large part of rural housing lacked basic amenities.

stamina [n]: the physical and/or mental strength to do something that might be difficult and will take a long time.

Eg: The triathlon is a great test of stamina.

without hesitation [expression]: if you say that someone does something without hesitation, you are emphasizing that they do it immediately and willingly.

Eg: The great majority of players would, of course, sign the contract without hesitation.

apprehensive [adj]: feeling worried about something that you are going to do or that is going to happen.

Eg: I'm very apprehensive about tomorrow's meeting.

Eg: Minh is trying to find a place for rest and refreshment.

distraction (n): something that prevents someone from giving their attention to something else:

Eg: You can turn the television off if you find it a distraction.

equal [v]: to achieve the same standard or level as someone else, or the same standard or level as you did before.

Eg: We raised over $500 for charity last year and we're hoping to equal that this year.

PART 3: CHALLENGES

1. Do you think parents should give kids challenges?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, I do think so, and the reasons are manifold. (Explain your reason or reasons) Young people must be pushed by their parents to be the best they can be, in whatever pursuit they take part in (Give an example (often a personal example)) Challenges and cut-throat competition prepare children for the real world. If you want a good job or a good salary, you have to compete with others.

2. What challenges do you think children might have to face up to? What is the most challenging thing for kids?

(Give a direct answer to the question) There are many difficulties youngsters are presented nowadays. (Explain your reason or reasons) For me, they are under intense pressure to find a productive place within society – either within the mainstream education system or satisfactory employment. The emphasis on acquiring accomplishments, status and wealth at a young age is by no means easy for them.

3. Can parents reduce the challenges that kids have? Why?

(Give a direct answer to the question) They should, to a certain extent. (Explain your reason or reasons) They should adequately ensure that their children, foremost, have fun, which will encourage them to stay interested and motivated in the achievement activity. Otherwise, by providing their children with challenges in which they are overmatched, parents may be inadvertently inhibiting, rather than facilitating, their interest, achievement, and enjoyment in the activity.

Vocabulary from Business:

cut throat competition

Meaning: intense competition

Example: Entering the national football team is a cut throat competition for all.

Other vocabulary:

manifold [adj]: many and of several different types.

Eg: Despite her manifold faults, she was a strong leader.

Eg: Getting the two leaders to sign a peace treaty was his greatest accomplishment.

by no means [expression]: not at all.

Eg: It is by no means certain that we'll finish the project by June.

properly [adv]: correctly, or in a satisfactory way.

Eg: I'm not properly dressed for this kind of weather.

inadvertently [n]: without intention; accidentally.

Eg: His name had been inadvertently omitted from the list.

27. Describe an interesting animal you have ever seen

You should say:

- What it was
- Where you saw it
- What it did
- And why you think it was interesting

(What it was)

I'm going to talk about an occasion on which I got to see elephants. I have had the chance to see a lot of animals with my naked eyes, but the most intriguing one for me are intelligent elephants. Elephants are mammals as well as herbivores, meaning they only eat plants rather than meat. Elephants are the largest land animals on earth, and they're one of the most unique-looking animals, too. With their characteristic long noses, or trunks; large, floppy ears; and wide, thick legs, there is no other animal with a similar physique.

(Where you saw it)

It was last summer when my whole family had a trip to Ho Chi Minh City, and we decided to visit the city's renowned zoo, Thao Cam Vien. It was ranked eighth among the oldest zoos in the world. It is 132 years old. It is the house to rare orchids, ornamental plants and hundreds of species of mammals, reptiles and birds. The main aim of Thao Cam Vien is to conserve animals and plants, especially endangered species and educate the public. One way to protect these species is by using breeding programs.

(What it did)

I got the chance to see a group of elephants swimming, which is entirely unexpected for me as I didn't know that they have this ability. Elephants move all four legs to swim and can move quite fast. Their giant bodies provide enough flotation while the trunk acts as a snorkel. From my observation, baby elephants enjoy playing in the water. They will often try to climb on the backs of older and bigger elephants and then splash back into the water. Calves will suck water into their trunks and spray at each other playfully.

(And why you think it was interesting)

Elephants feature many characteristics that are similar to humans. Apart from their gigantic bodies, they also boast extraordinary memories. Besides, they are recognized as being among the most intelligent creatures on earth. Elephants are capable of a range of emotions, including joy, playfulness, grief and mourning. Also, elephants can learn new facts and behaviours, mimic sounds that they hear, self-medicate, play with a sense of humour, perform artistic activities, use tools and display compassion and self-awareness.

Vocabulary from Environment:

endangered species

Meaning: categories of animals or plants that are in danger of becoming extinct

Example: Many tourists expressed their concern about the increasing rate of endangered species in this zoo.

Other vocabulary:

with one's naked eyes [expression]: without using any special device for making images larger.

Eg: We live miles away, but on a clear night, you can see the city skyscrapers with the naked eye.

herbivores [n]: an animal that eats only plants.

Eg: Cows and sheep are herbivores.

physique [n]: the form, size, and development of a person's body.

Eg: By 1540, Henry had become fat and he had lost the muscular physique he had when he was younger.

ornamental [adj]: beautiful rather than useful.

Eg: The handles on each side of the box are purely ornamental conserve [v]: protect (something, especially an environmentally or culturally important place or thing) from harm or destruction.

snorkel[n]: a short-curved tube for a swimmer to breathe through while keeping the face under water.

Eg: But yesterday he donned his snorkel and flippers to defend his title as World Champion Bog Snorkeller.

gigantic [adj]: of very great size or extent; huge or enormous.

Eg: The hunt for a house has been a gigantic part of my life for the last year so I'm bound to feel as if there's something missing.

grief [v]: deep sorrow, especially that caused by someone's death.

Eg: Grief over a traumatic death does not follow an accepted timeline.

mimic [v]: imitate (someone or their actions or words), typically in order to entertain or ridicule.

Eg: I've just mimicked him all my life, so he was a herpetologist, one who studies reptiles.

compassion [n]: sympathetic pity and concern for the sufferings or misfortunes of others.

Eg: After supping her fill of horrors, her capacity to feel compassion was deeply affected.

PART 3: ANIMALS

1. How do you like taking care of animals?

(Give a direct answer to the question) To me, taking care of animals is an arduous task. Besides providing all the necessary things, like food, water, shelter and safety, you also need to provide quality health care for them. I am not an animal lover. I get frightened by different kinds of animals due to my experiences with them, and the only kind that I feel comfortable to be with are birds.

(Give an example (often a personal example)) I admire them for their beautiful voices and the unique ability to fly.

2. What kinds of pets are most popular in Vietnam?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Vietnamese people love their pets, especially dogs. They appreciate dogs for the company and the loyalty they provide. You could find a dog, a cat or a cow being owned by a Vietnamese family. It is not for any monetary reasons but because they like being surrounded by animals and taking great care of them. Animals do bring a certain amount of happiness and togetherness in a family. (Explain the opposite or alternative) Fishes are another common pets in Vietnam even though they don't do much for their owners. Besides, some foreigners are surprised to know that birds and reptiles are preferred by many Vietnamese.

3. What are some of the advantages and disadvantages of having a pet?

(Give a direct answer to the question) On the one hand, having domesticated animals at home is interesting. Some people decide to own pets because they need a companion at home. Playing with pets is a kind of refreshment. (Explain the opposite or alternative) On the other hand, the disadvantages of having pets relate mostly to the responsibility of caring for them. Pet owners must discharge their duties responsibly by feeding these animals with proper food, exercising them and ensuring they get medical treatment, as well as the required yearly vaccination.

Vocabulary:

arduous [adj]: involving or requiring strenuous effort; difficult and tiring.

Eg: Before becoming a Mass server one had to learn the Latin responses and this was a long and arduous task.

shelter [n]: a place giving temporary protection from bad weather or danger.

Eg: A year after the earthquake that devastated Gujarat, local people still live in tents or temporary shelters.

particular [adj]: special, or this and not any other.

Eg: In the light of recent incidents, we are asking our customers to take particular care of their personal belongings.

appreciate [v]: to recognize how good someone or something is and to value him, her, or it.

Eg: There's no point buying him expensive wines - he doesn't appreciate them.

Eg: She said that she wanted to die surrounded by the people she loves togetherness [n]: the pleasant feeling of being united with other people in friendship and understanding.

Eg: War had given to the community a greater sense of togetherness.

reptile [n]: an animal that produces eggs and uses the heat of the sun to keep its blood warm.

Eg: Reptiles are cold-blooded animals – they need the sun to stay warm.

domesticated [adj]: (of an animal) tame and kept as a pet or on a farm.

Eg: However, milk-producing ruminant animals were domesticated about 10,000 years ago, according to archaeological evidence.

refreshment [n]: the fact of making somebody feel stronger or less tired or hot.

Eg: Minh is trying to find a place for rest and refreshment.

vaccination [n]: the process or an act of giving someone a vaccine (= a substance put into a person's body to prevent them getting a disease).

Eg: All the children were given two vaccinations against measles.

28. Describe a family member who you spend the most time with

You should say:

- Who is this person?
- What kind of person he /she is?
- What do you usually do together?
- And explain why you spend the most time with him/her?

(Who this person is)

I feel blessed to have a great family which made unparalleled contributions to help me go ahead. Among them, my father's impact is the most meaningful, and I treasure our quality time together.

(What kind of person he /she is?)

He is the person whom I love most in this world, and I consider him to be a perfect father and husband with his upbeat disposition, resourcefulness and responsibility. My father is an exemplary person who has led an honest life. As a high-ranking government officer, he has had many chances to pile up the riches, but he always stood by the truth and never broke the rules.

(What do you usually do together?)

From my childhood, he has dedicated much time to raising me with great care, affection and mentorship. When I was young, he taught me moral lessons about the world, inspirational people and values and also the necessary skills. No matter how preoccupied with work, he always tried to give wholehearted support to my education, especially with my activities at school. When we were together, he frequently discussed plans for the future and encouraged me to challenge myself to step out of my comfort zones.

(And explain why you spend the most time with him/her?)

As a father, I would say he has done everything possible to raise my sister and me. He spent his entire life catering to our interests and demands. The basics of humanity and the importance of education were the values he delivered to me. We get on very well with each other, and I enjoy his company. Our times together have always been insightful and full of joy.

Vocabulary from Relationship:

to get on well with

Meaning: to understand someone and enjoy similar interests insightful [adj]: having or showing an accurate and deep understanding; perceptive.:سâu sắc

Eg: This is a very thoughtful, insightful analysis.

PART 3: FAMILY

1. What are the benefits of younger and older generations living together? How about the drawbacks?

(Give a direct answer to the question) In terms of the advantages, we can see that the presence of older family members will ease the burden of raising kids. (Explain your reason or reasons) In large families, there are more connections and interactions between family members. Besides, grandparents could also teach valuable lessons and essential manners to their children. (Give an example (often a personal example)) However, there exist some generation gaps when three generations live together, which sometimes increases the tension between family members. Nowadays, as life is becoming increasingly modernized, especially in hectic cities, only parents and children can live together.

2. Which do you prefer, support from family members or friends? Why?

(Give a direct answer to the question) My family. (Explain your reason or reasons) You can have many friends, but your family members are irreplaceable. Friends can come and go at different stages of your life like secondary school, high school, university, but it is your family who never abandons you no matter what happens. (Explain the opposite or alternative) Yet, your friends' support is a crucial factor that leads to your personal growth. (Give an example (often a personal example)) From my experience, good friends are especially important during times of crisis and turbulence. When I find myself going through a hard time, my closest friend never failed to cheer me up and sailed me through both emotional and academic setbacks.

Vocabulary:

burden [n]: a duty that causes worry, difficulty or hard work.

Eg: I don't want to become a burden to my family when I'm old.

valuable [adj]: very useful or important.

Eg: The book provides valuable information on recent trends.

tension [n]: a situation when people do not trust each other, or feel unfriendly towards each other.

Eg: There is mounting tension in the company.

Eg: There is a political situation that hinders economic growth.

modernize [v]: to make something more modern and more suitable for use at the present time.

Eg: The factory is investing more money to modernize its facilities.

hectic [adj]: very busy, full of activity.

Eg: Ho Chi Minh is a very hectic city.

irreplaceable [adj]: cannot be replaced.

Eg: Her position in his heart is irreplaceable.

abandon [v]: to leave somebody, especially somebody you are responsible for.

Eg: The baby had been abandoned by its heartless mother.

turbulence [n]: a state of confusion without any order.

Eg: The era was characterized by political and cultural turbulence.

setback [n]: something that happens that delays or prevents a process from developing.

Eg: There has been a slight/temporary setback in our plans.

29. Describe a crowded place you have been to

You should say:

- When you went there
- With who you went there
- Why you went there
- And how you felt about it

(When you went there)

Most often, crowded places are public venues that attract a large number of people. Megacities like New York, Beijing, and Tokyo are known for being exceptionally crowded. Photos of massive crowds of people depict these cities' residents doing everything from walking down the street to marching in parades and even sitting in traffic. My experience at a crowded place was in one of these cities, Tokyo.

(With who you went there)

Last month, my family decided to choose Tokyo as our holiday destination. Tokyo is Japan's capital and the world's most populous metropolis. Today, Tokyo has become one of the world's most active cities, home to cutting-edge technology, information, culture, and fashion, as well as a high level of public safety.

(Why you went there)

Visiting Tokyo has always been one of my biggest travel dreams. It is a modern, fast-paced city that still embraces its traditional roots. Even though the city is large, there's a sense of cleanliness and order about Tokyo that makes it extremely accessible to visitors.

(And how you felt about it)

There are many things to talk about the once in a lifetime experience in Tokyo. Perhaps best of all is its structure: lacking a clearly marked centre, it's made up of a patchwork of different neighbourhoods, each distinct in identity and atmosphere. "Animated" is perhaps the best word to describe Tokyo. The most crowded place must be Shibuya crossing, the biggest and busiest crossing in Tokyo, where sometimes 1000 or more people cross the intersection at once. My family also experienced Tokyo's crowded trains during rush hour, and the commotion was so bothersome. Apart from its overwhelming number of people, I have nothing to complain about this city. Indeed, I am particularly impressed with the civility and orderliness of the people in Tokyo.

Part 3

PART 3: CROWDED PLACE

1. Do people like to go to crowded places? Why?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, I think most modern people like crowded places and the reasons are manifold. (Explain your reason or reasons) Practically, vibrant young people prefer sharing their activities with the crowd and take it as a collective enjoyment. (Explain the opposite or alternative) In contrast to young people who like adventure & loudness, older people value their privacy and their time by themselves.

2. How can the problem of traffic congestion be solved?

(Give a direct answer to the question) On the one hand, adequate investment in road improvements might help reduce chaotic traffic congestion in cities significantly (Explain the opposite or alternative). Besides, implementing rail and subway systems could guarantee that traffic congestion is adequately addressed. (Explain your reason or reasons) Trains do not have to go through intersections and traffic lights, and dedicated lines ensure their travel is hardly interrupted.

3. Why do people still like to live in big cities even though there are severe traffic jams? (Give a direct answer to the question)

Apparently, for many city dwellers, living in the city is increasingly accessible and offers plenty of opportunities. (Explain your reason or reasons) Inarguably, when living in major cities, one will be presented with better career prospects. For example, for those working in urban areas with more qualifications, job positions in multinational companies would be more approachable.

4. What public facilities does your city have?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, my city offers a wide range of public facilities for its residents. (Explain your reason or reasons) Thanks to the governmental financial investment for improvements in systems of public transport, like bus or underground services; our daily travel has been greatly facilitated.

Vocabulary from Town and City:

public transport

Meaning: public vehicles such as buses and trains that operate at regular times on a fixed route.

Example: This city offers an excellent system of public transport.

Other vocabulary:

manifold [adj]: many and of several different types.

Eg: Despite her manifold faults, she was a strong leader.

vibrant [adj]: full of energy and enthusiasm.

Eg: The director says that he has always been inspired by the vibrant energy of the youth and the charm of campuses.

collective [adj]: of or shared by every member of a group of people.

Eg: It was a collective decision/effort.

privacy [n]: the state of being alone.

Eg: I hate sharing a bedroom - I never get any privacy.

chaotic [adj]: in a state of complete confusion and lack of order.

Eg: The traffic in the city is chaotic in the rush hour.

implement [v]: to start using a plan or system.

Eg: The changes to the national health system will be implemented next year.

properly [adv]: correctly, or in a satisfactory way.

Eg: I'm not properly dressed for this kind of weather.

intersection [n]: a point or line common to lines or surfaces that intersect.

Eg: If you remember back to an economics class you might have taken, much time was spent on the intersection of lines in those graphs.

approachable [adj]: (of a place) able to be reached from a particular direction or by a particular means.

Eg: The headland it was built on forms a natural stronghold with the sea on three sides and is only approachable from the north.

facility [n]: something such as a place, building, or equipment used for a particular purpose or activity.

Eg: His facility for memorizing dates was astonishing.

30. Describe a time when someone apologized to you

You should say:

- When it was
- Who this person is
- Why he or she apologized to you
- How you felt about it

(When it was and who this person is)

Apologizing is a part of good manners, and I believe that it helps to alleviate many bothersome situations happening in everyday life. In several events, others have apologized to me but the apology from my closest friend, Linh, was the most significant to me. It happened a few months ago, when my father presented me with two movie tickets, as an incentive for achieving full scores in the English exam. The compelling trailer of this movie captured my attention right away, and I knew that I should enjoy it with my best friend. Unhesitatingly, I decided to invite Linh, and we quickly made an appointment for the cinema before 6 pm.

(Why he or she apologized to you)

As scheduled previously, Linh was supposed to show up at the cinema at 5:30, but somehow she did not. I did give her so many rings, but she did not answer them. I kept waiting until 6 pm but in vain. In the heat of the moment, I lost my temper and furiously left her a message, saying how disappointed I was with her and asked whether she respected our relationship. A day later, Linh sent a heartfelt apology to me. She explained that on that day, her younger brother was disturbed by a severe eating disorder, and she had to take care of him at the hospital. Because the incident was so sudden and unexpected, she was too nervous about taking the phone with her and was unable to contact me. Linh hoped that I could understand and sympathize with her.

(How you felt about it)

Honestly, I felt a little guilty for being too aggressive while knowing nothing about her situation. From this incident, I also understand that everything happens for a reason. We should not jump to a conclusion without careful consideration. Besides, sincere apologies are indeed an indication of respect for the relationship.

Vocabulary from Personality:

to lose one's temper:

Meaning: to suddenly become angry

Example: You should not lose your temper in situations like that.

Other vocabulary:

pacify [v]: to make somebody who is angry or upset become calm and quiet.

Eg: The speech was designed to pacify the irate crowd.

bothersome [adj]: special, good or unusual and therefore worth remembering or easy to remember.

Eg: This is a truly memorable occasion for all people involved.

incentive [n]: something that encourages you to do something.

Eg: In my country, there is literally no incentive for people to save fuel.

give somebody a ring [expression]: phone somebody.

Eg: Minh promised to give me a ring as soon as he came home.

in the heat of the moment [expression]: be in the moment of strong feelings, especially of anger or excitement.

Eg: In the heat of the moment, Linda forgot what she wanted to say to her mother.

furiously [adv]: in an angry way.

Eg: All the architects worked furiously during the week, complaining that their wages were unsatisfactory.

heartfelt [adj]: showing strong feelings that are sincere.

Eg: In the ceremony, the director expressed heartfelt gratitude to all the employees, who worked diligently on the project.

sympathize with [v]: to feel sorry for somebody; to show that you understand and feel sorry about somebody's problem .

Eg: The reporter sympathized with the victim, because she herself has undergone such similar unhappy experiences.

jump to a conclusion [expression]: to make a decision about something/ somebody too quickly, before you know or have thought about all the facts.

Eg: The police neglectfully overlooked the situation and jumped to the conclusion that he was guilty.

indication [n]: a remark or sign that shows that something is happening or what somebody is thinking or feeling.

Eg: Obviously, there are indications that the economy of this nation is improving.

PART 3: APOLOGIZE

1. On what occasion do people usually apologize to others?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, sometimes people apologize when realizing that they may have hurt another individual (i.e., physically, emotionally, mentally) by accident.

A sincere apology allows you to let people know you're not proud of what you did, and won't be repeating the behaviour. (Give an example (often a personal example)) For example, whenever I lose my temper and misbehave, I send an apology to them.

2. Do people in your country like to say "sorry"?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, not very often (Explain your reason or reasons) I assume it's not a part of our culture. (Give an example (often a personal example)) From my experience, Japanese people are more inclined to say sorry. Apologizing is built into the Japanese language. Japanese people have it in their blood; they apologize all the time, even when it's not their fault. It's almost like a reflex, but it's not, because I could see the emotion in my Japanese friends' eyes every time they apologized to me. They do it even if they touch you by mistake or have their back turned at you without being willing to.

3. Do you think people should apologize for anything wrong they do?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, I do. (Explain your reason or reasons) If something you've done has caused pain for another person, it's a good idea to apologize, even if your action was unintentional. This is because apologizing opens up the doors to communication, which allows you to reconnect with the person who was hurt. In these ways, being adept at apologizing when appropriate can bring the benefits that come with stronger relationships, reduced conflict, and forgiveness—it's well worth the effort.

Vocabulary from Personality:

to lose one's temper:

Meaning: to suddenly become angry

Example: You should not lose your temper in situations like that.

Other vocabulary:

inappropriately [adv]: in a way that is unsuitable, or wrong in a particular situation.

Eg: There is nothing to suggest the attorney acted inappropriately in the case.

(be) inclined to [adj]: likely or wanting to do something.

Eg: No one seemed inclined to help.

reflex [n]: a physical reaction to something that you cannot control.

Eg: I'm sorry I punched him; it was a reflex action/response.

unintentional [adj]: not done on purpose.:

Eg: There's an unintentional feeling of sadness in Woody Allen's latest comedy.

adept [adj]: having a natural ability to do something that needs skill.

Eg: She's very adept at dealing with the media.

worth the effort [expression]: If you say that something is worth the effort, you mean that it will justify the energy that you have spent or will spend on it.

Eg: Fortunately, the chore of leaf sweeping is well worth the effort.

31. Describe an important journey that has been delayed

You should say:

- When it was
- Why it was important
- How it was delayed
- And how you felt about it

(When it was)

Today, I'm going to describe an important journey that was delayed. It was a trip organized to Bach Ma national park for all students in my high school three years ago. It was done to raise students' awareness of the importance of protecting the environment.

(Why it was important)

The reason why it was of great importance was that the educational trip was a beneficial way for a student to acquire knowledge and experience. When notified about the trip, our class searched a lot of information about the park. We were enthralled to see pictures of several thousand trees, faunas and floras, hills, lakes etc. of this place. Our biology teacher used to tell us that the national park boasted a lot of endangered species. Through the trip, we would be able to learn more about the importance of forests, the necessity and our responsibility to alleviate environmental problems, making the world a better place for all the species and not just for humans only.

(How it was delayed)

Against our expectations, the weather that day was so horrible that the headmaster decided to delay this journey for the sake of students' safety. This situation was so unexpected because I clearly remember that the weather of the day before was perfect with a mild temperature. However, the unexpectedly unfavourable weather eventually hindered our plan.

(And how you felt about it)

My friends and I were quite pissed off. To me, the whole trip promised to be enlightening and truly practical, which would offer students a getaway from daily heavy schoolwork. However, our school rearranged the trip for the students, and we managed to get to the park two months later, which was an unforgettable experience for all of us.

Vocabulary from Environment:

endangered species

Meaning: categories of animals or plants that are in danger of becoming extinct

Example: Many tourists expressed their concern about the increasing rate of endangered species in this zoo.

Other vocabulary:

with a view to [expression]: with an intention to do something.

Eg: The politician reveals the truth with a view to gaining more faith from the public.

(be) enthralled by something [adj]: be attracted to something that is so interesting, beautiful.

Eg: The child watched, completely enthralled by bright moving images.

(to) boast [v]: have something that is impressive and that you can be proud of.

Eg: The hotel also boasts two swimming pools and a golf course.

alleviate [n]: to make something bad such as pain or problems less severe.

Eg: The drugs did nothing to alleviate her pain/suffering.

for the sake of [expression]: in order to help or bring advantage to someone.

Eg: He moved to the seaside for the sake of his health.

unfavourable [adj]: not tending to help; not likely to lead to a positive result.

Eg: Unfavourable weather conditions this morning caused a postponement of the launch of the space shuttle.

hinder [v]: to limit the ability of someone to do something, or to limit the development of something:

Eg: High winds have hindered firefighters in their efforts to put out the blaze.

(be) pissed off [adj]: very annoyed; angry.

Eg: He'd kept me waiting for an hour so I was pissed off to start with.

enlightening [adj]: giving somebody information so that they understand something better.

Eg: The lecture was so enlightening that all the students loved it.

getaway [n]: an escape from something.

Eg: If you aspire to a getaway from the harshness of life, this place is a suitable one.

PART 3: TRANSPORTATION

1. Will people still drive a car if public transportation is free of charge?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, probably. (Give an example (often a personal example)) Free public transport would reduce the number of cars on the road. Global warming is a serious issue, and if public transport was free, more people would use it, taking cars off the road and substantially cutting down CO2 emissions. With more users, inadequate public transport networks would be improved by the government, to make it increasingly approachable. It's a worthwhile incentive.

2. How can transportation in rural areas be developed?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Reliable transportation is needed for rural residents to access healthcare services, consumer services, employment and educational opportunities, and social services. It is also important for accessing recreation and other activities of daily life. (Explain your reason or reasons) Therefore, the long-term investment in an efficient and affordable system of transportation would lay the foundation for economic growth in rural areas and help ensure that people can obtain services and participate in public life.

3. How often do people usually travel?

(Give a direct answer to the question) People travel quite often nowadays. (Explain your reason or reasons) The presence of modern technology and low-cost air travel has eased much of the burden associated with travelling. Since we now have access to more tools and infrastructure, the transportation system, as well as travel, have been improved. For example, roads are better, broader and more accessible; therefore, the need to travel has increased rapidly.

4. In what ways can the traffic conditions in a city be improved?

(Give a direct answer to the question) For me, upgrading rail and subway systems in cities could address traffic congestion. (Explain your reason or reasons) Unlike cars and buses, trains are capable of transporting hundreds of people simultaneously and thus would meet the transport demand of a vast number of passengers. Trains do not have to go through intersections and traffic lights, and dedicated lines ensure their travel is hardly interrupted.

Vocabulary from Town and City:

public transport

Meaning: public vehicles such as buses and trains that operate at regular times on fixed routes.

Example: This city offers an excellent system of public transport.

Vocabulary from the environment:

to cut down on emissions

Meaning: to reduce the amount of gases sent out into the air

Example: People must be made aware of the need to cut down on emissions from their cars if we are to reduce air pollution.

global warming

Meaning: the process by which the Earth is getting hotter, as a result of the greenhouse effect

Example: Perhaps the major environmental challenge which faces humanity today is global warming, because it threatens our survival.

Other vocabulary:

approachable [adj]: (of a place) able to be reached from a particular direction or by a particular means.

Eg: The headland it was built on forms a natural stronghold with the sea on three sides and is only approachable from the north.

incentive [n]: something that encourages you to do something.

Eg: In my country, there is literally no incentive for people to save fuel.

long-term [adj]: that will last or have an effect over a long period of time.

Eg: At the moment, long-term investment in education would favour the overall development of this nation.

lay the foundation for something [expression]: set, start a principle, an idea or a fact that something is based on and that it grows from.

Eg: Respect and friendship lay a solid foundation for marriage.

burden [n]: a duty that causes worry, difficulty or hard work.

Eg: I don't want to become a burden to my family when I'm old.

intersection [n]: a point or line common to lines or surfaces that intersect.

Eg: If you remember back to an economics class you might have taken, much time was spent on the intersection of lines in those graphs.

32. Describe a change that can improve your local area

You should say:

- What is it
- How it can be made
- What benefit it will bring
- And how you feel about it

(What it is)

I'm going to describe a change that can improve my local area, which is the construction of a new giant building in the city centre. It would be a complex of shopping malls, hotels and offices. For a small area like my city, the advent of a modern, state-of-the-art shopping mall would be an undoubtedly favourable development. It would consist mainly of changes related to social, economic, as well as functional and spatial spheres.

(How it can be made)

Well, I think it is the local authorities' responsibility to initiate such a large-scale project. The construction of this building would require a professional architectural firm, a team of subcontractors, a knowledgeable contractor, and a cooperative developer/owner to get the job done in a reasonable time frame.

(What benefit it will bring)

Many benefits follow such a development for a small area. First, this complex would incorporate ample parking in its design and construction. This would make it advantageous for people who choose to shop there instead of a single store. With a broader range of goods and services, the overall consumer spending would be strongly stimulated, which favours the provincial economy. The centre would also allow foreign visitors to purchase goods with greater diversity, as compared to other supermarkets in the past.

(And how you felt about it)

Such an improvement would exert a long-term influence on the lives of local people in many aspects, such as the economy, tourism. As a part of the city, I feel excited about this progressive turn, and I believe the building would enhance people's living standards as a whole. Most importantly, the success of this building would lay the very foundation for other large-scale investments in my city.

Vocabulary from Town and City:

shopping malls

Meaning: large indoor shopping centres

Example: There are many shopping malls in the city centre.

Other vocabulary:

favourable [adj]: to the advantage of somebody/something

Eg: The speaker announced the favorable establishment of a new college.

spatial [adj]: of or relating to space

Eg: The exhibition has great spatial sense.

initiate [v]: to make something begin

Eg: The government has initiated a program of economic reform.

incorporate [v]: include/ take something in as a form:

Eg: The building incorporates a lot of state-of-the-art facilities.

consumer spending [expression]: the spending of consumer:

Eg: Consumer spending this year has increased exponentially.

stimulate [v]: to make something develop or become more active; to encourage something:

Eg: The article can be used to stimulate discussion among students.

long-term [adj]: that will last or have an effect over a long period of time:

Eg: At the moment, long-term investment in education would favour the overall development of this nation.

progressive [adj]: happening or developing steadily:

Eg: There is a progressive reduction in the size of the workforce.

large-scale [adj]: involving many people or things, especially over a wide area.

Eg: This building is a large-scale development for our nation.

lay the foundation for something [expression]: set, start a principle, an idea or a fact that something is based on and that it grows from.

Eg: Respect and friendship lay a solid foundation for marriage.

PART 3: COMMUNITY

1. Why are people living in a community, friendly with others?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, it is quite easy to understand the importance of living in a community (Explain your reason or reasons) Being a part of a community can make us feel as though we are a part of something greater than ourselves. It can give us opportunities to connect with people, to reach for our goals, and make us feel safe and secure. (Give an example (often a personal example)) In the age where technology connects and separates us, a friendly residential area can greatly benefit our well-being and can increase our contentment in day-to-day life.

2. Do people like living in a community?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I think the majority do. (Explain your reason or reasons) It seems that our sense of self-worth and well-being is inextricably linked to the feeling that we are part of a group. This sense of belonging allows us to feel acknowledged and recognized for who we truly are. This sense of belonging is very much part and parcel of being a member of an intentional community. Through sharing our experiences daily, we can also enjoy mutually supportive relationships that can be more trusting than usual.

3. Why do people in a community usually have a social gathering?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, the organization of a social gathering would be in the interest of the people involved. (Explain your reason or reasons) Social gatherings develop social skills and empathy—the outward-oriented dimensions of emotional intelligence. Participating in social events enables individuals to meet people who can help them academically or professionally. Relationship-building is a good habit that students need to learn because the world of work requires aptitude in negotiation, communication and networking.

Vocabulary from Town and City:

residential area

Meaning: an area where people live

Example: I live in a residential area of a busy town in the south of Spain

Other vocabulary:

contentment [n]: a state of happiness and satisfaction.

Eg: Reddy was an avid reader and got many hours of contentment and enjoyment from books and newspapers.

inextricably [adv]: in a way that is unable to be separated, released, or escaped from.

Eg: The Louis Armstrong legend is inextricably linked with his recordings.

part and parcel [expression]: to be a feature of something, especially a feature that cannot be avoided.

Eg: Being recognized in the street is part and parcel of being a celebrity.

supportive [adj]: showing agreement and giving encouragement.

Eg: Children with supportive parents often do better at school than those without.

in the interest of [expression]: if you do something in the interests of a particular result or situation, you do it in order to achieve that result or maintain that situation:.

Eg: A call for all businessmen to work together is in the interests of national stability.

aptitude [n]: a natural ability or skill.

Eg: We will take your personal aptitudes and abilities into account.

negotiation [n]: the process of discussing something with someone in order to reach an agreement with them, or the discussions themselves.

Eg: The agreement was reached after a series of difficult negotiations.

33. Describe an occasion when weather prevented your activity

You should say:

- When it was
- Why it prevented your activity
- What you did
- And how you felt about it

(When it was)

I'm going to tell you an experience that happened last summer when I was going to hike on a faraway mountain. However, the unexpectedly unfavorable weather eventually hindered my plan. It was a balmy day with a mild temperature, perfect conditions for an adventurous activity like hiking. After having breakfast, I checked my backpack, made sure I was wearing my most comfortable shoes and took the bus to the foothills.

(Why it prevented your activity)

However, when I reached there, the sun disappeared, and the temperature changed vastly. The wind had picked up, with dark clouds rolling across the sky. This was no doubt an indication of heavy rain or worse, a big storm. From my previous experience, I knew right away that it is by no means an easy task to hike by myself in such conditions, as the mountain road I chose was full of twists and turns.

(What you did)

Demotivated as I felt, I had to cancel the hiking plans for the sake of my safety. However, on the way back, I found a hot spring resort by the road, which I had never been to before. I decided to treat myself to a service there to make up for the failed plan.

(And how you felt about it)

Of course, I was utterly disappointed initially because I had been planning this hike for a long time. Yet, the spring resort experience was beautiful. After two hours there, all my tiredness was gone, and I felt refreshed. Though bathing was not my first choice of the day, it turned out to be fulfilling.

Vocabulary from Holiday:

heavy rain

Meaning: intense rainfall

Example: Many tourists have their flights delayed due to the heavy rain.

Other vocabulary:

hinder [v]: to limit the ability of someone to do something, or to limit the development of something balmy [adj]: (of the weather) pleasantly warm.

Eg: The exhibition was held in the balmy days of late summer.

adventurous [adj]: exciting and often dangerous.

Eg: Instead of staying in the hotel all the time, we wanted to go out and be adventurous.

vastly [adv]: very much.

Eg: Assessing the larger numbers of women suffering severe maternal morbidity would vastly increase their workload.

indication [n]: a remark or sign that shows that something is happening or what somebody is thinking or feeling:

Eg: Obviously, there are indications that the economy of this nation is improving.

by no means [expression]: not at all

Eg: It is by no means certain that we'll finish the project by June.

twist and turns [expression]: curves and frequent changes of direction

Eg: The road through the mountains has many twists and turns.

demotivate [v]: to make someone less enthusiastic about something

Eg: She was very demotivated by being told she had little chance of being promoted.

utterly [adv]: completely or extremely

Eg: She was utterly devastated when her husband died.

refreshment [n]: the fact of making somebody feel stronger or less tired or hot.

Eg: Minh is trying to find a place for rest and refreshment.

PART 3: WEATHER

1. Does weather have any impact on people's daily activities?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, of course. (Explain your reason or reasons) Weather affects people's everyday lives by governing choices they make about what clothes to wear, how to travel, and the activities in which they participate. Weather also affects the moods of many people.

(Give an example (often a personal example)) In areas where distinct seasons exist, such as snowstorms, can cancel school, meaning parents may have to scramble for childcare, and students get a day off from school.

Winter can also make commutes to work a nuisance, if not dangerous.

2. Why do people do different kinds of sports in different weather?

(Give a direct answer to the question) This is a way of adaptation for me. (Explain your reason or reasons) The effects of weather on sport are varied, with some events being unable to occur. While outdoor sports are most affected, those played indoors can still be impacted by unfavourable weather conditions.

3. What kind of weather do Vietnamese people like?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I'm afraid there is no definite answer to this question, but it may probably be the sunny, mild weather in spring. (Explain your reason or reasons) The temperature is neither bitterly cold nor unbearably hot, so people in Vietnam tend to go on a picnic or take a brisk walk in the park. This is when families get together, so I believe that people feel happier with this kind of weather.

4. Do Vietnamese people talk about the weather when they meet for the first time?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Not at all. (Explain your reason or reasons) This is the tradition of British people. The real reason people in Britain like to talk about the weather is that they are quite socially inept. Besides, the weather makes a particularly good topic of conversation because it is so variable. This is not the case in Vietnam.

Vocabulary from Sports:

a brisk walk:

Meaning: a fast walk

Example: You should take a brisk walk to relax yourself.

Other vocabulary:

govern [v]: conduct the policy, actions, and affairs of (a state, organization, or people)

Eg: The Netherlands is a unitary state governed by a central body.

distinct [adj]: recognizably different in nature from something else of a similar type.

Eg: Whilst distinct in terms of research focus, the two projects were theoretically and methodologically similar.

nuisance [n]: a person, thing, or circumstance causing inconvenience or annoyance:

Eg: In return, they don't secede or otherwise make a nuisance of themselves.

unfavourable [adj]: not likely to lead to a positive result.

Eg: Unfavorable weather conditions this morning caused a postponement of the launch of the space shuttle.

bitterly [adv]: bitterly cold = extremely and unpleasantly cold.

Eg: The winter in Canada last year was bitterly cold.

unbearably [n]: in a way that is too painful or unpleasant for you to continue to experience.

Eg: The sun was almost unbearably hot today.

period [n]: the length of time that something lasts.

Eg: He planned a stay of a two year period .

inept [adj]: having or showing no skill; clumsy.

Eg: Consecutive governments have insisted on a completely inept policy of open immigration.

variable [adj]: not consistent or having a fixed pattern; liable to change.

Eg: Even the music, which, whilst variable in quality, has some genuinely affecting moments, ultimately seems insubstantial.

34. Describe a time you couldn't use the mobile phone

You should say:

- When it was and where it was
- Why you could not use your mobile phone
- How you felt about it

(When it was and where it was)

I'm going to describe a time when I didn't use the mobile phone. Well, I was not allowed to use it. During our math lessons in 12th grade in high school, the teacher decided to ban mobile phones, considering its adverse impacts on students' performance. At first, she wasn't set in her ways to impose such a strict rule. However, on second thoughts, she believed that banning mobile phones would benefit all the students.

(Why you could not use your mobile phone)

Our teacher was convinced that such a gadget would always generate distractions among students, discouraging their learning spirit. Indeed, this was the case for many. In my class, those who owned a mobile phone could hardly pay full attention as they were constantly checking their phones for messages and the like. As a result, our teachers found it problematic and disturbing when students were using phones in their class, and we ended up not being able to bring cellphones to school at all. If anyone needed to call their parents, they could use the telephone in the supervisor's room.

(How you felt about it)

Honestly, at that time, the price of mobile phones was beyond my means; therefore, only the rich could afford them. This rule exerted no effects on me or my studying. Still, many of my friends felt irritated because they had grown accustomed to performing calculations with a cell phone instead of a calculator.

Vocabulary from Technology:

gadget

Meaning: a technological tool like a mobile phone or camera

Example: Such a gadget would help you considerably in studying.

Other vocabulary:

adverse [adj]: preventing success or development; harmful; unfavorable.

Eg: Of course, there is also the adverse publicity that could dog them for years to come.

set in one's ways [expression]: to do the same things every day and to not want to change those habits.

Eg: As people get older, they often become set in their ways.

on second thoughts [expression]: used when you want to change a decision you have made:

Eg: Can I have a cup of coffee, please? - actually, on second thoughts, I'll have a beer.

in the interest of [expression]: to the advantage or advancement of distraction (n): something that prevents someone from giving their attention to something else:

Eg: You can turn the television off if you find it a distraction.

accordingly [adv]: in a way that suits the situation:

Eg: They accordingly stressed that the unqualified trust in reason could dangerously erode this relationship.

worrisome (adj): worrying.

Eg: Alcohol and tobacco consumption by young people is especially worrisome because habits formed early are likely to persist.

beyond one's means (expression): Too costly for one, more than one can afford.

Eg: A second vacation this year is well beyond our means.

(be)/ grow accustomed to [expression]: familiar with something.

Eg: She quickly became accustomed to his messy ways.

calculation (n): a mathematical determination of the size or number of something.

Eg: A calculation is a deliberate process that transforms one or more inputs into one or more results, with variable change.

PART 3: PHONES

1. Do you think it is necessary to have laws on the use of mobile phones?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, this issue is quite complicated. (Explain your reason or reasons) From my perspective, cell phone usage should be restricted in public places. For example, it would be rude to answer your phone in a restaurant and talk to the other person because it would interrupt other peoples' dates or dinners or get-togethers. Or in places like the library, theatre, and especially in class while listening to a lecture, it can be very disruptive when someone next to you starts using his/her cell phone.

2. How do you like children having mobile phones?

(Give a direct answer to the question) I disapprove of this, as having a cellphone would affect their academic performances. (Explain your reason or reasons) Such a gadget would continuously generate great distractions among students during class and discourage their learning spirit. Indeed, this has been the case for many. (Give an example) When I was in secondary school, those who owned a mobile phone could hardly pay full attention as they were constantly checking their phones for messages and the like. As a result, our teachers found it problematic and disturbing when students were using phones in their class, and we ended up not being able to bring cellphones to school at all.

3. At what age should children have mobile phones?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Those above the age of 16 can probably have mobile phones (Explain your reason or reasons) Children below the age of sixteen should not be given mobile phones since their brain is too sensitive to withstand the effects of mobile radiation. Under the absorption of radiation, children can have adverse health issues. Adults are also affected by the radiation, but it will be more consequential in children because of the increased absorption of these radiation levels.

Vocabulary from Technology:

gadget

Meaning: a technological tool like a mobile phone or camera

Example: Such a gadget would help you considerably in studying.

Other vocabulary:

for the sake of [expression]: in order to help or bring advantage to someone.

Eg: If you do something for the sake of something, you do it for that purpose or in order to achieve that result.

distraction (n): something that prevents someone from giving their attention to something else:

Eg: You can turn the television off if you find it a distraction.

accordingly [adv]: in a way that suits the situation:

Eg: They accordingly stressed that the unqualified trust in reason could dangerously erode this relationship.

in the interest of [expression]: to the advantage or advancement of

Eg: New students may be accommodated in halls of residence in the interest of the school.

adverse [adj]: preventing success or development; harmful; unfavorable withstand [v]: remain undamaged or unaffected by; resist.

Eg: Of course, there is also the adverse publicity that could dog them for years to come.

Eg: The structure had been designed to withstand winds of more than 100 mph

35. Describe an ideal house or apartment you would like to live in the future

You should say:

- What it is like
- Where it is
- When you want to live there
- And explain why it is ideal for you

(What it is like)

Now, I would like to share with you a bit about a house that I wish to live in. The walls will be painted in white, which will make my house look a lot brighter and reduce the absorption of heat. Also, the doors will be made of glass because there is nothing more elegant than glass. I follow the minimalism of the Japanese, and I am lazy, so there will be nothing much inside my house apart from a kitchen, creamy lights, and some necessities. Paintings or complicated furniture will not find a place in my house.

(Where it is)

I've dreamt of having a big detached house with spacious rooms in the resort city of Danang since it was crowned the most livable city in Vietnam. It has won this title for five years, leaving far behind its rivals such as Vung Tau, which is my hometown, and Ho Chi Minh city, which is the wealthiest city in Vietnam. Danang is such a stunning coastal city with magnificent views of the sea and the mountains. It's natural and modern at the same time, which is why I would love to live there.

(When you want to live there)

I would love to live in this house when I graduate from university and have a stable job. Only then, will I be able to leave Ho Chi Minh city for Da Nang because I have to finish my degree at a university in Ho Chi Minh city.

(And explain why it is ideal to you)

This house will be located in the city of Danang, which is a coastal city with beautiful beaches and mountains. The house will be built in deference to Japanese minimalism. Also, I'm a couch potato who does not want to spend time on tidying up the house too frequently.

Vocabulary from accommodation:

Detached house (n): a house that is not physically connected to another property

Example: Prices are rising so fast that people can't afford detached houses.

Spacious room (n): a large room

Example: a spacious house/living room

To be crowned (v): to invest with regal dignity and power.

Example: Queen Elizabeth II was crowned (queen) in 1953. (= made queen in a special ceremony)

To leave someone far behind (n): you go away permanently from them.

Example: Three years later, the company had left all its close rivals far behind.

Absorption (n): the process by which one thing absorbs or is absorbed by another.

Example: Some poisonous gases can enter the body by absorption through the skin.

In deference to something (phrase): out of respect for; in consideration of.

Example: She covered her head in deference to Muslim custom.

Couch potato (n): a person who takes little or no exercise and watches a lot of television.

Example: A couch potato is a person who watches a lot of television and does not have an active life

PART 3

1. Where do people in Vietnam like to live, in a house or an apartment?

People in Vietnam prefer private houses due to the overwhelming part of the population dwelling in private houses. However, an increasing number of citizens, especially in cities, choose to live in apartments as a result of the population explosion, which has triggered a substantial rise in the prices of private houses.

2. What are the benefits of living in a house?

The first benefit of living in a house is that one can get a clearer sense of privacy as they do not face as much neighbour-driven trouble as those living in apartments. Also, it is worth highlighting the extent to which citizens living in their own houses can save money usually spent on different areas such as security or public area cleaning services.

3. Why do many people like to live in the city?

The answer is more than simple - convenience. Not only can people enjoy more convenience in terms of shopping and services, but they can also have the chance to send their children to elite schools. Viewed from another perspective, those who prefer a hectic life tend to live in the city as it offers them enough hustle and bustle.

4. Where do people like to live: in the city centre or the suburbs?

Many people want to live in the city centre. This can be clearly seen in the case of Ho Chi Minh city. People tend to live close to District 1 and District 3 as a majority of companies and offices are based here. Most people live in District 2 and District 7.

Vocabulary:

To give preference to something (phrase): to treat someone or something better than someone or something else

Example: The city gives preference to job applicants who live there.

To dwell (v): live in or at a specified place.

Example: She dwelt in remote parts of Asia for many years.

To feel a/an + adj + sense of something (phrase): A feeling or display of relief that something particularly stressful, unpleasant, or undesirable has been avoided or completed.

Example: He felt a deep sense of relief after the phone call cost-driven: Cost-driven business models focus on minimizing costs wherever possible.

Example: The company's policies are essentially cost-driven.

Elite: a select group that is superior in terms of ability or qualities to the rest of a group or society.

Example: Ha Noi – Amsterdam and Le Hong Phong are two of the elite schools in Vietnam.

Hectic (adj): full of incessant or frantic activity.

Example: The area has become a haven for people tired of the hectic pace of city life.

Hustle and bustle (idiom): A large amount of activity and work, usually in a noisy surrounding.

Example: I love the hustle and bustle of the marketplace.

36. Describe a successful small company that you know

You should say

- What it is
- How you knew about it
- How it became successful
- And explain how you felt about it

(what it is)

The term entrepreneur has been all the rage recently as thousands of successful start-ups deliver motivational speeches to inspire entrepreneurship. Among different kinds of start-ups, Trinh homestay, located in the Mekong Delta, has emerged as one of the most successful ones in the prime age of tourism in Vietnam.

(how you knew about it)

AirBnB, an app which supports homestays has succeeded in running marketing campaigns and offering lots of deals for both customers and homeowners; it is regarded as an ideal alternative to traditional hotels, which will cost customers an arm and a leg. Facebook and Instagram have been flooded with thousands of posts about AirBnB services and some months ago, I stumbled on Trinh homestay.

(how it became successful)

An article on CNN cast a spotlight on Trinh homestay, helping her homestay gain independence from AirBnB. First, Trinh homestay was just like millions of other homestays on AirBnB; however, Trinh's creativity and ardour for the Vietnamese culture lifted her first homestay out of AirBnB as Trinh homestay expanded. Trinh has built many homestays in other provinces in the Mekong Delta.

(and explain how you felt about it)

I believe that Trinh homestay, albeit operated on a small scale, should be an exemplifier of the importance of creativity as well as well-equipped with the knowledge of the local culture. Also, her success can be attributed to the fact that she alone has built a small niche business that caters for culture enthusiasts and ran her business on her own during the first days of Trinh Homestay. Other homestays in Vietnam should follow this model, creating an atmosphere that represents the local region's culture right in the place where tourists stay.

Part 3

1. Which do you prefer, family firms or non-family ones?

I prefer non-family businesses because they tend to be more organised. Meanwhile, family firms are significantly less professional as employees in this kind of business are not trained in a standard way.

2. What are the important factors in making a company successful?

The critical factor which springs to my mind is the human resource. While it's undeniable that technology plays an integral role in delivering success to a company, it is the human resource that has control over technology and operates it.

3. What kinds of qualities should a successful business person have?

Common sense, of course. This is a quality which everyone should have, not only successful businessmen. Moreover, a successful business person should also be able to formulate visionary policies and strategies.

4. What emerging industries do you know?

To the best of my knowledge, some emerging industries are tourism and beauty. Vietnam's tourism industry has been expanding at a double-digit rate, at least 10% for the past five years. Meanwhile, the beauty industry is also growing very fast as the consumption of cosmetics is growing 5% per year.

Vocabulary from business:

Entrepreneur (n): An entrepreneur is an individual who creates a new business, bearing most of the risks and enjoying most of the rewards.

Example: He's an entrepreneur who made his money in computer software.

To run business (phrase): to operate, to direct, to oversee, to manage (a business, a company)

Example: He runs a dry cleaning business.

37. Describe a place you remember well that full of colour

You should say

- Where it is
- What it is like
- What it is used for
- And explain why you remember it well.

(Where it is):

During my trip to Singapore last year, I had an opportunity to visit the Singapore Botanic Gardens, which was a place filled with different colours. The gardens are located quite far away from tourist traps, but very accessible by bus.

(What it is like):

Being the biggest botanic garden in Singapore, covering more than 74,000 square meters, it showcases Singapore's biggest collection of flowers comprising hundreds of species with a wide variety of colours, such as red, yellow, orange, pink, or even blue, and their shades. The national flower of Singapore, which is the orchid, can be found easily in this garden. Moreover, the park's entrance is also naturally decorated with colourful flowers.

(What it is used for):

The Botanic garden is an ideal spot not only for foreign visitors but also for Singapore citizens to immerse themselves in natural beauty and get away from it all after hardworking days. You can easily see hordes of tourists going sightseeing or leisure activities conducted at this place, especially on the weekends.

And explain why you remember it well

Well, I think the primary reason why the memories about this place are still vivid in my mind is that it was the first time I have ever witnessed such a wide variety of colourful flowers in my life. The moment I entered the garden, I was utterly blown away by its beauty. It was a once in a lifetime experience. I hope that I will have opportunities to revisit this garden.

Part 3 questions:

1. Is colour important for clothing?

Yes, I do think that colours play a vital role in clothes since it decides how we appear to other people. Sometimes the colours of your outfits even express your feelings. For example, when I'm not in a good mood, I will choose a black outfit.

2. Should the course books be colourful?

Absolutely. I believe that course books should be lively to help in the effective transmission of knowledge to readers. Using illustrations aids in learning and may be more effective than just describing something. For example, kids are usually in favour of books with colourful pictures rather than those with only words. If coursebooks include colourful contents, they are more likely to sell faster than other ones.

VOCABULARY FROM HOLIDAY:

Tourist trap

Meaning: somewhere where too many tourists go

Example: There are a lot of people visiting Hoi An Ancient Town these days, which makes this town become a tourist trap.

38. Describe a time you do not tell your friend the truth

You should say

- What happened
- Why you did not tell the truth
- Who you did not tell the truth to
- And explain how you feel about it

(What happened):

Well, I have to say that I am not used to telling lies. I'm not perfect, and indeed, no one is. During my high school days, sitting exams was nerve-wracking, which drove me crazy. However, there was a time I fell behind with my studies and got a D in Chemistry test. Therefore, I was left with no choice but to make up a story

(Why you did not tell the truth):

I had always been a little boy to my parents, especially to my mom, who spoilt me a lot. To live up to my parent's expectations, I had to study under a lot of pressure to make them proud. I still remember sitting the chemistry exam, and I felt that I was going to fail the test. The moment I received the test result from my teacher, I was anxious. Therefore, I had to lie to my parents so that I could avoid getting punished and letting my parents down.

(Who you did not tell the truth to):

It was my parents to whom I lied. Having known the result, I came home with a nervous look on my face. I informed my parents about my test results immediately. Surprisingly, they believed me without any suspicion. However, my school texted the result to my mother, and they got to know that I had fooled them. I got detention for one week, and I wasn't allowed to use my mobile phone.

And explain how you feel about it

My parents were pissed off about the lie. Seeing how they reacted to my test result, I wished that I had not lied.

Part 3 questions:

1. Do people in your country judge people when they lie?

Yes, I do think that people will be judged when they lie to someone. Vietnamese people usually say "Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice, shame on me", and I believe it is true. For example, if a company fails to make their promises to their counterparts, they are less likely to be chosen for the forthcoming projects.

2. How should we tell if it's a white lie or not?

Well, there are some ways to find out if a person is telling a white lie. We can focus on their facial expressions. For example, if a person is telling a white lie, their eyes will dart back and forth, which indicates that they are feeling uncomfortable.

3. Is it acceptable to tell white lies?

I think there are times when it is suitable to tell white lies to other people. It is the time when they are asking about something that they like, like their haircut or maybe their makeup. When they think that they are glowing with a new skincare product or are proud of their achievements, we may not be necessarily impressed by it. But we can tell a white lie in those situations.

4. When do people often lie?

There are various reasons why people often lie. However, I think the key reason why they may lie regularly is that they don't want to disappoint other people. For example, I lied to my friend about her haircut, which was not great because I was worried that the truth might worsen our relationship.

5. Why do some people keep telling lies?

Maybe because some people consider telling lies an inconsequential issue; therefore, it gradually becomes a habit, and they cannot give up on it. For example, my friend had to lie to her parents about her test results, and day by day, she was accustomed to lying to other people.

VOCABULARY FROM EDUCATION

Sitting exams

Meaning: To take an exam

Example: She swayed gently back and forth to the music.

Inconsequential

Meaning: Not important

Example: Most of what she said was pretty inconsequential.

To be accustomed to Meaning: Familiar with something

Example: I'm not accustomed to being treated like this

39. Describe a leisure activity you do with your family

You should say

- What it is
- When you do it
- Where you do it

And explain how you feel about it (What it is):

My family fancies at cooking, and we always prefer home cooked food. We feast on weekends. However, I would like to talk about the time when my family gathered to make Chung cake for the Tet holiday.

(When you do it)

The Lunar New Year, or Tet, is a traditional holiday in my country. It was probably my most favourite holiday when I was a small boy as my family did a lot of activities to celebrate this occasion. Among them, making Chung cake made me excited the most. Traditionally, we always make Chung Cake 2 days before Lunar New Year.

(Where you do it)

We had a big yard behind our house, and it was where Chung Cake was made, from preparing ingredients, to shaping the cake. I still remember helping my parents prepare the ingredients for the cake while my older brother was in charge of shaping the cake. And then, my father lit a small fire to boil the cake overnight. It was perhaps the only time of the year when I was allowed to stay up late.

(And explain how you feel about it)

In recent years, my family has not had enough time to make Chung cake. However, to me, a ready-made Chung cake bought from a local market cannot bring the warmth and taste of a Chung cake made from home. I hope that my family can continue the tradition in the coming years.

Part 3 questions:

1. Do men and women enjoy the same leisure activities?

I don't think so. I believe that men and women are born with distinct characteristics and personalities; therefore, their choices of leisure activities might also differ from each other. For example, while men tend to be involved in sporty activities, women prefer shopping or eating out with their friends to playing sports.

2. What types of leisure activities are popular in your country?

Well, there is undoubtedly a wide variety of hobbies in my country. I think the most popular would be travelling. For example, a getaway from the hustle and bustle of city life to coastal cities on weekends can help people relieve stress.

3. Why is it important for people to have time for leisure activities?

Spending time on leisure activities plays a vital role in shaping people's state of health. It helps us recharge our energy after a nerve-wracking day, and avoids getting overloaded. For example, reading books when you have free time enables you to let off some steam after working under a lot of pressure.

4. Why are some activities more popular than others?

It is quite natural that people would prefer some sorts of leisure activities than others. I believe that the history and socio-cultural background of a nation influences the type of leisure activities people do. For example, teenagers in some Asian countries often make kites and fly them while this is not the case in many western countries.

5. Are there types of leisure activities that are as popular today as those that were popular when your parents were young?

No, as time has gone by, the popularities of leisure activities have also changed. For example, when our parents were young, activities like watching TV/movies, visiting some famous cafés/restaurants and visiting families/relatives were more popular. But, today, activities like visiting a gym nearby, shopping, and playing video games have grown equally famous because of technological advancements and increasing awareness of health and fashion.

VOCABULARY FROM FOOD

Home-cooked food

40. Describe a time you were sleepy but had to stay awake

You should say

- When it was
- Why you had to stay awake
- How you kept yourself awake
- And explain how you felt about it

(When):

I consider myself a night owl; therefore, having a white night is not difficult for me. Today, I would like to talk about a night I had to stay awake, to bake the Chung Cake for Lunar New Year.

(Why you had to stay awake):

You probably know that Tet or Lunar New Year is one of the biggest festivals in Vietnam. There are a lot of activities taking place before the Lunar New Year, and baking Chung Cake is one of them, which excites me the most. However, the process of making Chung cake is time-consuming and requires the contribution of several people. It takes up to 12 hours for the cake to be baked. Therefore, my cousins and I had to spend the whole night preparing the cake.

(How you kept yourself awake):

To stop falling asleep while waiting for the Chung Cake to be baked, I drank a cup of Vietnamese black-iced coffee, which kept me awake, the whole night. Moreover, my cousins also spent a white night with me, and we kept talking until dawn.

And explain how you felt about it

After the cake had been baked, I became worn out and wanted to hit the bed as quick as possible. I had to say that I slept like a rock after having a white night. However, it was a memorable experience for me. I fondly recall the traditional activities of Tet and the time spent with family members.

Part 3 questions:

1. What are some advantages to getting enough sleep?

Sleep plays a vital role in shaping people's health. It helps us recharge our energy after a nerve-racking day, avoids being overloaded. For example, an 8-hour sleep is believed to help people work efficiently and boost their productivity. If people don't get enough sleep, they can find it difficult to concentrate on their tasks.

2. How do people in your country keep track of their sleep?

I believe that in this day and age, people in my country can take advantage of cutting-edge devices to be aware of their sleep. Such applications have been invented to analyze their sleep patterns and even give them some recommendations such as listening to the ocean waves or raindrops, which will help them sleep better. If it were not for those applications, they might not know what problems they are facing.

3. How do you avoid falling asleep when you are at a meeting?

I think that the critical factor which keeps people awake in a meeting is that they should go to bed earlier than usual, else the tiredness caused due to the insufficient sleep will drain their energy the next day. Moreover, caffeine may also be another option to help people avoid nodding off in the meeting. For example, I usually drink a cup of coffee before going to work, which keeps me charged all day.

41. Describe clothes you wear on special occasions

You should say:

- What they are
- Where you buy them
- Why you wear them
- And what people think about them

(What they are)

Most of the time, I prefer to dress in clothes that I feel at ease. For special occasions, therefore, I like to wear smart but casual trousers, white blouses and sometimes a jacket. When the social event I attend requires a higher level of formality, suits, and formal shoes would be my choice.

(Where you buy them)

Well, most of my casual clothes come from common fashion brands, like Zara or H&M, because they are relatively affordable. However, I do set higher standards for my formal clothes, especially in terms of the materials. Therefore, I occasionally buy some quality white blouses from a first-class fashion brand. I have sometimes ordered clothes online for special occasions, but I prefer to try them on. I have to admit that I also like the wide range of choice in the shops.

(Why you wear them)

I prefer the combination of a blouse and formal trousers for many reasons. Despite being a girl, I find wearing dresses or skirts uncomfortable. Besides, a white blouse is suitable for people of any age or gender and almost all occasions. Usually, formal clothes would make you look more mature, but a combination of a white blouse with trousers will give you a smart and youthful look.

(And what people think about them)

My family members like to see me wearing formal clothes. For others, I think this look conveys politeness and respect. My friends prefer me in elegant, feminine dresses, as a girl in a white blouse may not impress others. But, I prefer to dismiss these traditional ideas. For special occasions, I like to go by my choice, rather than wear the clothes that others would choose if they were me.

Vocabulary:

Traditional vs Modern:

to dismiss traditional ideas

Meaning: to decide that traditional ideas are not important and not worth considering anymore.

Example: We should not dismiss traditional ideas without considering them carefully.

Vocabulary:

at ease [expression]: relaxed and comfortable

Eg: From the moment that I entered the friendly atmosphere of the classroom, I felt completely at ease.

brand [noun]: the name of a product produced or sold by a particular company.

Eg: It was to become the leading brand of specialty coffee in North America.

affordable [adjective]: not expensive.

Eg: The shop in town always sells nice clothes at affordable prices.

set (high/low) standards for something [expression]: set a level of quality that people expect and generally accept as normal.

Eg: Banks in Hong Kong and China are setting higher standards for customer service in call centres.

suitable [adjective]: appropriate and fitting the occasion

Eg: This hotel has a large play area, so it is suitable for families with young children.

youthful [adjective]: having the qualities that are typical of young people.

Eg: At the time I admired his youthful enthusiasm.

childlike [adjective]: showing the good qualities that children have, such as trusting people, being honest and enthusiastic.

Eg: She has a somewhat childlike innocence surrounding her.

PART 3:

1. What factors do you think affect the clothes we choose to wear?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Well, I think our choices of clothes are decided mainly by circumstances and personal preferences. (Explain your reason or reasons) On the one hand, your dress code will either be formal or casual, depending on the event you attend. A person's sense of fashion also plays a considerable role in the choices of outfits. (Give an example - often a personal example) For instance, on occasions that require formality, I prefer white shirts and trousers to elegant dresses, as it suits me the most.

2. Is it possible to look good without spending lots of money on clothes?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, possibly (Explain your reason or reasons) It is not extravagance but rather a person's taste of fashion and other factors that make himself or herself truly attractive. (Give an example - often a personal example) From my own experience, I have a lot of peers who know how to mix and match different items of clothing that go well together. Surprisingly, many of their clothes are secondhand or bargains from cheap markets. (Explain the opposite or alternative) However, quality clothes do help improve one's overall appearance, so they are certainly worth the money.

3. Does the fashion shows have an impact on what we are wearing?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, to people who are dedicated followers of fashion. (Explain your reason or reasons) Fashion shows never fail to introduce and promote the latest fashion trends, which people can follow to look more trendy. (Give an example - often a personal example) For myself, although I enjoy watching the latest fashion shows with fabulous models, clothes from these shows do not suit my everyday style, and of course, they are more often than not too costly.

4. Do you think fashion trends are changing constantly?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Yes, undoubtedly. (Explain your reason or reasons) Fashion is an ever-changing industry because of external factors, including seasonal change and the influence of trendsetters, such as fashion designers and celebrities. Practically, a trend, by definition, doesn't last. (Give an example - often a personal example) If you follow this industry closely, you will understand it's not only changing, sometimes old fashion trends also make a comeback, e.g. crop top, boot-cut jeans, white eyeliner. (Explain the opposite or alternative) However, some kinds of clothes are always favoured, such as jeans or T-shirts. These classics are those that rarely change and look good no matter what other "trends" are going on.

5. Do you think people behave differently in different kinds of clothes?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Certainly. I once read a quote by Caitlin Moran that helps express this perfectly, which is: "When a woman says 'I have nothing to wear!' What she really means is, 'there's nothing here for who I'm supposed to be today.' " (Explain your reason or reasons) We use clothes in connection to the roles we're going to play. (Give an example - often a personal example) For instance, someone who dressed immaculately in a party is more likely to attract interest and attention, which in return would make that person feel more confident.

6. Are people's ideas about fashion today the same as people's ideas at previous times?

(Give a direct answer to the question) Probably no. (Explain your reason or reasons) Fashion is regarded more highly these days than it once was. (Give an example - often a personal example). When interacting with your mom or granny, you will find that their concept of fashion will undoubtedly contrast with each other and that of your own, which shows that ideas about fashion vary from generation to generation.

Vocabulary:

preference [noun]: the fact that you like something or someone more than another thing or person.

Eg: Her preference is for comfortable rather than stylish clothes.

extravagant [adjective]: extreme and unreasonable.

Eg: The product does not live up to the extravagant claims of the advertisers.

to mix and match [expression]: to combine in a harmonious or interesting way, as articles of clothing in an ensemble.

Eg: Gary likes to mix and match clothes for different events.

bargain [noun]: something on sale at a lower price than its true value.

Eg: This coat was half-price - a real bargain.

to promote [verb]: to encourage people to like, buy, use, do, or support something.

Eg: Advertising companies are always having to think up new ways to promote products.

more often than not [expression]: most of the time.

Eg: More often than not, a student will come up with the right answer.

ever-changing [adjective]: constantly changing or developing.

Eg: The key to success is adapting to the ever-changing conditions.

trendsetter [noun]: a person, organization, etc. that starts new fashions, especially in clothes.

Eg: They are not only the biggest fast food chain, but also the industry's trendsetter.

immaculately [adverb]: extremely neatly and tidily; perfectly:

Eg: The new manager arrived, dressed immaculately in a smart, new suit.

in return [expression]: in exchange.

Eg: Some tenants get rent reductions in return for help managing the building.
